The Painesville Railroad Disaster – Jan. 19, 1864

Evidence given before the Coroner's Jury (Franklin Parker is the Coroner) was that the collision was caused by the Accommodation train running into the night Express train. The Night Express passed Perry at 8 hrs. 34 mins. a.m., which was 2 hrs. 57 mins. behind time. It went 2 ½ miles and became fast in the snow. The Accommodation Train passed Perry at 10 hrs. 3 mins. a.m., which was 1 hr. 13 mins. behind time. The Accommodation train was entitled to the road but had no intimation of the obstruction by the train ahead. The brakemen should have gone beyond the rear of the train to signal the other train. They did not and were responsible for the accident. The Painesville telegraph operator not knowing the telegraph line was out-of-order, was justified in supposing that the detention of the Night Express was known in Cleveland, and consequently Eastern offices fully advised.

p. 2 The Conscription Act

The main features of this act, which has now passed congress, are the following: The classes are consolidated. Persons between the ages of 20 and 45 are liable. If they shall reach 45 before the draft, they are not subject to exemption. Exemptions, aside from those who have served two years, or are now in service, are reduced to mental and physical disability. Drafted persons may furnish substitutes not subject to the draft. Aliens who have voted or held office shall not be exempt. It does not declare that emigrants who have taken the oath of renunciation and allegiance in the declaration of intentions, are subject to duty, as it ought to do. But in right, and we suppose in law, they are. Non-resistants, from conscientious scruples are, when drafted, to be assigned to hospital duty. Money commutation of $300 exempts for one year. Able-bodied male colored persons are to be enrolled the same as white. When a slave of a loyal master is drafted, his master shall have a certificate thereof; the slave shall be free, and a bounty of $100 shall be paid to his loyal master. The same provisions apply to colored persons previously enlisted. The act is not perfect, but it is a great improvement, and it will probably answer the object.

The Sanitary Fair at Cleveland last week was a grand success. From the Cleveland Herald: Little Lake has covered herself with glory. Her booth is a thing to be proud of. The front forms an arch of interlaced tree branches, on the centre of which is a semi-circle of stars enclosing an eagle; beneath which is a banner bearing the name of the county. From the starry semi-circle is festooned a scroll with the inscription—"Offerings of a Grateful People to the Brave and Suffering Defenders."

On the branches forming the arch are labels bearing the names "Perryville," "Murfreesboro," "Chickamauga," "Chattanooga," "Cedar Mountain," "Winchester," "Antietam," and "Gettysburg"—in all of these battles Lake had her contingent. An Indian club, shield, bows, arrows, and quiver with war relics, mirrors and pictures made up the tasteful decorations. A stand immediately and in front was taken up by Lake Co., and both stand and booth were loaded with beautiful articles of needlework, wool-work, toys, dolls, fancy baskets, mats & c. The ladies representing Lake in the Bazaar are: Mrs. Chesney, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Eliza Wilcox, Miss Mary Burnham, and Miss Laura Brown of Painesville; Miss Mary Skiff and Miss Holestin, of Willoughby; Mrs. Clapp, of Mentor, and Miss Guyld, of Unionville.

Battery C

After two and a half years of hard service in the Army and all the attendant ills and discomforts, it was very pleasant to come home and be made happy for thirty days. We cannot too heartily thank those at home, who by all manner of devices made us feel their appreciation of our value and their gratitude. There were no showy or noisy demonstrations—none of the glitter and ostentation of public receptions—but there were many neighborhood gatherings for the Battery boys; and there the gentle pressure of the hand, the soul-lit eye, looking thanks into ours, and the quiet "God bless you" from the lips of beauty or the glory-lit face of some dear old matron, made us think, that after all, this was a magnificent old world, and that we were fighting for something far more worthy than we knew of before. And then, some of the boys, "have gone and done" and got married while at home. Now our private opinion is, those will make better soldiers than ever before if it could be possible to improve them, which is doubtful. We are now at Nashville and many a mother who cursed us a few months since, now thanks us with tears for saving herself and her children from starvation. From the Federal Commissary the poor are fed; from the Quarter-Master's many are clothed, and by the kind offices of the Christian Commission, many more are kept from hunger and nakedness. Thus we bring these people to venerate the old Flag once more. Our memories of home are not all pleasant. We went about while on furlough with our eyes and ears open. There was much to give us pain in what we saw and heard, and it must be told we have many enemies at home—enemies to us as advocates of the Union. You call them Copperheads at home—but we wish you would not insult a respectable reptile with such a classification. Another little matter I am obliged to mention. Veterans are as much worthy of a Bounty from the township to which they are accredited as men who never were in service. Can anyone dispute that? Then why did those who were accredited to Painesville go away empty handed? And from Chester, Geauga Co., and other places, veterans went away unpaid, with very little faith in human justice. Yours truly, Harry D.

p. 2 Negroes Saving Missouri from the Draft

It is stated in the St. Louis papers that the enlistment of 5,491 negroes in Missouri saves the state from the draft. Not only this, but there is a surplus of several hundred men to be carried to the account of the next call for troops. Many begin to change their tone toward the black man. He is no longer the wretched, degraded slave, but a man—and perhaps if this sort of thing goes much further, a brother. The border state animosity to the emancipation movement which has given no more trouble anywhere than in Missouri, dies out very fast as it is ascertained that the freedmen will not only work diligently but enlist willingly and fight bravely.

Freaks of the Draft

In the township of Geneva, Ashtabula Co., a company of 160 men who were liable to draft, formed an association of mutual protection against the draft, each man paying $25. In the township, there were 55 men liable to draft, who did not belong in this association. Of these latter, eight men were drafted, while there was only one man drafted who belonged to the association. This one man drafted, therefore, only had to pay just $1.88 of the $300 "commutation money" which exempts him from the draft. Besides this and in accordance with the rules of the association, he receives $1.50 per day while he is absent from home to report himself to the Provost Marshal, and his expenses are paid by the association.

The morning after the battle I rode over the field, the dead and many of the wounded were still laying where they fell. A pale faced woman clad in deep mourning, was busily engaged in washing the wounded and dressing their wounds. "All night" she said, "I have been upon the field doing what I could to alleviate the sufferings of the poor fellows." She cared for the rebel soldiers and boys in blue. Was she not doing a noble work, and deserving of great praise as the heroes who a few short hours before exerted themselves to take life even at the cost of their own?

The Ossified Man

Some 15 years ago we gave an account in the Telegraph of Valentine Perkins, who then resided in Mentor in this county, who has been in a state of ossification for 25 or 30 years. He was taken from this county by his half-brother, Samuel Alvord, to Mantua, Portage Co., Nov. 19, 1862, where he has been until last week, when he was brought here and placed in the County Infirmary. His mother has had charge of him most of the time, but due to old age is no longer able to care for him. We called at the Infirmary to see this strange spectacle—he is nearly 52 years old. He was born in Henrietta, Monroe Co., N.Y., but came to this county when quite young. At the age of 11, he was thrown from a horse and his knee was injured by the fall. From that time ossification set in and the process made advancement joint by joint for 15 years when it had completed its work. He is totally ossified with the exception that he can move two of his fingers and made a slight motion with a toe or two. He has not opened his jaws in 30 years, but can talk with ease. He has to be fed, the food placed within his lips and somehow gets to his stomach. He has been totally blind for 30 years.

Notice

To those persons who may visit the Infirmary for the purpose of seeing the Ossified Man, I wish to say, that from the short experiences we have had with him, that our labor is much increased in taking care of him and attending to visitors; and after consulting with the Directors and other friends of the Institution, have decided to charge TEN CENTS for each person visiting him. Believing that no person having a laudable desire to see this phenomenon of nature, will be deterred from doing so by the demand of so small a sum as a dime—while at the same time it may prevent others from too frequently calling, from motives of pure curiosity.
