Henry Homard, an employee of the Ashtabula Tool Works, has gone insane over the religious meetings which are being held in that city. He formerly resided in Geneva, moving to Ashtabula two years ago. Since his residence there, people have noticed marked peculiarities in his manner. He had become violent within the past two days. Sunday evening it was found impossible to handle him. The police were called and the demented man taken to the city jail.

Under the new school law, it will be necessary to establish a grade for all schools in the township so that the method of teaching and conducting schools may be uniform. This is the "Township System" which has been in operation for several years in some states.

A Beautiful Wedding At the home of L. S. Ayres in Indianapolis—His Daughter the Bride

Miss Emma Murray Ayres, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. L. S. Ayres, and Mr. William Barker Wheelock, of Chicago, took place at the elegant family residence on North Delaware street, Indianapolis. Mrs. Ayres and son, Frederick, entered the drawing room first, followed by the attendants and the bride with her father. Miss

Jan. 11, 1893

Georgia Maxwell was maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Miss Kate Ayres, the bride's maid. Mr. L. C. Pardee, of Chicago, acted as best man, and Mr. Everett Wilson, of Chicago, as groomsman. The bride wore a magnificent gown of corded ottoman silk, simply fashioned with a berth of broad duchesse lace. Her veil was held by pearl pins and orange blossoms and her jewels were pearls. She carried a bunch of Nepetas roses. Miss Maxwell's gown was of green bengaline with short sleeves and trimmings of velvet. She carried La France roses and wore the bride's gift, a crescent of pearls. Miss Kate Ayres wore a gown of Nile green silk and white chiffon, and carried white carnations. Mrs. Ayers wore a rich costume of dove gray silk, with sleeves of blue, gray, and silver brocade and duchesse lace. Mrs. George Wheelock, of Chicago, who assisted, wore a handsome gown of black silk and lace, combined artistically with orange satin and jet. The groom's gift was an exquisite enameled pin set with diamonds and pearls. After a wedding trip through the South, Mr. Wheelock will go into business with Mr. Ayres. They will reside with Mr. & Mrs. Ayres for the present.

Severely Burned by Kerosene

Mrs. D. F. Post was badly burned about the head last Wed. while kindling a fire in the furnace at her home on State street. The fire had gotten low and Mrs. Post poured some kerosene oil into a cup and threw it in at the door. The burning oil was blown out the furnace door and set Mrs. Post's hair on fire. In putting out the fire in her hair, she severely burned her hand.

Obituary

Mrs. Anna Warren

Died in Mentor, Dec. 27, 1892, Anna, wife of John Warren, age 71 years. She was a daughter of Daniel and Anna Hopkins and was born Sept. 9, 1821, on the place known as Hopkins Point, of the Lake Shore, but the constant action of the waves has washed away the land until the site that marked her birth place is about one mile out in the lake. She was married in 1837 to Abner Losey. Three children were born to them, of which one son survives. After about ten years, Mr. Losey died. In 1850, she married John Warren and at once assumed the duty of caring for his four little motherless children, three boys and one girl. Two more children were added to their happy home. Thus, making her the mother of three families in one, but her mother love extended to one and all alike. She leaves a husband and seven children besides a host of friends and relatives to mourn her. The remains were taken to Mentor Cemetery for burial.

Mrs. Eleanor M. Clark

Died in Claridon on Jan. 3rd, after a brief illness in the home of her son, George B. Clark, Mrs. Eleanor M. Clark, age 92 yrs. Eleanor M. Case was born in Canandaigua, N.Y., 1800. Married Ahira Clark in 1821, and came at once to Concord, Ohio, in what was then a wilderness and now the pleasant Ridge Road leading from Painesville to Little Mountain. Here they raised a family of ten children, five boys and five girls. The family circle was broken by the death of her husband in 1838, and at intervals since, the death of three children – Harvey, Byron, and Mrs. Vernon Sawyer. Two are still living in Concord, Mrs. H. C. Camp and Mrs. Henry Nye. Mrs. Starkweather is living in Decatur, Ill.; Dewitt A. in Iowa; Sedgwick in Chicago; George G. and Mrs. Douglass in Claridon. The funeral was held at the home of the son-in-law, Mr. Douglass. The remains were temporarily placed in the vault. The final interment will take place in the family lot, in the cemetery in Mentor.

“Weep not that her toil is over. Weep not that her race is run:

God, grant we may rest as calmly when our work like her’s is done:

Till then we yield with gladness our treasure to Him to keep,

And rejoice in the sweet assurance, He Giveth His loved one sleep.”

Death of Mrs. Augusta C. Park

The death of Mrs. Park, widow of the late Benjamin B. Park, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Spencer, South street, Jan. 7th. Aug. 1, she had a slight stroke of paralysis which affected her mind and speech. She never recovered from it. Augusta C. Foss was born in Madison, July 13, 1817, and at the age of nine came with her parents to the farm in Perry now owned by Rodney Allison. In 1835, she married Benjamin B. Park. They lived in northern part of Perry. During the last twelve months, Mrs. Park has made her home with Mrs. Spencer and has been a resident of this village. Four daughters and a son survive her: Mrs. S. N. Ford, of Perry; Mrs. L. E. Tiana, of Cleveland; Mrs. Freeman Gates, Mrs. John Spencer, and Mr. B. A. Park, of Painesville. The only surviving member of her own family, Mrs. John Kennedy, was with her at the time of her death.

Surgical Institute

On Sunday, Jan. 22, a neat and interesting surgical operation was performed on Terrence O'Neill, of Mentor at the hospital of the Painesville Surgical Assoc. on State street, this city. Drs. Sherwood and Buys, conducted the operation. Mr. O'Neil was injured in the works of J. W. Penfield & Son, in Willoughby, last Sept. when an iron wheel weighting 1800 lbs. fell on his left leg fracturing the bones between the knee and the hip and in two places below the knee. The leg fractures healed but the knee was stiff at the joint because of adhesion of the ligaments. The operation separated the ligaments on the outside and inside of the leg. Chloroform was used. Mr. O'Neill can bend his leg quite comfortably and it is thought no further operation will be necessary.

Feb. 1, 1893

Mrs. Old's Pension

Two or three years ago there was quite a commotion raised in Madison over the fact that Mrs. Eli Olds was receiving a pension on the strength of the death of a son in the army. The matter was laid before the authorities at Washington and the pension stopped pending investigation. For a period of twenty-seven months, Mrs. Old's pension was withheld from her. Then she received word from the pension bureau that not a single charge had been proven against her and that she would again be placed on the rolls. Two or three months ago she received in a single check, the entire amount of the last 27 months. Mrs. Olds by the death of her sister, Miss Laura Bartram, inherited one-half of that valuable estate, so does not now need a pension and voluntarily had her name stricken from the rolls. It should also be understood that Mrs. Olds refuses to receive further government aid, though justly entitled to the same.

Two Unfortunates

Sheriff Barber took Mrs. Ira Nichols to Cleveland Monday evening, where she became an inmate of the Asylum for the Insane. She has had the delusion that men were trying to carry her two daughters away in a trunk. So much did this delusion prey upon her mind that she would not let her little girls go to school. It is thought that rest and treatment will restore her fully.

Mar. 8, 1893

On Sunday evening, the Sheriff took Patrick Connors to the Asylum. His attempt at suicide Saturday in the jail compelled the Sheriff to keep a close watch on him. His drinking to excess is thought to be the cause of his derangement.

The Finnish Settlement

It is not commonly known that the Finish settlement contains about half the population of Fairport, numbering about 500 people. In the main, these people are quiet, orderly people. There are some bright, intelligent men among them who have mastered the English language. The Chief of the Fire Department is a Finn and over half of its members are of the same nationality. The church which has recently been established for these people at Fairport is called the Fairport New Independent Finnish Lutheran Evangelical Church.

Memorial Services

Memorial services were held in Grand Army Hall Friday in honor of the members of the Dyer Post and the Relief Corps who have died during the year. Dyer Post has lost one comrade, Cornelius Woodford, whose memory was recalled by C. T. Morley in suitable words.

The members of the Relief Corps, who have passed away during the year, are Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Billington.

A Close Call

A Mysterious Suicide

Anna May Bester, a student in the second year of the Chardon High School, committed suicide last week Tuesday by the use of arsenic. She was but 17 years of age and lived with her uncle, Dudley Avery. Her father is Henry Bester, who has recently completed a term at the Ohio Penitentiary and now lives in Chicago.

In Memoriam

Mr. James Wright died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Baker, in LeRoy, March 1, age 91 years. He had lived in LeRoy nearly 75 years and a complete biography of his life would be a history of the township of LeRoy. He was born in Pennsylvania, March 14, 1802. When his father William Wright, came to the county, he went to Concord, where his wife's brother, Mr. Martin, was running a grist mill, near where Fay's mill now stands. They stayed there several years and moved to LeRoy in August 1818, and lived at first on what is now known as Indian Point. After living in several places in Perry and LeRoy, Mr. William Wright settled down about 1830 near the center of LeRoy, on the farm now owned by J. W. Doncaster, where he and his wife spent their remaining days. James Wright was the eldest son of a family of eleven children, four of whom, one brother and three sisters, survive him. Benjamin Wright lives with his son in Painesville; Mrs. Margaret French, Mrs. Martha Wedge, and Mrs. Mary Downing live in LeRoy. Mr. Wright was married Nov. 29th, 1821, to Miss Fanny Holcomb, a sister to the late Marcus Holcomb, of Perry. Her father, Joel Holcomb, at that time lived in LeRoy, on the farm now owned by E. W. Taylor. Mr. & Mrs. Wright began housekeeping in Perry. A few years after their marriage, he bought the farm in LeRoy near Paine's Hollow, now owned by Fred Boerner. They had a family of six children. Three of the sons, Thompson H., Oliver G., and Barton F., enlisted in the 14th Battery and spent four years in the army. About 17 yrs. ago, Mr. Wright sold his farm, and soon after he and his wife went to live with their daughter, Mrs. E. A. Baker. Mrs. Wright was an invalid and died four years ago last fall. They were married 67 years. Of their six children, all are now living except the youngest, Barton F., who died six years ago. James E.

Mar. 8, 1893

Thompson H., and Mrs. E. A. Baker live in LeRoy; Thaddeus E., lives in Painesville; and Oliver G. in Kansas.

Mrs. Electra Nye Dayton

Mrs. Electa Nye Dayton was born in Mass., March 17, 1809. Soon after she was born, her father moved to New York state, where he died when Electa was yet a child. Her mother was left a widow with a large family of children. With the help of a neighbor, she was able to move to Ohio and to settle in Unionville. When 18 yrs. old, in 1826, she married Rufus Dayton; they had three children, two daughters and one son. The daughters are both dead, Sherman still surviving. Her husband died some nine years ago, since which time she has lived in Madison. She died March 3, 1893 being within a few days of 84 years of age.

Armstrong

Jabin E. Armstrong, of Mentor street, Painesville died on March 3, 1892. His final disease was consumption. Mr. Armstrong was born near Syracuse, N.Y., May 7, 1855, and came to this town six years ago. He married March 20, 1889, to Josephine, second daughter of Dr. R. F. Down, who survives him.

Died - On March 2nd, 1893, at McMinville, Tenn., at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Mead, after a long and painful illness, Mrs. Almira Pettingill, age 87 yrs.

In Memoriam

Mrs. T. J. Cowin whose maiden name was Elenor Craine, was born in Ballaugh, Isle of Man, Dec. 9, 1830, and died at Northeast LeRoy Jan. 9, 1893, of apoplexy. She came to America in 1841 and was married to T. J. Cowin Feb. 23, 1851. She was the mother of four children, three living, two at the family residence and one, Wm. Cowin, at Arvilla, North Dakota.

Mrs. James Wilson

The funeral services of Mrs. James Wilson were held at the residence of her mother, Mrs. M. H. Colby, St. Clair street, Feb. 17, 1893. Dr. Forjambe, wife and mother, of Cleveland, are visiting at Spring Grove farm.

Madison

Miss Lillian Gunther spent the forepart of the week in the city.

Mrs. Georgia Stevenson has entered the dressmaking establishment of Mrs. Ann Ritter's store in Geneva.

p. 3 The seven-year-old son of William Ramsey, Perry, died of scarlet fever.

James H. Beard, the father of Prof. Frank Beard and brother, of Mrs. William Chambers, of this place, died at his home in Flushing, L.I., last week

Last week, George A. Bates sold a large lot in South Painesville to Lorena M. Woodruff, of Cleveland, and we understand she intends to build a home there this season.

J. B. Burrows is having a gas well drilled on his lot at the corner of State and Washington streets.

Mr. Willis Woodruff, of Concord, died Wed. morning; age 92 yrs. He moved onto the farm where he died in 1822. He leaves a wife, and six children.

About sixty-five couples enjoyed the hospitality of Cornucopia Lodge, I.O. of O. F. Thursday evening at an elegant ball given by them in their spacious rooms in the Child's block.

During the thunderstorm last Friday morning, the lightning got into the home of W. H. Scott in LeRoy while the family were at breakfast, and did considerable damage to the sitting room and adjoining bedroom, and finally reaching the cellar, it played havoc amount the cans of fruit and syrup. The family were not injured.

John N. Stewart, the ex-street railroad magnate of Ashtabula, has taken his suit against the village up to the Supreme Court. The village granted Stewart the right to build a street railway and operate it for twenty-five years. He did not keep it in good order as the charger required, and the city tore it up in 1890. Stewart sued for damages and was defeated in the Common Pleas and Circuit Courts.

Apr. 12, 1893

George and William Bestor, of Chardon, spent the afternoon in town Wednesday. Both imbibed too freely and at 7 p.m. while driving in a reckless manner, they collided with Mr. Joel Kirby's rig. They were taken to the city prison and this morning fined $5 each and costs after pleading guilty to intoxication.

Personals

Mr. George W. Buck left Tuesday morning for a two weeks' vacation to visit relatives in Salamanca, N.Y.

Dr. O. Pomeroy and daughter, Miss Emma, of Chardon are visiting Mr. & Mrs. W. H. Taylor, South street.

Mr. & Mrs. H. E. Riker, of Cleveland, spent Sunday with Mr. Riker's parents, Mr. & Mrs. L. B. Riker, St. Clair street.

Mr. Richard Henderson, of Richmond street left last evening for Detroit, where he is to enter the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. & Mrs. Thomas A. Harvey, of Saginaw, Mich., arrived Friday evening and are guests at the family home on Mentor Ave.

Mrs. A. C. Wick, of Case Ave., Cleveland, has leased the residence of Mr. C. C. Viall on Mentor Avenue, and will take possession on May 1.

Mr. A. H. Noble, of Walkerton, Ind., spent Sunday in town and is Monday moving his goods to that city where he has a milling enterprise.

Dr. I. J. Kerr, who has been spending a few days with his brother, Mr. Frank Kerr, left for Chicago Friday to accept a position in the German Hospital of that city. He is a recent graduate of the College for Physicians and Surgeons in Chicago.

Mr. D. T. Casement and son, Dan, will meet Robert L. Casement, in Denver, and then all go on to California for about two months.

The town Council should make a tour of the town and they will see that none of the streets have signs designating their name. The only place street names apperaing on the maps of the village. Strangers have great difficulty finding residences of friends. A few years ago, the Council expended about $125 to have glass names placed on the lamp post. They have all disappeared owing to the energy of the small boy and his air bun. Substantial boards, plainly lettered, should be placed at all street intersections.

A Delightful Reception

The reception given Friday afternoon and evening by Mr. & Mrs. W. F. Smith assisted by Miss Louisa Smith and Miss Trumbull was a most elegant affair. The parlors of the residence on Mentor Avenue were fragrant with a profusion of flowers and filled with the hum of conversation during the hours of the reception 3 to 6 and from 8 to 11 p.m. Mr. & Mrs. M. J. Wilson, Mr. & Mrs. F. C. Curtiss, Mrs. M. J. Lowman, Miss Nettie Hine, Miss Jessie Trumbull and Mr. Percy Smith acted as ushers. The dining room presided over by Mrs. L. A. Trumbull and Mrs. F. W. Littlejohn was filled with daintily arranged small tables and light refreshments were nicely served. The weather clerk was kind and favored the host and hostesses with a June-like afternoon and evening.

Spring Lightning

Thursday morning during an April thunder shower lightning "let go" on Bank street tearing down a large chimney on the home of S. D. Marsh and unroofing the woodshed. The lightning played along the cornice of the house and finally got down into the dining room where it tore off some of the plastering. The house did not take fire and the inmates were unharmed.

Funeral of John B. Lane

John B. Lane's death was recorded in last Wednesday's paper. He was a popular young man. The funeral was attended by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Junior Order of American Mechanics, and the Good Templars, of which organizations the deceased was an active member. He was the only child and son of Mr. & Mrs. John Lane, of Jackson street, and died at the age of twenty from an attack of typhoid fever.

Apr. 12, 1893

A fire originated in the furnace room of the High School and Washington street. The fire department alone saved the building. Of course, no school could be held in the building yesterday and it is doubtful whether it will be ready for occupancy today.

Weather Signals

April 10th, the time for blowing the weather signals at the Grand River File Works will be changed from 1:30 p.m. to 12 noon, standard time and will be repeated at 5:45 p.m.

The steam whistle signals will all be proceeded by one long blast to call attention, then:

Joseph Martin vs Sarah Martin. Divorce

Mrs. Margaret Dewey, of Madison

Mrs. Margaret Dewey died April 21st after a long and painful illness. A little more than a year ago, she had a stroke of paralysis. Since that time, she has been kindly cared for at her daughter's home until she passed away. She was born in Washington, Mass., March 17, 1807. At the age of 11 yrs, she moved to Ohio with the rest of her family, father, mother, and nine children. They were six weeks on the road, using an ox team and team of horses. They went to Thompson, O., and located on the farm now owned by Noah F. Moseley. She was married to Hezekiah Dewey Oct. 4, 1827. They came to Madison in the year 1854 where she resided at the time of her death.

Board of Health Meeting

Report of the sanitary policemen that they had completed a thorough house to house visitation of all premises in the village, having visited 1,224 places and had ordered cleaned or removed 284 privies, 62 drains, 8 cellars, 11 cisterns, 2 houses, 11 pig pens, 53 yards, 22 cesspools; also 10 water closets and 8 wells repaired; and that they had found 58 cesspools, many of which were used for waste water only; and 85 wet and damp cellars, most of which would be relieved by the sewer proposed by the council to be constructed this year.

p. 3 The weather bulletins will hereafter be displayed in the window of Blackmon & Sons Hardware Store, instead of at Barnes & Scott's.

The child of which Carrel is said to be the father was born on August 26, 1892. A few weeks ago, suit was also commenced against Carrel by Miss Shehan for damages for breach of promise of marriage.

Steele vs Alexander, Executor

The case of Lucia O. Steele vs. John W. Alexander, executor of the estate of George W. Steele, deceased, has been pending in the courts since 1882, was finally disposed of last week by the Supreme Court. Mrs. Steele, widow of George W. Steele, in the case against his executor, wanted to have dower assigned to her and declare their ante-nuptial contract void. Mrs. Steele claimed the contract was inadequate, unjust, and obtained by fraud. The Court of Common Pleas held that the contract was fair and reasonable and the plaintiff's claim of dower was barred. The case was next taken to the Circuit Court where the judgement of the Common Pleas Court was affirmed. The case was then taken to the Supreme court where it has been waiting its turn on the docket for over three years. The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas.

Obituary

Minerva F. W. Clayton died at her home in Painesville, O., April 27th. She was the wife of Wm. Clayton.

Joshua B. Hodges

Joshua B. Hodges was born at Savoy, Berkshire Co., Mass., Aug. 17th, 1805. He was the fourth child of six children of Simeon and Patty Burnett Hodges, and the last to depart this life. He came to Ohio in 1818 and settled in Mentor, where he remained until 1827, when he returned to Mass. and engaged in business. In Sept., 1830, he married Miss Jennette Hunter, of North Adams, Mass. About 7 years later, they moved to Ohio and settled in Concord on the farm which was their home until her death in 1880. They had two children, Irwin H. now residing in Concord, and Emerette, now Mrs. W. T. Cowles, of Painesville. Less than six years ago, Mr. Hodges left the farm in Concord and has since made his home with his daughter. During his long life, he had been blessed with excellent health until old age began to enfeeble him. He had a slight stroke of paralysis on April 24th, and failed rapidly after that. He possessed a large measure of hope and tried to look the bright side of life. Cheerful and sociable he largely enjoyed the society of home and friends. Though dead, he yet speaks and his memory is sacred.

N. Jay Valentine

N. J. Valentine had reached the distinction of being regarded one of the rising young architects of Cleveland. Three years ago, he was married to Miss Susie Whitney, daughter of Capt. Emmett Whitney, and established a home in Cleveland. He died of consumption. Four weeks ago, he came home to his parents' house on South street to die. He leaves a wife and child.

p. 1 Up a Tree

Two boys, sixteen years of age, whose name are Tom Gleason and Carlos Jackson had a thrilling experience in the Chagrin River at Willoughby when a row boat they were paddling around in a meadow got caught up in the current and taken out into the river. The boat capsized and the boys managed to get hold of some tree branches. A crowd soon gathered; the only way to get them out was to lower a rope from a bridge above.

Flouring Mill Gone

The Boyce flouring mill, at Willoughby, was inundated by the flooded Chagrin River on Wednesday morning and not a vestige of the structure is left. Mr. Isaac Everett was formerly the owner of the Boyce flouring mill at Willoughby. The mill was very old being built about 1834. It was owned by Mr. Everett in 1844, who sold it to Samuel Miller. Mr. Everett in company with S. T. Storm afterwards leased it and ran it for several years. It has changed hands several times since.

Laundresses Fight

Ann Moore and Carry Snyder, the laundresses of the Cowles House, had a scraping match at that hotel Saturday morning. The best of feeling has not existed between the two for some time. The basis of the altercation was the payment of a loan by Moore to Snyder, and it was but a moment before words gave place to blows. Some blood was shed before they were separated. Marshal Sidley arrived shortly and arrested the Snyder woman.

A Lake County Captain Gone

Capt. Sellick B. Warren, of Emporia, Kansas, a native of Mentor and one of the bravest soldiers Lake Co. ever sent to war, died at his home on May 30th. From the Times of Loda, Ill., where Capt. Warren spent several years in business with Mr. A. Goodell, we gather the following.

Sellick B. Warren was born at Mentor, Ohio, on March 18, 1841. His boyhood days were spent on his father's farm near that village. He attended college at Oberlin, O. He left school to join the army when the call to arms was made. At the age of 20 he went out to battle as the Captain of Company I, of the 23rd Regt., O.V.I. It is said of those who served with him that he had no timidity and fear in battle, and he never asked his men to go where he would not lead. He was later appointed to the staff of Gen Rosecrans. At the close of the War, Capt. Warren went to Loda, Ill., and for 10 years was a partner with Addison Goodell. He then went to Emporia where he lived until his death. He had been mayor of that city and was in the legislature for a term. He leaves a widow, Emily Warren; three sons, Sellick Huestis, Marshal, and Frank. Also, surviving him are his sisters, Mrs. Addison Goodell, of Loda, Ill; Mrs. Frances Tweddle, of Albany, New York; and his brother, William R. Warren, of Mulvane, Kansas.

p. 1 A Scrap of History

Nathan B. Derrrow, Founder of the First (Congregational) Church in Painesville
Nathan Bailey Derrrow was born in New London, Conn., Aug. 13, 1773. His mother died when he was a child, and he was bound out, his father enlisting in the Revolutionary army and becoming an officer of some rank. On visiting his boy in full military dress, as was then the custom with officers, he found that he was ill treated by the woman with whom he lived; and ordered Nathan to pack up his things and leave at once. The woman absolutely refused to let the boy go. Nathan said he remembered well, that when persuasion was of no avail, his father drew his sword and said to her "I'll plunge your soul into eternity if you offer further resistance." The boy left. Litigation followed which favored the woman; but Nathan never returned. It is believed Mr. Derrrow was educated at Yale College. Before going to Ohio, he preached somewhere in central New York, maybe at Homer, Courtland Co. Having no children, he adopted our mother, Leonora Derrrow Kendall, whose mother died when she was 18 months old. In 1804, he came to Fairport driving much of the way on the Lake Erie ice from Buffalo. He first lived in Kingsville, Ashtabula Co., where he was pastor of the Presbyterian Church. He organized Presbyterian churches in Kingsville, Geneva, and Painesville. His missionary field was the Western Reserve and he journeyed on horseback. He then labored in Indiana and Illinois. Mr. Derrrow was three times married. His first wife was Miss Docia Tracy. She traveled with him on his missionary work in Indiana and Illinois. She died in Indiana. His second wife was Miss Betsey Fobes, daughter of Simon Fobes, of

June 14, 1893

Wayne, Ashtabula Co. She lived only a year and a half after their marriage. About 1824, Mr. Derrow married Miss Laura Loomis, of Austinburg, Ashtabula Co. One daughter, Esther, was born to them, who married Dr. Atchison, of Vienna, about 1846. Dr. Atchison and Esther are both dead. They left one son, Nathan Bailey Derrow, named after his grandfather. Mr. Derrow died at his home in Vienna, Nov. 18, 1828 after an illness of only three days.

Suicide

The body of Michael Doris was found in Lake Erie at the Headlands. Mr. Everett Brooks discovered the body. Dr. Winans, the coroner, was at once notified. When found, the body was only clad in a suit of fine underwear. A good suit of clothes was found on the beach nearby. A memorandum book was found in the clothes, containing a statement as to the identity of the deceased and that he was about to take his own life at the time the note was written. The fact that his knees were strapped together making it impossible for him to save himself also pointed to suicide. The deceased was a stranger in this vicinity. The address in his book was 181 Second street, Jersey City, N.J. He was born in the county Letrim, Ireland. Came to the country in 1871 and married in 1876 to Mary Lennon. He is the father of seven children, 4 living and 3 dead. He left his wife and home a year ago. He was tired of living.

Disastrous Runaway

Herman Dietrich, who resides in Geauga Co. between Chardon and Burton, was injured in a runaway accident Monday in this city. He was thrown from a high wagon and struck on his right side and was seriously injured. Miss Wass, daughter of George Wass, drove by shortly after and assisted the injured man into her carriage and took him to her father's house. Dr. Buys was summoned and in short time Mr. Dietrich was conveyed to the Painesville Hospital. His right elbow was smashed into splinters, and his right knee badly injured. Mr. Dietrich's family, were notified of the accident and his son, Austin, arrived about 11 o'clock.

Death of Mrs. John Mathews

Death of Warren Coolidge

From the Journal of Hart, Oceana Co. Mich.: Warren Coolidge, age 63 yrs., 29 days, died at his home in Hart, May 29th, 1893. Mr. Coolidge was born in Perry, Lake Co., O., in the year 1830. He came to Hart in 1866 where he has resided ever since.

John Costello and F. W. Magargil were arrested and charged with being implicated in the assault on A. J. West Sunday evening. Mr. West and William Harroun were walking down State street when they were assaulted by a crowd of rowdies. Harroun was struck and saw Costello strike West on the head with a cane or club. A crowd of eight or nine then jumped on West, but shortly ceased as they discovered that West was not the man they were looking for. Magargil was discharged; Costello was bound over to the

Probate Court. The excuse for the attack on West was that they mistook him for someone else.

Cutting Affray

A serious and almost fatal cutting affray took place Monday in the Durand block, corner of Main and State street. David Carter and wife and John Hubbard room in this block. It was between these two men, both colored, that the fight occurred. Hubbard had been drinking. Carter took exception to his language and a general row followed. Hubbard drew a knife and cut Carter in a most terrible manner. A terrible gash extends from the base of the skull through the right side of the neck around to the center of the lower lip. Another cut begins in the back of the head and extends down joining the other cut below the ear. Drs. Sherwood and Buys who were passing at the time, stopped the bleeding and dressed the wounds; over thirty stitches were needed to close the gashes. Hubbard is still at large.

Injured by Caving Earth

John Shea, a laborer on the trench being dug by the Gas Co., on St. Clair street, was injured last week by being caught under caving sand. Seriously Injured

Mrs. Durand, mother of C. W. Durand, of South street, met with an accident while driving along Liberty street with her son and a young boy. The boy dropped the reins and in attempting to recover them, Mrs. Durand lost her balance and pitched over the dashboard falling down between the shafts. The horse began backing and stepped twice on her face, breaking the jaw in two places. She was taken to a neighbor's house and Dr. Amidon summoned who administered opiates and had her moved to her home. It was thought there were severe internal injuries and there was considerable hemorrhage at eleven o'clock. At present, she is recovering.

p. 1 A Bit of Pioneer History – by Mrs. Mary D. Kewish

Seventy-five years ago, March 18, 1818, Col. Hendrick E. Paine, my grandfather, moved his family into the little valley that has since been known as Paines' Hollow, LeRoy. The township was then covered with the unbroken "forest primeval" that have been growing and decaying for centuries. Their house was of the most primitive sort imaginable. Trees were selected and notched at the ends and rolled up one above the other on a square, the notched ends interlocking and holding the whole together. The roof was logs split into rough plank and laid on without shingles. The floor was provided by mother earth. An immense fire place and stone chimney occupied one side; places were cut for doors and windows but the doors and windows were lacking. In this house, Mr. Paine brought his family: Himself, his wife, Henry age 8 yrs., Elizabeth E. five, and Eleazar, two. A fire was built, supper was cooked and the beds were made upon the ground. The next morning, Elizabeth discovered that the evergreens she slept on had berries which she immediately began to pick and eat, and all through life she delighted to tell how her first breakfast in LeRoy was of evergreen berries picked and eaten before she was out of bed. (The history continues with the building of the saw mill, etc.)

In old account books for 1821/22, sawing was done for:

Luther M. Parsons, Robert Crawford, Orris Call, D. H. Malin, Samuel Ellis, Marshal Call "Still House," Isaac Woodard, William Salmon, Ambrose Drake, Seth Hulbert, Joel Holcomb, Retire Trask, Shelborn Bostwick, Joseph Bartlett, Gideon Mosher, Ezekiel Dunham, Solomon Graham, David Vantyle, Capt. John Graham, Samuel Burr ridge, Amos Stockwell, Elias Randall, Jonathan Kellogg, Abner Stockwell, Joseph Marshall, Benjamin Norris, John C. Reynolds, Samuel White, Luman Capley, Lioval Tillotson, Able Ray, David Eggleston, Benjamin Cady, Samuel Barker, George Colwell, Davis Williams, Samuel Young. Payments were made in various ways: Barrel of pork, horse harness, gallons of whiskey, etc.

In grandfather's family, four children were born: Barton Friend, in 1818, Hendriez Ellsworth in 1822, and two who died in infancy. One day their fire went out and for some reason their flint was not at hand, and matches were a thing unknown, so Henry, age 8, was sent to the nearest neighbor, Isaac Woodard, three miles away to borrow a brand of fire.

He owed the insurance company balances and he had no money to meet them. He had in his possession $1,135 in cash, a check for $8,232.3 on the Central Bank of Cleveland and a check for $443 of the first National Bank of Chicago and two $1,000 paving bonds of the village of Painesville. He was recognized in Denver by William McCall, who conducts the Arno House. He recognized Stage when he saw him on the street and reported the discovery to the police. Stage said McCall had always been a friend of his and it was not fair of him to give him away to the police. Denver attorneys wanted to keep him there and work out a compromise with Stage. Mr. S. K. Stage, father of Mr. Stage, asked the attorneys not to detain his son and send him home at once as there was no other way to meet the demands of the law.

Death of C. M. Wheeler

Mr. J. H. King received a dispatch from Chicago Sat. with the sad news of the death in that city of Mr. C. M. Wheeler. Mr. King and Mr. Wheeler have been in business together for many years and formerly carried on the manufacture of nitro-glycerin at Fairport under the firm name of King & Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler has been in poor health for some time and has to undergo several surgical operations. He leaves a widow and one son.

A Sad Death

Died Sunday, July 2nd, at St. Paul, Minn., Clarence, youngest son of Mr. & Mrs. Robert W. Mathews. Some ten days before, he was seriously injured by a bicycle while crossing the street. p. 1 A Bit of Pioneer History – Part II by Mrs. Mary D. Kewish

It is hard to realize that the changes in custom both in the household and in dress have been so great. The ball of candlewick, the candle stick and snuffers, the andirons, bring to mind huge fireplaces with the logs blazing in it. The township was originally one school district, but the trustees divided it into two, the southern half district 1 and the northern half district 2. Two years later, the trustees made another district, and No. 2 was now the northwest corner of the town. Four years later, it was voted to levy a tax to build a new school house and then the fun began. The district by the road was four miles long. Where should the new school house be built? It was evident that every man had a very decided opinion of his own, and wasn't his opinion as good as anyone's as long as he paid his money to support the school? For six years, the school house question raged. It was voted up and voted down, the tax increased and postponed, called up again and postponed again. The district was finally reduced in size, and the school house built in 1836 where the present school house now stands in Paine's Hollow. The enumeration that year was fifty-one youths of school age. In 1839, Miss Laura A. Hutchinson, (Mrs. H. N. Carter) taught a term of fourteen weeks. She had fifty scholars enrolled. Dancing was the favorite amusement and whenever a sufficient number of neighbors were gathered together the music was called for. Mr. Job Upson with his clarinet and his two sons, John and Peter, with their violins were in constant demand. So often were they called upon, that there is a tradition in the family that grandfather paid them by the year, instead of by the night. At the party given in honor of Henry Paine's 21st birthday, the dancing began at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and continued until daylight the next morning. A supper was served about midnight and a breakfast before the company departed. Guests were present from Painesville, Perry, Madison, Unionville, Austinburg, Harpersfield, Chardon and Claridon.

A picnic was held in the old mound-builders works on Indian Point July 4, 1826, and so far, as can be learned, was the first assemblage of the kind at that place.

In 1847, Col. Paine transferred his property in Paine's Hollow to his sons, Henry taking the forge, and Barton Friend the saw mill. Eight years later, the latter sold the saw mill and went to the new state of Illinois to become a prairie farmer. At present, he is a resident of Oxford, Furnas Co., Nebraska. Henry Paine was killed by a fall from a wagon in 1868. His widow, Mrs. Harriet N. Paine lived on the farm twelve years longer, when she too passed away. The estate was then settled and the farm sold after having been in the Paine family for sixty-five years. the last one of the old pioneers who remembered all the changes and lingered latest, was James Wright, who died March 1893, age 91 yrs.

W.E. Wasson at the Painesville Hospital

The many friends of Mr. W. E. Wasson will be glad to learn that Dr. Sherwood feels confident that he will entirely recover from the disease of the face that has ruined his health for the past six months. He had a terrible sore on his left cheek. Dr. Sherwood determined Mr. Wasson was suffering from mortification of the upper jaw bone. Three operations were performed for the purpose of removing the decayed bone.

Little Maud Johnson who died Tuesdays was laid to rest Wed. afternoon. She was born in Linesville, Crawford Co., Pa., Dec. 15, 1877 (?) She came to Painesville three years ago, with her parents, Mr. & Mrs. J. E. Johnson.

Death of Mrs. F. D. Green

The shocking news came from Perry Thursday that Mrs. F. D. Green was dead. She had been confined to her room little over a week with some stomach difficulty. Her mother, Mrs. I. W. Crofoot, was summoned from Elkhart, Ind. The family is deeply afflicted in this loss which is all the harder to bear as it is added to the loss of a beloved grandmother, Mrs. Dianatha Crofoot, of Elkhart, Ind., the notice of whose death was received this morning. Mrs. Green leaves two young daughters, a husband, and a delightful home. Carrie Crofoot, the youngest of the children, of Mr. & Mrs. I. W. Crofoot, was born in Perry Township Sept. 28, 1863. Her girlhood was spent in Painesville. Dec. 10, 1885, when married Mr. F. D. Green and her home has since been in Perry.

Fairport News

J. J. Spiwok is having a gas well drilled on his place.

Cyrus Nichols is very low.

Mrs. Klingensmith and son, Harry, returned Sat. from an extended visit in Pennsylvania.

There was a fight between Hank Lamar's boarders and the Finns Saturday night. Policeman Charles Steuber went to make an arrest, they resisted and about ten showed fight. He had a hard time of it until the arrival of Policeman A. Adis. The two officers made two arrests amid the throwing of clubs, stones or anything else the angry Finns could get hold of. They kept the crowd back with drawn revolvers. They then returned and captured the ring leader. Fairport can congratulate itself on having such plucky officers.

David Graves Injured

David Graves was severely injured on the Brink farm Tuesday by having his left hand caught in the gearing of a self-binding harvesting machine. Just how the accident happened is not known. The machine was not working quite right and Mr. Graves was walking beside the binder attachment while his son, Edward Graves, rode on the machine and drove the team. Mr. Graves either stumbled and placed his hand on the machine to save himself, or carelessly placed his hand on the gearing. His hand was drawn between the cogs and fearfully mangled. His hand was firmly caught in the metal cogs and it was nearly two hours before he was released. Word was sent to this city and Mr. J. A. Allen sent Mr. F. W. McCartney, an expert Champion machine man, and Mr. Reynolds, of the Champion force to the scene. Dr. W. H. Sherwood, Mr. Earnest Sheldon and others also hastened to the scene. The experts released Mr. Graves after about three minutes' work, and he was carried to the house. Dr. Sherwood amputated the little finger and took stiches in the hand before dressing it. Dr. Sherwood is of the opinion that he could save the rest of the hand. Mr. Graves is exceedingly unfortunate; it was only a few months ago that he was nearly killed by a severe fall.

On Aug. 1st, Charles A. Benjamin died. For many weeks, the end has been certain. He was born in Painesville Sept., 1865. When he was three years old his father died of consumption and the death of his mother a short time later left Charles, a mere child, without a home. Dr. & Mrs. J. A. Rogers took the orphan to their home and hearts. Mrs. Rogers' untiring love has watched him night and day throughout his long illness and he wished her to be with him every moment. It was, also, a great comfort to Charles, that his brother, Sergt. F. W. Benjamin, could be with him during his last days.

Aug. 9, 1893

Huntoon Reunion

The third annual family gathering to celebrate a name which has been closely identified with local history for nearly a century, took place at the county fairgrounds, Aug. 3, 1893. By noon, over one hundred had assembled. Tables were spread in the agricultural hall. Judge G. N. Tuttle spoke of the close and lasting friendship that had existed between the Huntoon and Tuttle families since the early settlement of the country.

Adams Rebekah Lodge, No. 350, Painesville, O., printed resolutions of respect for their member, Carrie C. Green, who died.

As provided by law, the enumeration of the school youth between the ages of six and twenty-on years was taken during the month of July. The total for Painesville shows a surprising decrease of 37 since last year. The falling off is in the ages 16 and 31, showing that our young people are leaving Painesville before they arrive at their majority. (A table is printed showing the number of children of various ages, by street name.) Total for 1893, 1,149 children.

Fatally Stabbed

A Bloody Affray in a House of Questionable Repute on Erie Street

About 10 o'clock Friday night residents of Erie street east of State were startled by shrieks of "murder," "police," coming from a small house situated in the rear of the Leo Parmly place on Erie street. Messrs. W. H. Turner, F. C. Curtiss and E. L. Winslow hastened from their homes and found two frightened women, dressed only in their night clothes, and one of them covered in blood from a severe cut on the head. The gentlemen, after a search, found the lifeless body of John O'Rourke stretched out on the grass about five rods from the house. Marshal Sidley appeared on the scene shortly after accompanied by Delbert Elderkin, who did the cutting, and then escaping from the crowd had gone after an officer. The women are Mrs. Mary Blood and Miss Lilly Wheeler. They came to this city a short time ago from Geneva. Their parents reside in LeRoy. For several weeks, they have lived in the house where the affair occurred. Delbert Elderkin, the man under arrest, resides in Geneva. He came to this city Wed. and has been spending his time with the Blood and Wheeler women. Friday evening four men came to the house and demanded admission. They were told that they could not go in, that Bert was there. They said they would fix Bert and that they were going in. They smashed the windows and battered the door. Elderkin armed himself with a butcher knife when he heard threats being made against him. The men broke in and in the fight that ensued O'Rourke was stabbed on the left side below the hip. One or more arteries were severed by the knife. Mrs. Blood slipped by the combatants carrying a small child. No sooner had she stepped into the darkness than she received a severe cut with a knife on the left side of the head. Elderkin went to the Engine house where he found Marshal Sidley and said he wanted to give himself up. John O'Rourke, the victim was 23 yrs. old and unmarried. His father, Pat O'Rourke, lives in the old Young house on Erie street. Young O'Rourke has a police record here and was not the possessor of either a good or peaceable reputation. Elderkin will be bound over until the Court of Common Pleas meets again in November.

A Pleasant Wedding

A very pleasant wedding took place at the home of Mr. William B. Martin, No. 510 East Prospect street, last Wed. Miss Maud M. McAbee, a daughter of Mr. Newton S. McAbee of Redlands, Cal, and a sister of Mrs. Martin, and Mr. William C. Thayer, a son of the late Dr. Proctor Thayer. The maid of honor was Miss Susie McAbee, a sister of the bride, and the best man, Mr. C. L. Johnson. Mr. Albert Green of Painesville, was the usher. Cleveland Leader

Mrs. James R. Hair, who has been the guest of Mrs. W. C. Reed for some time, returned to her home in Rochester today.

Mrs. M. Y. Burnham and grandson, of Collinwood, returned home yesterday after a week's visit with Mrs. J. H. Brewer, Erie street.

Wright-Johnson

The marriage of Mr. Harry D. Wright and Miss Luella B. Johnson occurred on Tuesday, Aug. 15th, at the home of the bride, No. 690 Scranton Ave., Cleveland. The groom is the son of Mr. M. L. Wright, formerly of Chardon. Mrs. Minerva Rogers, Mrs. Henry Sutherland and sons, and Mr. Roy Frazier, Painesville, relatives of Mr. Wright, were present at the wedding.

Picnic

A party of twenty-seven drove to Hemlock Grove Monday in Green's "brake" to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. H.P. Coe, who knew nothing of arrangements being made in this regard until the four-in-hand pulled up in front of the residence of Mrs. Coe's grandfather, Mr. F.

Died from a Paralytic Stroke

Capt. Ebenezer R. Barlow suddenly died on Wed. at his home on West Jackson street. He was an invalid and for a week past had been in poor health. He passed into a comatose state on Wed. and never rallied from it. It was the paralytic stroke. He was a veteran of the late war and an invalid from injuries received in service.

Kicked his Wife

A family quarrel caused great excitement on Pearl street Friday morning. Loud screams came from the house occupied by Al Callender and the neighbors rush in thinking that someone was being murdered. As nearly as can be ascertained, Callender had been drinking heavily the night before and was in a savage mood in the morning. His wife made a remark about his conduct and in the dispute that followed he brutally kicked his wife in the stomach. Her screams brought the neighbors and Callender left the house. Callender told his sister about the trouble and she had Mrs. Callender go to her home on South St. Clair street. No serious results of the blow are anticipated.

A Sunday Night Blaze

The barn of E. S. Gregory on Johnnycake Ridge burned down on Sunday evening. Mr. & Mrs. Gregory were in town at the time the fire broke out. Martin Tuttle was the first to reach the barn after the fire was discovered and tried to rescue the horse, but it had already fallen down, overcome by the smoke. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Double Track Catches Another Victim

Coroner Winans was called to Willoughby Sunday to view the body of a farm laborer named John Morison who was killed by a Lake Shore train early that morning. Morison worked for Harvey Hall, who lives about two miles west of Willoughby Village. At 6 o'clock, he attempted to drive some cows across the tracks. He waited for a freight train to pass and then hurried them across not looking to see if the other track was clear. The expected happened. The cows got across but the man was hit by a train coming from the opposite direction. He was about 40 yrs. old and had only been in this country two years. He claimed to be a cousin of Director Morison, of Cleveland.

A Wedding Anniversary

Aug. 4th, the neighbors and friends of Mr. & Mrs. J. R. Adams gathered at their home in Unionville to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. The couple was lured away by friends to take a ride while others invaded the home and set up tables and food. About one hundred and fifty were they to welcome them when they came back. Mr. Adams is a Justice of the Peace and a school teacher.

Death while Stealing a Ride

John F. Graham, age 26 yrs., and unmarried, died a few miles east of Ashtabula yesterday while stealing a ride on a Lake Shore stock train. He fell asleep and rolled off the top of the car and underneath the wheel of the train, cutting his right foot off at the ankle, and breaking the leg near the knee. His left leg was cut twice in two below and above the knee. He dragged himself away from the track and near a road, where he was found four hours later, perfectly conscious, and was taken to Cleveland. He was a fisherman and without work or money started for Erie in the hope of securing employment. He died the next day.

Died - In Cleveland, Aug. 7, of cholera infantum, Louis Beard Griswold, son of Mr. & Mrs. Louis F. Griswold, age seven months. Burial in Evergreen Cemetery.

Hanged Himself

The Lifeless Body of Charles Grant Found in the Glass Factory at Richmond

Tuesday morning, several young men walking near the glass factory found the lifeless body of a man hanging by a rope from a high carpenter's horse within the building. After the arrival of the coroner the body was taken down and immediately identified as the remains of Charles Grant, who has been employed in the file works as a cutter. There can be no doubt that he committed suicide. He came to Richmond about four months ago and obtained employment at the file works. A short time after, he sent for his wife and two children and they resided in Richmond until a few weeks ago. The closing down of the file works left Grant without support and the family was reduced to extreme want. Mrs. Grant's family sent enough money to take herself and the children to Sing Sing, N.Y., and they left for that place a few weeks ago. Mr. Grant wrote to the File Factory in Indiana asking for employment. Wed., he received a letter from Indiana saying "no work" and being wholly discouraged, hanged himself. It seems the body had been hanging about a week in the closed-up building.

Saved From Drowning

Willie Sanford, son of Phelps Sanford, of Cleveland, had a narrow escape from death Sunday afternoon in the deep water of the river below the dam. Willie is about 10 yrs. old and has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. & Mrs. A. P. Sanford, of the Park. Sunday, he went out for a walk with instructions not to go near the river. He met Kenneth Ward, son of J. C. Ward, and the two proceeded to investigate the new dam. They went down under the old dam and when near the center of the river Willie's hat fell into the water. In an effort to recover his hat, he slipped and fell backwards into the water which is about six feet deep at that point. If it had not been for the timely arrival of Mr. William Lotze, who with his wife was visiting his wife's parents, Mr. & Mrs. Frank Cone, Willie would have drowned. The drowning boy was purple in the face and very full of water. He at once rolled the boy on a log and relieved him of the water he had swallowed. He was taken to the home of Mr. Cone and rubbed until circulation was restored and then taken to his grandparents. Willie's first words on being restored to consciousness were "Where is my hat?" The next morning, he was as bright as ever and apparently, none the worse of the accident.

Mrs. A. E. Dunning, of Boston is the guest of Mrs. C. H. Frank this week.

Shot Through the Arm

Little George Ferguson, the eight-year-old son of George I. Ferguson, of Mentor Ave., found a revolver in an old trunk. It was loaded, and in handling it shot himself in the upper arm. Dr. Gaul was summoned and found the ball missed both the artery and the bone. He took the ball out of the outside part of the arm. Though the injury is painful, it is not at all serious.

Obituary

The long illness of Henry Cummings terminated Aug. 23, and another of Painesville's old and highly respected citizens has passed away at the age of 81 yrs. He has been confined to the family home on State street since May with a form of paralysis. He has had the most tender care from a son and three daughters, the surviving members of his family. He was born in Brookline, N.H., Jan. 1, 1812. When a lad of thirteen years of age, he came to Unionville in this state, where he lived for nearly twenty years. He married Julia A. Hills in 1844, and moved to Painesville which has been his home ever since. There were born five children, four of whom survive. His wife died about ten years ago.

A Bit of History

Tuesday was the 84th birthday of D. M. Eddy, one of the oldest pioneers of Lake Co., and perhaps the oldest resident in Painesville. He recently related some history in connection his management of the Franklin House, one of the earliest of Painesville's hotels. He came to Painesville, Oct. 2, 1831, from Troy, N.Y. and for six months kept the Franklin House, which stood where the Stockwell House now stands and was owned by Levi Shepard. He had eighteen steady boarders that winter. He boarded Mr. Shepard in the ball room. They paid his $1.50 a week and that was a great price in those days. Counselor

Aug. 30, 1893

Tracy paid him $3.50 per week for the best room for himself and the board and care of his horse. The boarders all went down to the bar-room to make their toilet, all washed in the same wash dish and used the same roller towel. There was no carpet, tablecloths, or napkins in the house. They cooked their potatoes with their jackets on. He used to take his gun and go up to the place now occupied by the Court House and kill enough squirrels for dinner in three-quarters of an hour. On Jan. 8, he had a swell dinner for a big crowd who came here to celebrate Gen. Jackson's victory at New Orleans. Dinner was served in the ball room. Judge Bissell made a rousing speech in the town hall which was also used as the Methodist Church. Joe Cook read the Declaration of Independence. They had eighteen baked pigs and plenty of whiskey for all. There was no fire in the hotel except in the sitting room and the barroom. There were about forty transient boarders a day, folks on their way west. They furnished their beds from their wagons and slept on the floor in the sitting room, all in one room. In 1836, we elected a Mayor, Squire Holbrook, Mr. L. E. Judson's adopted father. He proposed that trees be set out on a park, so the men went to work and plowed it and planted trees that now furnish luxurious shade. The Blair family at the Furnace, Mrs. Charles Avery, Mrs. Rosa, Mrs. Geo. K. Reynolds, and the Misses Seeley are all that he remembered of those here then who are still with us.

LeRoy

Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Wilson and family are visiting relatives in Harpersfield.

Mrs. Lida Wade, of Collinwood, is visiting friends in LeRoy.

Mrs. Olney Bates, of Cleveland, is spending a few days with friends in this vicinity.

W. H. Jones is spending the week with relatives in Lorain.

Mr. & Mrs. Clark Callow went to Pierport, Ashtabula Co., last week, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Callow's brother, Rollin McNutt.

Married - At the residence of the bride's parents at Mentor, Aug. 24, Mr. A. H. Mead, of Oberlin, O., and Miss Martha G. Ackley, of the former place.

Harry Andre Dead

The news of the death of Harry Andre, by suicide spread like wildfire over the quiet of our city Friday evening. For some days past the young man had been laboring under a heavy mental strain, undoubtedly brought on by thoughts of his late illness and confinement at the Newburgh Asylum. He had been working out in the yard, but after a short time could not be found in the yard. Mrs. Andre sent for Mr. Andre and together with others commenced a more vigorous search. The body was found near the river. He killed himself with a bullet shot into the right eye which entered the brain. Death must have been instantaneous.

The Story of Bresca

The little town or Bordighera in Italy has furnished the Easter palms at Rome ever since the year 1586. How the grant was obtained by Bresca, the brave old sea captain is a curious story. Standing with the crowd in the open plaza, before the cathedral of St. Peter's, he was gazing with breathless interest at the workmen engaged in erecting the Egyptian obelisk. So momentous and difficult a task was this regarded, that Pope Sixtus V forbade any one to utter a loud word during the operation on pain of death. All went well until the massive stone column reached a certain angle, when to the horror of the multitude and despair of the engineer, it ceased to move.

Various expedients were resorted to without avail, and all seemed lost, when suddenly a voice broke the silence, crying "Water, give water to the ropes!" This suggestion, which came from the old sailor was quickly acted upon; the obelisk slowly righted itself and was successfully raised to the position it now occupies. When the trembling Bresca was brought a prisoner before the Pope for punishment the latter not only pardoned the offence, but offered to grant him any reasonable request. The unselfish soul of the man showed itself when, instead of petitioning for some personal preferment, he begged that that the right of furnishing the palms for Easter should be bestowed upon his family and the villagers of Bordighera, his birthplace. This request was granted and is respected to this day.

The Ludlum family intends to make Brooklyn, N.Y., their future home. In Mr. Ludlum's family are himself and wife, and the latter's niece, Miss Sadie E. Post. The last two named were daughter and granddaughter of the late George Everett, so well-known as a prominent citizen of Lake Co. They left on Friday with Mrs. Henrietta Hendrickson and daughter, Mary, for their new home in Brooklyn.

A Terrorized Community

The family of Albert Hoose, who occupy the Dr. Merriman place near Little Mountain, have been living in a state of terror for the past week. Mr. Hoose has been selling a lot of fruit lately and is supposed to have in his possession a considerable sum of money as the proceeds thereof. One night last week on his return from Chardon he heard cries for help from the wood near his barn. He hurried out there with others and found a neighbor named Bryant who arrived on the scene a little before had been knocked down by a couple of villains. It is supposed these men were lying in wait for Mr. Hoose and tried to lure him to the woods with cries of help. The next day the number had increased to four as they were seen hanging around the woods there. Last night one of them was prowling about Mr. Hoose's premises and was run off by the hired man. So persistent has this gang become that they have alarmed the whole neighborhood who have organized an armed vigilance committee to see if they can run down or shoot these villains.

Sept. 20, 1893

Injured by the Cars

James F. Gallagher Falls Between the Cars and is seriously injured.

Mr. James F. Gallaher, of this city was injured Friday morning on the P. & W. Ry. at West Farmington. He was employed as brakeman on Terrance Davidson's train, which consisted of gondola cars, some empty and some loaded with iron ore. The rain was south bound and as it was passing another freight at West Farmington, Gallagher in some way fell between the cars. The wheels passed over the upper portion of the right arm tearing it and crushing the bone just below the shoulder joint. His face and head were scratched and bruised. He was pulled from under the moving train by Mr. Warren a brakeman on the north bound train. Physicians were summoned and Gallagher was taken to Painesville on the train. He was taken to his home on Sterling Ave. Drs. Sherwood and Buys were called and advised amputation, but the patient made urgent request for attempt to be made to save a part of the arm. The joint and the crushed portion of the arm were removed and the sound bone brought in contact with the shoulder socket, with which it is hoped it will knit. As he is only 23 yrs. old, strong and healthy, great hopes are entertained that he will survive the injuries. He is a son of Neal Gallagher and is married, but has no children. He has many friends who hope for his recovery.

The undersigned businessmen of Painesville will close their respective places of business at 7:30 standard time from Oct. 2, 1893 to April 1st, 1894, excepting Saturday evening, Thanksgiving eve and from Dec. 18th to January 1st.

Murdered at Sandusky

William M. Sullivan, son of Capt. William Sullivan of Richmond, was brutally murdered at Sandusky last Wed. The following information is from the Leader:

While several men were playing pool in a saloon, William M. Sullivan, age 23 yrs., a marine engineer, of Painesville, by mistake took a ball from the pool rack in which Edward Bennett, a colored hotel waiter, had several balls deposited. Bennett became greatly excited over the matter and began abusing Sullivan, and the latter all the while disclaiming any intention of doing wrong. In a frenzy of rage, Bennett drew a knife and instantly plunged it in to Sullivan's heart. The victim fell to the floor and expired a few minutes later.

Capt. Sullivan, father of the murdered man, has resided on his farm west of Richmond for the past five years. His son, William Sullivan, has been employed at Fairport as engineer of several tugs. About two months ago, he went to Sandusky and has been employed as engineer of a tug at that place. He was a young man of exceptionally good habits and was universally liked. He was unmarried but leaves a father, mother, one brother, and two sisters who mourn his terrible death. The remains were brought here.

Former Painesville Man Injured

Will C. Gray, of Bristol, Pa. who is now traveling for the Page Bros. Molding Co., of Cincinnati, was on the Lehigh Valley passenger train which collided with another passenger train in the mountains near Wilkes-Barre, Pa. on the 19th, and was among the injured. Mr. H. C. Gray does not think that his son was seriously injured.

Mentally Unbalanced

Sheriff Barber and Officer May went to Willoughby Monday and arrested Cleveland Smith on a warrant of lunacy issued by the Probate Court. The case is a sad one. He had been away from Willoughby several years during which time he traveled extensively in the West. His father, Sidney Smith, died several years ago and when the son returned a few weeks ago, he found the old place in strange hands. Since his return, his actions have been most strange. He has refused money due him from his father's estate, and has wandered about, shunning all friends, hiding in the woods, and spending nights in a barn on the farm which formerly was his father's. Adam Clark, adm. of Sidney Smith's estate has been unable to do anything with the unfortunate man and finally made an affidavit in lunacy in the Probate Court in order that he might be properly taken care of.

Oct. 4, 1893

Robbed His Benefactor

George Hodgel, a 17-yr. old tramp for New Jersey, was taken in and cared for about two weeks ago by Mr. Lester Haines, of Perry. Monday morning the boy repaid the kindness by robbing Mrs. Haines of a pocket book containing $10 a revolver worth about $6. On Monday, Officer Seth May arrested Hodgel at the Lake Shore station.

Coleman Cain, who lives near the diagonal crossing of the Lake Shore, east of the village, woke up to find a couple of burglars in his room. He shouted at them and was hit over the head with a revolver in the hands of one of the ruffians. They are supposed to be tramps who are following the line of the railroad. They got away with considerable booty.

A surprise parade greeted Gov. McKinley at Painesville. Included was the wheelmen's parade led by the girls on gaily trimmed wheels and about twenty in line. The followed wheelmen, thirty young men with Harry D. Walthour as Captain. F. T. Pyle and Geo. M. Cranston were marshal of the cyclists and much credit is due them for this splendid feature of the parade. Thirty-five horsemen, under the leadership of A. T. May came next; one carrying an immense flag. The Fairport contingent numbered 130 laborers from the docks led by Capt. John R. Irwin. Several banners were carried by these men. Captain Riker informs the Telegraph that nearly every man in this company is a naturalized citizen and voter. Many of these Finns are intelligent men and rapidly learning the way of their adopted country. Fairport also contributed a large share of the horsemen marshaled by Tom Irwin and Wm. Empfield. The Citizen's Band followed the Fairport delegation and led the militia company under the command of Lieut. C. W. Morely, who acted as an escort to the Governor, who is, by his office, made commander-in-chief of the State militia. Seventeen carriages containing members of the reception committee closed the parade. At the Seminary, all the teachers and your ladies were at the gates and gave the Governor's carriage a handkerchief salute as it passed by. The members of the senior class courteously stopped the carriage at the gate and through their president, Miss Webb, presented the Governor with a note, containing a class secret, which the public is not permitted to know at present.

An elaborate dinner was given at the Cowles House for the speaker's committee (J. B. Burrows, T. G. Hart and J. W. Alexander) and the Gov. and Lieut. Gov. C. A. Avery and J. R. Irwin then joining the party. After the speeches, the Governor's party visited the Seminary, as was done two years' ago when he was here. The senior class made Gov. McKinley and honorary member of the class. The decorations of the homes and businesses were simply beautiful.

The Odd Fellows print a resolution of respect for their deceased member, Harry W. Andre.

A Pioneer Passes Away

(From the Youngstown Vindicator)

Mrs. Ann Hull, one of the oldest pioneer residents of this city, died last night at the home of her son, Jacob Hull, at Warren, from old age. The deceased was visiting at Warren when she was taken sick. The late Mrs. Hull came to this city with her husband from New Jersey 58 yrs. ago. The journey was made in an ox cart and took weeks. They purchased a farm at Cornersburg and began farming. She saw the city of Youngstown grow from a few citizens to a city. She was born in New Jersey Feb. 4, 1807 and was therefore 86 yrs. old. She was one of the organizers of the Baptist Church of this city. She leaves a large family of children to mourn her loss: Jacob Hull, of Warren; Elias Hull, of Mason City, Ill.; Daniel Hull, of this city; Mrs. John Harrison, of LeRoy, Ohio; and Miss F. W. Shaw, of Painesville.

Death of Hezekiah Cole

He died at the ford. He had crossed it hundreds of times, the old ford north of the Furnace bridge. On the top of the hill, he was warned he could not cross the river there. He simply laughed and said, "I crossed that ford forty years ago when the water came into my buggy." And he drove on to meet his fate. He left his home to drive to his farm in Madison. On Fobes street he was met by Louis Bittenger who informed him the river was too high to ford, and he must go the other way. He refused to heed the warning and went on. The water here was three feet deep and the current very swift, although one could easily be deceived by its apparently placid surface. Once fairly in the stream, the horse could not withstand its force, but was swept, carriage, driver and all down the river; Mr. Cole was thrown out and drowned. He was one of the oldest settlers of Painesville, born in Ovid, N.Y., in 1813, came to Ohio in 1823 and at the age of nineteen was a teacher in the schools at Fairport.

Obituary

Eugene B. Adams

The illness with which Mr. Eugene B. Adams was attacked four weeks ago resulted in his death on Thursday. He was first attacked with inflammation of the bladder, hemorrhages followed and then blood poisoning. As of Tuesday, he was weak but able to recognize and converse with his son, Thomas W. Adams, of Kankakee, who came in response to a telegram apprising him of his father's unfavorable condition. Mr. Adams was a native of Norridgewock, Maine, born on March 27, 1821 and was the last survivor of a family of eleven children all of whom grew to maturity. At an

p. 1 J. H. King Discharged

In the case of J.H. King charged with assault with intent to rape, it was found in the Moodey case that no offense had been committed. The judge explains how wrong notions and wrong ideas can get into the heads of children. School room and children gossip can be all sorts and character, and sometimes as dirty and vile as we have coming from grownups. We think the flight of the defendant was due to threats of tar, feathers, and knives, if it be flight, as by consciousness of guilt. After three days of testimony, we are convinced that our opinion in this case and the finding that we make is correct.

p. 3 Personals

The Truancy Case

Instead of going to the reform farm as ordered, Willie Barner was released from Custody on a writ of Habeas corpus and at the hearing Thursday, the boy was discharged on the ground that the proceedings against him had been irregular and illegal. Proper proceedings will be instituted first by law against the parent or guardian of the alleged truant. The constitutionality of the truancy act is being tested in one of the counties of the State.

Bert Service, a Cleveland sailor, who stabbed officer Charles Stuber at Fairport, while making an arrest, was bound over to the grand jury Thursday on the charge of cutting with intent to kill. Officer Stuber was not severely injured, as the knife struck the breast bone. This probably saved his life.

Also, on the afternoon of the same day at Antioch, Ohio, Miss Grace Dewey, at the home of her parents to Mr. Joseph Hobart. All these young men have been employed at different time in the Nursey work here and are much respected by their friends.

In the garden of Mr. James Pool is a small cherry tree that two months ago had many blossoms. Yesterday three large full grown ripe cherries were picked from the tree.

Arrested for Libel

The editor of The Telegraph was arrested last Sat. for criminal libel on complaint of Mr. Horace Alvord. The complaint is based upon the article which appeared in The Telegraph commenting upon the argument of Mr. Alvord in the King case. It may be the law that an attorney is licensed to indulge in billingsgate and baseless invective to gratify malicious spleen against parties and witnesses under the thin pretense of arguing his cause; and it may be the law that a newspaper, in the interest of truth and decency, has no right to characterize such conduct as it deserves. If such is the law, it ought to be known.

p. 1 Whopper of a Whale

The largest whale which ever entered this harbor and one of the largest ever seen on this coast washed ashore at Tokeland say the South Bend (Washington) Herald. County Attorney, M. D. Egbert had taken along a tape line and measured the monster. It showed an extreme length of 174 ft. 8 inches, with a "waist measure" of 161 feet and 6 inches. County Surveyor L. C. Vickrey figured the weight of the animal to be forty-seven and a half tons. He tried to determine the age of the whale from the transverse lines on the baleen and calculated it to be 986 yrs. old. The pectoral fins are 12 feet long and 7 feet broad, the mouth is 24 feet long, the blow holes 18 inches long.

p. 2 The editor of the telegraph was discharged by the U. S. Commissioner, before whom he was brought to answer and absurd complaint made by malicious enemies, saying, "It is clear in my mind that the publication complained of was made for a laudable purpose and not in any manner to corrupt the public moral. In light of recent, decisions of our Supreme Court, it cannot be construed even as a technical violation of the statues of the United States."

Dock Fire at Fairport

Friday morning a long stretch of the iron ore dock was burned. A large section of the dock about five hundred feet north of the slip was on fire. The Fairport Fire Dept. were fighting the fire on the north and the local firemen attacked it on the south. The fire is believed to have started in the planking beneath two McMyler cranes and was fanned by a strong wind.

Death of Albion M. Stocking

Word was received last Wed. of the sudden death of Albion M. Stocking, the postmaster and a prominent citizen of Thompson. He was the eldest son of W. H. Stocking of this place and a brother of Chauncey H. Stocking. He has for several years been the Justice of the Peace in Thompson. He was born in Madison in 1846.

Reckless Use of Firearms

Almost simultaneously with the accidental shooting of two Hungarians at Fairport which was reported Monday, a tragedy occurred in a

Finn boarding house on Cherry street in Ashtabula Harbor on Sunday. Mikka Rammanpaa, keeper of the boarding house, was examining a revolver which was discharged accidentally, the ball entering the head of Herman Japoja, a boarder stand a few feet away. The ball entered his head just behind the right ear, inflicting a fatal wound from which he died a few hours afterward. The "didn't know it was loaded" episode ought to be about worn out in this country.

Mr. & Mrs. Alonzo Teachout spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Teachout's mother and friends in Cleveland.

A Remarkable Love Affair

Miss Lillian Morely, of Liberty hall, New London Co., Conn, was one of the Cherokee Strip "rushers." She went in on horseback with a pistol in her belt. She bivouacked on her claim, but in the morning, saw a rival's tent on the same land. She went to the tent to have it out with her enemy. On a blanket within lay a young man who had been badly hurt in the rush. Miss Morley informed the neighboring settlers of the case, but they were too busy with their own affairs to look after him; so, she was obliged to nurse him herself. Last week they were married. They have sold their land and settled at the young man's former home, Cherokee, Kan.

p. 3 In Austinburgh, diphtheria in its malignant form is said to be epidemic. There children of Dr. W. O. Ellsworth died on Sunday. The doctor in his practice had attended a dozen or more cases and while he was busy caring for his patients, sent his children to their grandparents, Hon. & Mrs. L. C. Reeve's in Rome. After the worst stage was passed, the children were brought home and on Wednesday last all three were taken sick with the disease.

Terribly Burned

During the temporary absence of the mother, the five-year-old daughter of L. H. Mosier got to playing with the coal oil can and poured some of the oil on the fire. The flames burst out and caught the girl's dress on fire. She was alone in the house with her brother, a lad of 8 yrs. He heard her screams and picked her up, took her outside and put her in the snow. He burned his hands badly in trying to save his sister. Mrs. John Upper, who lives next door, heard the screaming of the little ones, and though confined to her room by illness, she went immediately to the rescue and wrapped the little girl in a quilt and carried her into the house. Dr. House was summoned by telephone. Later, Lydia Mosier, the little child who was burned Wed. afternoon is in critical condition. Today – it is thought she will recover.

An Octogenarian

Miss Martha Williams, who lives with her niece, Mrs. C. O. Higgins, last week passed her eighty-sixth birthday. Miss Williams came to Painesville with her father, Ebenezer Williams, in 1811 at the age of four years, and though she has not always lived here, the greater part of her life has been spent in this vicinity. Mr. Williams brought his family from Conn., overland to Buffalo, and then sold his horses and took a vessel bound for Fairport. Owing to the winds, it took three weeks to reach this port by a lake voyage. The property long known as the Williams property on the north side of the Park was acquired by Ebenezer Williams soon after his arrival in Painesville. Miss Williams remembers standing at the back door of her home and hearing the wolves howl in the swamps where Jackson street people now live. Miss Williams is the only surviving member of her father's family, and she and Mrs. Higgins are the only representatives now living here of that large family which made so much of the early history of this beautiful city.

A Reputable Citizen Charged with an Offense

It was learned with surprise this Sat. that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Mr. Augustus Hine, of the Ave., upon the criminal charge of malicious destruction and injury of the property of Mr. J. H. King. Mr. Hine was not arrested, however, as he left on the early train this morning for Youngstown. It seems while Mr. King was out of town, someone broke out some windows in his office. It has not yet transpired why this offense is imputed to Mr. Hine.

Dec. 20, 1893

Going Home to China

Tommy G. Ling, the popular and obliging laundryman at the Cowels House block, left Monday for his home in China. He will be gone about a year visiting his father and mother, and on his return, will spend some time with a cousin in Costa Rica, Central America. Tommy's home is 180 miles from Hong Kong.

Died Suddenly

Chas. Duncan, a bridge hand in the employ of the Columbus Bridge Co., who came here the first of the week to work on the new bridge at the Furnace, died suddenly Friday night at his boarding house on Fobes street. On Wed., he was out all day in the rain and was thoroughly drenched. This brought on pleurisy from which he suffered intense pain. Not having any means, he objected to calling a physician. Late Friday, Dr. House was called. He found his lung congested which was soon followed by congestion of the brain and death at 2 o'clock in the morning. Duncan has a brother, who has been for several years in the employ of the Columbus Bridge Co., who was telegraphed for and will arrive Sat. to take charge of the body which is at Keener's undertaking rooms. Later, his body was shipped to Covington, Ohio, the Columbus Bridge Co. bearing all the expenses. His fellow workmen on the bridge did all they could to relieve his suffering and called for a doctor against his vigorous protest and paid for the medical services out of their own pockets. He was also kindly cared for by his landlady, Mrs. Lawless.

S. J. Massingham, of Geneva, is on trial at Jefferson on the charge of embezzlement preferred against him by the Home Insurance Co. Mr. Massingham is positive that he can establish his innocence and Ashtabula papers claim a weak case is being made against him by the State. Later – the jury brought in a verdict of “not guilty.”

Diphtheria Unabated at Austinburg

The diphtheria epidemic at Austinburg is still unabated. The three-year-old child of C. A. Alvord died Sat. making the second death in this family. Three new cases are reported, and boy aged eight or nine years, and a girl of eleven years in the Henderson family. A child of C. H. Dady was reported sick with this disease Sat. Of the seven children first stricken with the disease, six have already died.

Conrad Shipp

Mr. Conrad Shipp, whose death is announced as having occurred at Painesville, O., Dec. 13th, and whose remains were brought to this city for interment, was at one time a highly-respected resident of the Sixth ward of this city, having lived here about 45 years. He was a veteran of the late war, serving in Co. B, Forty-Sixth Regiment, Penn. Volunteers. He was 79 years old. Quite a family of grown up sons and daughters survive him, all of whom are well and favorably known in and about Pittsburgh. Since the death of his wife a number of years ago, he has made his home with one of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Haffey, whose residence is in Painesville. Pittsburgh Post

Davis-Taylor

Relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. & Mrs. R. V. Taylor to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Gertie E. to David Davis, youngest son of Reese Davis Esq., all of LeRoy. Miss Estell Upson was bridesmaid, and Mr. Adelbart Taylor, brother of the bride, best man. The bride wore a dress of cream white silk and carried white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a dress of white embroidered muslin. Among the guests were Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Cowell, of Cleveland; Mr. & Mrs. E. W. Taylor; Mr. & Mrs. Will Collister, and Mr. & Mrs. Will Post, of Painesville. Mr. & Mrs. Taylor will remain at Mr. Taylor's this winter and in the spring, they intend to commence housekeeping on a farm about one-half mile south of where their parents live.

Dec. 20, 1893

They have always lived in LeRoy and have a host of friends who wish them happiness.

A Brilliant Ball

The Knights of Pythias gave a ball Thursday evening. The event might be said to have been the public opening of the handsome and convenient home which has recently been fitted up for the Knights. It was a military ball and the attractive uniforms of the Knights mingled with the ladies' colorful costumes made a striking scene. Dancing continued until a late hour. About sixty couples were present. Among those present were: Miss Foster, of Geneva; Miss Searle, of Unionville; and Mrs. Fred Orcutt and Mr. W. G. Morgan, of Geneva.

Married – Dain/Summers

At the residence of the bride's parents, Capt. & Mrs. J. H. Andrews, Prospect Street, Dec. 19th, Lamont W. Dain and Mary E. Summers.

He has been in Painesville about two weeks and has been employed on the Astonisher. He had fallen down the steps Monday night; he said he had a fit and that he would be all right. He was taken into the house and a physician summoned; but Walthour only lived five minutes after Dr. Amidon arrived. Walthour has brothers in Greensburg, Pa., who were notified. It is thought that apoplexy caused his death.

Fire at Mentor Marsh

The barn on the farm of Dennis Lapham, who lives at the head of Mentor Marsh, was burned last night with all its contents. Fifty head of sheep and a fine new colt perished along with a large quantity of grain and hay. Mr. & Mrs. Lapham were away attending some Christmas festivities at the time the fire broke out, and its origin is a mystery.

Family Reunion

The Blackmore family held a reunion on Christmas Day at the "Old Homestead" in east Painesville. All of the original ten children, except Mrs. G. C. Deming, of Rochester, Pa., were present. The family decided to meet annually in the future on Thanksgiving. They will meet at the residence of J. F. Doolittle, 565 East Madison Ave., in 1894. The company was entertained by Mrs. A. N. Wood and Mrs. Frank Blackmore.

Timely Assistance of a Neighbor

Mr. F. W. Littlejohn narrowly escape his house burning down. A lamp standing on a shelf in the kitchen was accidentally knocked off and falling scattered oil on the linoleum which caught fire. Mr. Littlejohn was at the store and his wife summoned their next-door neighbor, Mr. W. L. Baker, who happened to be at home. With his assistance, the flames were quickly smothered leaving a blackened kitchen as a reminder of their narrow escape.

Thursday evening trustee H. T. Smart received a call from a well-dressed young woman who had come all the way from Girard, Pa., to meet her betrothed and become his wife. However, the betrothed had failed to put in an appearance. She gave her name as Miss Webb. She was about 28 yrs. of age and attractive and was engaged to Mr. Cobb, a respectable young farmer of Hampden. Cobb had furnished her means to come to Painesville to be married as was to have met her at the depot. At the depot, they advised her to apply to trustee Smart for assistance. Her furnished her with transportation for her return.
