

Dolores Braren
March 25, 1933 - July 9, 2007

Every once in a while grace shines down and delivers an angel. Dolores was a glance into the glory and spirit of giving and had the heart of an angel.

Raised in East Hampton, Connecticut by Claude and Gertrude Price. Simple beginnings guided Dolores' journey through life. Dolores, "Donnie" Price was popular, athletic and very involved in all aspects of school life. Following high school, Dolores married Richard Braren and they moved to California to help care for his parents. Dolores worked two jobs, edited Richard's English papers and cared for her mother-in-law while Richard finished his degree. They were soon blessed with three beautiful children, Lisa, Greg and Courtney.

After several moves from the west coast to east coast, helping family all over the country, Dolores made her home in Tucson. She loved the desert flowers, the mild winters and the fellowship at St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church.

Over the past thirty years, Dolores dedicated herself to many charitable church events. Dolores served the ECW, worked on the state board for ECW, lead numerous committees, started different church clubs and organized many charity events.

Dolores reached out to young and old alike befriending everyone she met.

Dolores was an active member of the Republican Women Club and looked forward to their monthly meetings.

Dolores worked tirelessly as a district manager for Avon to provide a good home and private education for her children, whose accomplishments she continually cheered. Dolores would light up a room while sharing the achievements of Ryan, her only grandchild. She was a blessing to all who met her and her energy was legendary. She never met a stranger, and while her politics were conservative, her acceptance of other people was profoundly loving and tolerant.

Mom, for all you have done: your words of encouragement, your praise, your love, Thank You! You gave your heart to all and left the world a brighter place. All of our love, now and always, Lisa, Greg, Courtney, Ryan and your favorite pets Noel and Little Miss Ginger Rogers.

Funeral services will be held at St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church on Tuesday, July 17th at 11:00 a.m. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the St. Michael Organ
