

Key to Naturalization records for Cuyahoga County on Family Search.

Go to Familysearch.org
Click on Search
Click United States
Click Ohio
Choose "Ohio, County Naturalization Records, 1800-1977"

You have two options here. You can search or you can Browse. When you do a search, all you are searching are the index cards. The index cards are called "Naturalization Cards" on the Family Search website. You may be pleased with that, but there's more to see! Where do you find the actual paperwork, rather than just the index card? You find the paperwork under the "Browse" button. Click on that and you'll see the list below. It's very confusing, and this paper is meant to send you in the right direction to find the actual paperwork.

So, go ahead and do a search and see what you find. (Note that some of the items below don't even appear in the search results, so you will have to browse those if you like. Back to the search, once you have done the search, pay attention to the date of naturalization and the petition number or volume number and page. Go back to the Ohio, County Naturalization Records, 1800-1977 page and then scroll down and click on "Browse through #,###,### images"
Click on Cuyahoga

There you will see the numerous links that appear below to click on. Follow the guide below. You'll have to do a bit of digging, but hopefully this guide will help a little. I have color coded the four following topics:

Common Pleas

Probate

Board of Elections

Jurisdiction Unknown

The notes to the right are also color coded. When I say “not searchable” that means that that particular section will not appear when you do a search on the main Naturalizations page. However, some of the sections will appear in the index books and then you have to dig further below. When I note that the section “is in the search feature,” that means that doing a search and clicking on “View document” will take you right to that page and section. I also made note of those sections that are not searchable and not in any index. Therefore, you must browse those documents one by one. Many of these have an index at the beginning of each book.
