Horse Killed in Runaway

The family of C. M. Luce started for Madison with a horse and buggy on Christmas morning to spend the day with relatives. The horse was freighted by some clothes hanging on a line and upset the carriage into a ditch. The horse fell striking its head on the frozen ground and was killed. Mrs. Luce had her limbs paralyzed in the accident and she has not yet recovered use of them.

Fell Sixteen Feet

Henry Lapham, in North Mentor, fell last Friday when a scaffolding gave way while he was at work on Mr. Tenbrooke's barn. He fell 16' and beyond breaking some ribs. He is reported doing well.

Bound Over

Andres Lustila and Solomon Isaacson, the men arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the disappearance of Andre Hongisto on Christmas eve, had a preliminary hearing before Mayor Riker, of Fairport and were bound over to the Common Pleas. There is no trace of the missing man. The river has been dragged and a systematic search is being prosecuted.

The Snow Plow Service

The snow plow service was evidently taken by surprise Thursday morning to see the ground covered with "the beautiful" and did not recover in time from the shock to be of any practical benefit to business men, laborers and others out in the morning. We hope it does not snow again this winter unless an alarm clock is set for the snow plow service. It should realize that it is of no earthly service unless it gets out before the reset of humanity.

Death of Col. William Fitch

We announced last week the death of Col. Wm. T. Fitch, of Madison, who died in Washington on Christmas Day. Though about 70 yrs. of age, he enjoyed good health. He developed what was thought to be an earache and turned into an abscess on the brain, causing his death. He has been an assistant doorkeeper in the House for many years. He leaves a widow, two sons; W. H. and Grant Fitch, of Ashtabula, and two daughters, Mrs. R. B. Swift, of Kingsville, and Mrs. Kate King, of Sandcoulee, Mont. His body arrived at Madison for burial.

The Murdered Man at Fairport Returns to Life – Found Himself in a Hay Stack

Andrew Hongisto, the man who disappeared from Fairport on Christmas Eve and was supposed to have been murdered, reappeared Thursday night. The last that he remembers on that night, was being in a fight with Lustila and Isaacson and receiving a blow on the head which brought on a Rip Van Winkle sleep. When he awoke, he found himself in the top of a hay stack. Evidently the sheeting covering the stack from rain had been removed and a hole dug in the hay for the body of Hongisto who was supposed dead. The sheeting was then replaced to conceal the crime.

Richard Neff, who was kicked by a vicious horse on Monday, died Wednesday afternoon. He was 38 yrs. old and leaves a wife, who is the daughter of Mrs. Carlos Mason.

A Tragic Ending

The Geneva case of W. W. Sinclair vs J. G. Fear for defamation of character, which has been on trial in Jefferson for two weeks, had a tragic ending. The defendant was coming into court to hear the verdict and had a pain in the chest. He died the

She died of congestion of the lungs. She was born in Berg Hill, Trumbull Co., in 1818. For the last 25 yrs., she has been a resident of Painesville. Interment was in the family lot at Andover on Saturday.

Simeon Hovey, a former resident of Mentor, was knocked down by a motor car at Collinwood Tuesday and died Thursday from his injuries. The funeral was at Collinwood. Interment was in Mentor.

Jan. 23, 1895

The Singer Manufacturing Co. will remove its office to the Dress Making parlors of Miss M. C. Huntoon, No. 335 Main street, upstairs over Pratt's store.

Mr. Tracy H. Paine, who is spending the winter in Florida for the benefit of Mrs. Paine's health, was in St. Augustine the other day. While there, Mr. Paine visited the cemetery where his grandfather, Benjamin F. Tracy, was buried, way back in the thirties. Dr. Case, of Ashtabula, had noticed the name on this headstone when there last winter and told Mr. Paine about it.

Death of Mrs. David B. Clayton

Mrs. Mary A. Clayton, widow of the late D. B. Clayton, died early Wed. at the residence of her daughter Mrs. Walter C. Tisdell, having been confined to her room about three weeks. She was 79 yrs. old and has lived in this village since childhood. She was the daughter of Rev. James Hitchcock, who came to this village with his family from Tioga Co., N.Y., several years before the organization of Lake Co. In 1837, she married D. B. Clayton and survived him about two years. Her surviving children are Mrs. W. C. Tisdell and D. B. Clayton, of Painesville, Mrs. N. K. Hubbard, of Fargo, North Dakota, W. E. and H. E. Clayton, of Chicago, and F. W. Clayton, of Waterville, Minn. Among the relatives out of town were Mrs. N. K. Hubbard, of Fargo; Mr. H. E. Clayton, of Chicago; Mrs. W. F. Wilson, the only sister of the deceased, her son, Mr. W. C. Wilson, and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Ackley, of Willoughby; Mrs. Clayton E. Hickox, of Cleveland, and Mr. & Mrs. J. B. Hayden, of Madison. The pall bearers were W. A. Blair, J. A. Babcock, F. Gates, J. Chapman, L. A. Trumbull and F. A. Cone.

Stranded on the Desert

Mrs. E. B. Root has received a letter from her mother, Mrs. N. Brink, written last Tuesday on the Colorado desert in Southern California, where their train was stranded by the wash-out on the Southern Pacific. This was not the only experience Mrs. Brink and her daughter, Mrs. C.

E. Pratt, had on their California trip. At Tecos the famous outlaw, Bill Cook, who had just been captured in the mountains was taken on board their train and rode as far as El Paso. The letter was mailed at Indio, San Diego Co., and arrived here Tuesday.

Right of Way Secured

The committee of the Board of Trade has at last secured an option of the right of way across the land of Thomas Killcawley for the File Works switch. Mr. Killcawley for a time blocked the switch scheme as he had inflated ideas on the value of the right of way over his land. A change of mind was affected and the contract for the right-of-way was signed. Mr. Killcawley got $200 and the deed of a lot in Richmond.

Louisa O. Harvey

Mrs. Louisa O. Harvey, wife of the Hon. Thomas W. Harvey, died Jan. 9, 1895 at her home on Mentor Ave. She has been an invalid for the past 13 yrs. but the immediate cause of her death was an attack of acute bronchitis which she had suffered from since Christmas. Mrs. Harvey was the daughter of Alvaro and Nancy Beebe, and was born in Mentor, March 20, 1826. She received her education in the Willoughby Seminary; was married in Chardon to Thomas W. Harvey, Feb. 6, 1849. The first two years of her life was spent in Republic, Ohio. They then moved to Massillon until 1865 when they moved to Painesville. The surviving members of the family are Thomas A. Harvey, of Saginaw, Mich; Mary B. Harvey, Louisa E. Harvey, and Mrs. F. H. Kendall.

An Old Timer

Mr. C. A. Avery has an interesting relic in the form of an old-fashioned sleigh which has attracted much attention upon the streets lately. The sleigh is 75 yrs. old and was the first "swell box" ever brought to Painesville. Mr. Storrs, who formerly owned the Avery Place, was counted among the early "Aristocrats" of this place and his appearance upon the streets in this ancient swell box with "Jim" Thompson in charge of the reins, was considered quite a thing. The sleigh was handed down with the property to its present owner and has been unused for 25 yrs.

Jan. 23, 1895

A Brilliant Event

The Board of Trade gave its first annual party Friday evening. In spite of the untimely rain which prevailed much of the evening, three hundred guests were present for a dancing and to hear Beck's orchestra. Guests from out of town:

Obituary – Nelson Hoose

Nelson Hoose was born in Mentor, near Little Mountain, Oct. 9, 1831, and died in Perry, Ohio, Oct. 25, 1894. He was the fourth son and the fifth child in the family of eleven children, ten of whom lived to and beyond the years of majority, but only three of whom now survive--Mr. Cornelius Hoose, of Waite Hill, Mrs. Lucy Hill, of Indiana, and Mrs. Olive Hopkins, of Mentor Plains. His parents, Jacob and Sabine Hoose, were among the pioneers of Mentor, having purchased a new farm at a very early day in that part of Mentor near Little Mountain. Mr. & Mrs. Jacob Hoose were natives of New York state. Mrs. Hoose being connected by her mother with the numerous family of Messengers, some of whom settled near Little Mountain in 1815 and 1817. Jacob Hoose died in 1853.

Nelson Hoose was twice married. His first wife, Martha Griffeth, was a daughter of Dr. Samuel Griffeth, and Mrs. Dr. Stebbins, of Painesville, is her sister. By his first marriage, Mr. Hoose had three sons, one of whom, Frank died in childhood and the others, Will and Fred survive. Mrs. Martha Hoose died in 1882.

In 1886, Mr. Hoose married Mrs. Ida A. Ruggles, of Cleveland, who survives him. Soon after his first marriage, Mr. Hoose moved to Arkansas where he lived some time, and he also lived for a time in Illinois. He had a diseased condition of his eyes which prevented him from entering the army as a soldier, he entered the employ of the government as a teamster and saw and suffered much of the hardships of army life in several of the Virginia campaigns. After the war, Mr. Hoose lived for a time in Concord, later in Painesville, and in the fall of 1869, he purchased the property in Perry when he established a business in manufacturing cider and cider vinegar.

Burial of Timothy Brooks

The burial of Timothy Brooks, who died in California a week ago, were brought to this city Sat., accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Hoxett, of Gilroy, Cal. Mr. C. C. Viall joined Mrs. Hoxett at Chicago and Mr. John Brooks joined them at Elyria. The body was interred at Evergreen Cemetery.

A new grocery business will be at the corner of Main and St. Clair streets. The business will be conducted by Albert Button and Hylas B. Gladwish. It is in the former store of Higgins & Co. drug firm.

p. 4 Migrating Tarantulas (by Rev. J. D. Gillilan)

An old military friend told me not long since that in the summer of 1859, he and a companion were traveling before day one morning to escape the terrible heat of the later house along the bank of the Gila river, on the Arizona side. Jogging along and charging as they went, their horses suddenly snorted and stopped short, and endeavored to turn about. They brought their guns into position and peered into the darkness expedient to see some varmint or an Indian, but nothing appeared to view. They urged their horse, but not a step did or would they budge, except in the wrong way. Then their saw a long, black, flat, serpentine-looking zone of stretching as far as the eye could reach in either direction directly across their path. One of them dismounted and found it been nothing more than a mighty multitude of tarantulas, migrating somewhere. Their animals would not leap over or go thought them so they returned to cap about two miles back. Coming back later in the day, they found the multitude had passed but left in their wake thousands that had been killed by the small bird that follows them and stabs the spider to death wherever it is found.

TO COOK POTATOES.

POTATO LOAF—Mashed potatoes, two eggs, well beaten; cold chicken shredded fine. Mix together, adding butter, pepper and salt, and making in the shape of a loaf. Bake brown.

HAGGIS—This famous old Scotch dish is very simple. Cut the beef in small pieces and mix with mashed potatoes. Season with pepper and salt. Use plenty of butter and bake well.

POTATO MINCE BALLS—Parboil potatoes equal in quantity to two-thirds of the available cold meat—beef and a little ham, if convenient, chopped fine. Mash the potatoes and mix with the meat and one raw egg. Season with small bits of celery, pepper and salt. Fry in round balls.

POTATO PIE—Place in the pastry alternate layers of mashed potatoes and slices of mutton or veal, and three cold boiled eggs, sliced. Season with salt, pepper and mace according to taste. Add butter on each layer, or pour gravy over it. Let the top layer be a thick one of potatoes, and brush with yolk of egg.

POTATO AND FISH BILLS—Take equal parts of cold fish, shredded fine, and potatoes boiled and mashed smooth. Beat in an egg and a few tablespoonfuls of rich milk, but do not make too moist. Salt to taste. Mix thoroughly and beat until light. Roll with a spoon into neatly shaped oval balls, and fry brown. —Good Housekeeping.

A vote was cast and contrary to general expectation, Mrs. Martha Elwell was defeated for the nomination by Mrs. Mary King, the vote standing at 155 to 124. To increase the excitement, Rev. H. S. Jackson, chairman of the caucus, adjourned the caucus before the hour appointed which was 9 o'clock. Whereupon, the Elwell people claimed fraud and declared the caucus illegal. The King people to make their position sure circulated a petition and this was filed with the Clerk Ward Thursday morning. This will make the nomination of Mrs. King valid, but it is intimated that it will not settle the matter. A petition will now be circulated for the nomination of Mrs. Elwell and a battle royal will occur at the polls.

Fifty Years Ago

Mrs. Dr. Stebbins has brought to our attention a copy of the Telegraph dated of March 12, 1845, which she has cherished because it contains the notice of her marriage. The paper was brought to Dr. Stebbins' office sometime in the seventies by a friend who found it in the attic of the old Kingsbury house. Mrs. Stebbins remembers that on the New Year of 1815, there was snow on the ground and a company of eight met in Chardon for the day, of which she is now the only surviving member.

p. 1 Mentor

The Plains consist of a tract of level country, mostly of sandy soil, on the lake shore, lying partly in Mentor and partly in Willoughby townships. There are two churches, a grange hall, and several good country schools.

Hopkins Point is a locality on Lake Erie north and east of the Plains, takes its name from one of the pioneers of Lake Co., who settled on a point of land consisting of a number of acres, which extended for some distance into the lake. The waves have long since washed away the entire point. A broad beach has now been formed at the same place. Behind the beach the ground rises to a sufficient height to afford a fine outlook upon the waters. There is a small grove on the bank and the shade of chestnut trees makes the place attractive in the summer time. Several cottages nestle among the trees and many events are seen here in July and August.

The Headlands lie on the lake in the northeast corner of the township and are cut off from the main land by the marsh which extends in the form of an arc of a circle from the lake at Hopkins' Point to the mouth of the Grand River at Fairport. The marsh is supposed to be the bed of an ancient river. It is bridged at the east end and in the center, and the western outlet is much of the time closed by a sand bar wide enough to make a good crossing even for teams. The enclosed tract of land is over two miles long and a half mile across at the widest point. The land lies considerably higher than the lake level and a view of the passing vessels is excellent. A dozen or more cottages line the beach.

Little Mountain is situated just outside of the southeast corner of Mentor Township and three and half miles from the village. It is about one mile in diameter at the base and towers 750 feet above Lake Erie and 1320 feet above the sea. The top is covered with 100 acres of forest. In the day of the Indians, it constituted an important signal station for the display of beacon fires by night and columns of smoke by day. Among the natural curiosities are the Spring Caves, the Devils Kitchen, the Grand Canyon, and Temple Rock.

Kirtland Mormon Temple was the first Mormon Temple built in the world. Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism, came to Kirtland, O., from Palmyra, N.Y., in 1830, and purchased one square mile of land. The temple is built of stone, has three stories, is 80 feet long, 60 wide, 50 to the eaves, and the spire towers 120 feet above the ground. It was built in 1834. The Mormons departed westward in 1847. There are a number of Mormons of the "Josephite" faction which has always rejected polygamy. The Book of Mormon forbids the multiplication of wives. The practice was authorized by a later revelation alleged to have been made to Brigham Young.

Pushed from the Train

Conductor Charles Green ordered a young man named Hicks off the train who claimed he was going to Unionville and did not have the money to pay his fare. The train was still going at a rapid rate and Hicks was afraid to jump. He was swinging at the rear end of the train with his face toward the west, when Conductor Green, it is said, shoved him off. Hicks struck on his head between the ties and cutting an ugly hole in the back of the head by striking against a bolt. He managed to walk to the station where he was taken to a doctor. He is in a very serious condition.

Not Separated in Death

A notable case of sisterly affection and devotion is brought to light in the recent death of the Misses Morse, of Mentor Ave. which occurred within two days of each other. On Friday, Mary Morse died and on Sunday afternoon her sister and devoted companion, Delilah Morse died, also. These sisters have been almost inseparable for over seventy years. A week ago, both were taken sick with influenza. They occupied the same room and bed and refused to be parted. They were buried side by side in Evergreen Cemetery. They were sisters of the late Christopher and Chauncey Morse and are the last of that remarkable family which came to Painesville about 40 yrs. ago. Mary was a member of the Congregational Church, while her sister was a member of the Methodist Church.

Robbed and Clubbed

Frank Hensel, of North Madison, while waiting at the Lake Shore station yesterday for home, was approached by a stranger who entered into town with him and finally invited him to go across the street to have a glass of beer. They had been in the saloon only a moment when the stranger grabbed Hensel's pocket book from his overcoat pocket. Hensel gave chase and caught the man. However, Night watchman, John Brick, his son, James Brick, Farmer Main, George Malin and others appeared and not understanding the situation clubbed Hensel. The stranger had a hook on a stump on his hand and gave Hensel a deep gash six inches long in his head. Hensel was covered with blood and finally explained the situation. Brick arrested the stranger who gave his name as C. Monahan.

A Change of Plea

On Tuesday, C. H. Vrooman, of Madison, who has been under arrest since Dec. for attempting to pass a forged check for $50, changed his plea to guilty. Miss Stratton was at the cashier's window and handed the check to her father, Mr. Asa Stratton, to see if it was all right. The name Parmly was spelled "Parmilee" and Mr. Stratton had refused payment on the check because of this error. The man did not return with the check with the name corrected which aroused suspicion.

Whirled Around a Shaft

George Mead Badly Injured at the File Works

Mr. George Mead, an employee of the Richmond File Works, was seriously injured at the factory Thursday morning. He attempted to turn a twisted belt and was caught by the pulley and whirled around a shaft which was revolving at a rate of 100 turns a minute. Mr. Mead went around the shaft six or seven times and was then thrown to the peak of the room and fell to the floor with great force striking on his head and right side. Dr. Amidon and Dr. House dressed the wounds. He was taken to Mr. M. H. Huntington's residence on Jackson street, where he has been boarding. His right arm was broken in three places and the bones were protruding through the skin. His head was severely cut and bruised; his right side was cut below the shoulder. Since Mr. Mead weighs over 200 lbs., it seems remarkable he was not even more terribly injured. Mr. Mead formerly lived at North Amherst, Ohio, and is a member of the K. O. P. lodge of that place. He has spent a good deal of time in this city, having been in the employ of Coe & Wilkes and more recently of the File Works. His parents live in Michigan.

May 1, 1895

Mrs. George R. Merrill, of Minneapolis and Mrs. Carrie Kreps Judson, of Duluth, visited the Seminary on Friday. Mr. Merrill will conduct morning worship in Memorial Hall Tuesday.

Notice to Householders

The Board of Health of Painesville gives notice to all householders to clean their yards, cellars, privies, cesspools, vaults and premises at once. The annual inspection by the sanitary police will commence May 1st. Dr. D. J. Merriman, Health Officer.

Car Breakers Arrested

Officer May arrested two car breakers at the Lake Shore station about 4 o'clock Sunday morning. The men are Canadians and gave their names as Frederichse Lonie and Thomas Partington.

The Season Opens

The Fairport Elevator and Warehouse Company have the honor of opening the season at Fairport his year. The Conestoga came in Saturday and took 650 tons of west bound freight being the first boat of the season. Monday morning, the Livingstone arrived from Chicago with 90,000 bushels of wheat. The Morley arrived a few hours later with 89,000 bushels of wheat from Chicago.

Colt Stake Race

On Sat., May 4th, the much talked of two-year-old colt stake race will take place at the Fairgrounds. Five owners will have colts in the race: J. B. Whitney, S. F. Strettor, B. F. Crofoot, Dr. Barnett and G. E. Malin.

Mrs. Julia E. Shepard

The funeral of Julia E. Shepard, wife of A. C. Shepard, was held at Perry on Thursday. She was born in Perry Sept. 6, 1812, married March 1, 1863, and died April 23, 1895 having passed almost her entire life in her native town. She was the third of five daughters of Morgan Crosby, three of whom are still living. She leaves a husband and one daughter.

Wandered Away from Home

A three-year-old lad, who with his mother, Mrs. Chas. Bell, is visiting the boy's grandfather, Mr. Geo. Wright, climbed into a farmer's wagon and rode down town, the farmer supposing he belonged there. When he was put down, he started west on Mentor Ave. to go home. He was not old enough to tell his name and was lost for four hours, before his friends found him. He was found by J. H. Severance, who had joined a large search party, near the Nickel Plate Trace on Mentor street.

It Has a History

Many have examined the old copper plate at the recorder's office. S. C. Hickok remembers the time when maps were struck from this plate and these were the only maps of the Western Reserve extant at that early day. H. Kingsbury was the engraver of the plate. Mr. Kingsbury was a noted silversmith and did business in Painesville for years. Mrs. Hickok thinks that Mr. Abram Tappan, of Unionville, one of the early surveyors of this county, made the original survey. Mr. Tappan built and occupied the brick house in Unionville afterwards owned by the late Stephen Warner. Mr. Pyle has gone to Cleveland today to have some maps struck off from the plate.

An Interesting Relic

An interesting relic in the shape of a copper plate of the Western Reserve including the fire land was formerly owned by Chas. N. DeForest, of North Madison, who was using it to cover up a stove pipe hole in the house which some years ago he sold to a Mr. Hardy. The plate is 18" long and 12" high. Mr. DeForest had mentioned it to the recorder who asked him to bring it in. Mr. DeForest asked Mr. Hardy for it, then straightened it out and cleaned it up. Mr. DeForest had obtained it from a Mr. Blair, of Madison in 1859, who undoubtedly was its original owner.

Mr. R. C. Moodey Injured

Mr. R. C. Moodey missed his early morning train and tried to jump aboard the next train at the State street crossing. He tried to get on the forward end of the baggage car and was thrown violently to the ground. He was picked up and taken to his mother's home on North St. Clair street. No bones were broken. Mr. Moodey's son, Robert, was sick during the night and required the family to be up part of the time. Mr. Moodey was therefore a little late getting to the depot.

Death of C. H. Philbrook

Mr. C. H. Philbrook, who has been prominent in G.A.R. circles in this vicinity for many years, died at his home in Mentor, April 22.

p. 1 Bessie Won it

The long looked-for stake race for two-year olds colts came off on Sat. afternoon at the fairgrounds with four starters and was won in good time and easily by Bessie, the entry of F. E. Barnett, veterinary surgeon. Shelly Hendershot, of Chardon, acted as starting judge, with R. C. Moodey and J. B. Vrooman as timers. Belle Guernsey, entered and driven by J. B. Whitney, was the only one to crowd Bessie. A crowd of about 500 saw the race.

A Can of Nitro-Glycerin

A sad accident happened at Nelson Ledges, Portage O., Sunday. Two boys, named Proctor and Seckler, each about 12 years old were playing among the rocks when they came across a can of nitroglycerine which had been concealed there by oil prospectors last fall. The boys were not aware of its contents. One of them thumped it on a rock which resulted in an explosion. The Seckler boy's right side and arm were torn away, the body was stripped of its clothing and death was instantaneous. The Proctor boy survived. Warren Chronicle

Drowned

Samuel W. Green and Edward E. Green drowned in the river at Richmond on Saturday. Both were well-known engineers on the P. & W. railroad. Mr. Green and his son were both fond of fishing. They took their boat and fished in the river all day. They planned to fish part of the night and spend the night in Richmond. No one knows how the accident occurred. Mr. Wig Webster in rowing up the river found the body of Edward Green floating in the river. He took the body to the dock and gave the alarm. The father's body was found shortly afterward. No water was found in the lungs of the father and it is surmised he had a sun stroke and fell into the water; that his son in trying to get him back in the boat, capsized it and drowned. Edward E. Green leaves a widow and Samuel W. Green a daughter, Mrs. George W. Stage.

Charged with Stealing

Marshal Sidley Tuesday arrested an Italian named Donanio who is charged with stealing a hundred dollars from Vincent Pennavario. Both men are employees of the Storrs & Harrison Co.

Death of E. M. Eddy

D. M. Eddy was a pioneer merchant of Painesville. He had been an invalid for years. He was 85 yrs. old. Mr. Eddy came to Painesville in 1831 and has ever since been closely identified with the business interests of this village. He was the father of Painesville's boot and shoe dealers. He helped to plant trees on the Park in 1838. He contributed liberally to the building of the Court House which was the work of private donation. He had three sons: One died in the army from heart disease; the second was injured at a fire in California and was taken to Honolulu by his brother, where he died of consumption. The eldest son perished at sea on the return voyage. Mr. Eddy's first wife was Katherine Adams, sister of the late Charles Adams. His second wife was Mary Axtell, sister of the late Imri Axtell. In 1864, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Huntington, who survives him. Thirteen years ago, Mr. Eddy suffered a sunstroke from which he never fully recovered. He was a member of the Masonic order and the oldest Odd Fellow in Painesville.

Unusual Mortality

A Miraculous Escape

James Condon was severely injured in an accident on the highway near Wickliffe. He had taken his heavy moving van to Cleveland Sunday evening to bring back a load of furniture. He started home just before noon and had reached the hill at the county line when the accident occurred. No one saw the accident so it is not known just how it happened. It is believed he fell asleep while driving the wagon. There is a deep ditch on the side of the road. The team probably got too close to the ditch and the wagon overturned. An iron handle on the wagon prevented the entire weight of the wagon falling on him. Mr. Hammond, of Wickliffe, came upon Condon and found him almost asphyxiated with the top of the wagon across his back. Men from neighboring fields assisted in raising the wagon. He was unconscious when found and it was half an hour before he awoke. Condon is terribly bruised and injured internally, but Dr. Sherwood says he will recover.

June 5, 1895

p. 2 Oil Excitement at Lane

A Woman Speculator Leasing Land in the Edge of Perry Township

Within the past month, two thousand acres have been put under lease and it is claimed a thousand more is wanted to complete the tract. Those securing these leases have been very quiet about it. So far as can be learned, Mr. & Mrs. Pflieger, of Cleveland, are the prime movers of the scheme. The origin of the oil speculation in Perry Township dates back several years to the time when Mr. D. Holcomb sank a well for gas. After the drill had run down quite a distance, the ropes were found to be covered with a lubricating oil of the finest quality. The well has been kept open to provide lubricating oil for all the neighborhood. Some time ago, John Thompson, of Cleveland, purchased the Vrooman farm on the South Ridge. This he sold and bought the Jesse Thomson farm about 40 acres at Lane Station. Mr. Thompson has been acting as leasing agent of the Cleveland parties. Mr. Pflieger is an old hand at "wildcatting" and calls upon his clever wife to secure the options and leases. The Pfliegers are said to be originally from Geauga Co. and interested in the oil well recently found in Montville. The supposition is that they have traced the vein to Perry Township.

Judge Hamilton B. Woodbury

An account of the life of Judge Hamilton B. Woodbury, who died in Cambridge, Pa., Wed., written by his life-long friend J. A. Howells, of the Jefferson Sentinel:

He was born in Kelloggsville, Monroe Township, Ashtabula Co., Nov. 27, 1831. His ancestors were among the first to settle in New England. John Woodbury came to Cape Ann before Gov. Endicott arrived and settled at Salem or Beverly in 1624. One of the most conspicuous of the Woodbury's in the late days was Hon. Levi H. Woodbury, of New Hampshire. He was governor and twice U.S. Senator from that state; Sec. of Navy and Sec. of the Treasury under President Jackson, and successor of Judge Story as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The late Hon. E. B. Woodbury, son of Wheeler Woodbury and father of Judge Woodbury, was born in 1805 and was seven years old when his father came to Ohio. He was nearly 40 years old when he began the study of law. The firm of Chaffee & Woodbury a generation ago was one of the most successful in our county.

June 26, 1895

Hamilton B. Woodbury read law in the office of Chaffe & Woodbury and was admitted to practice in 1852. He was then living in Kelloggsville, where he was twice elected Justice of the Peace. In 1857, he moved to Jefferson and was soon elected Mayor. In 1873, he was elected delegate to represent this Senatorial District in the Constitutional Convention the same as his father had done 23 years before. He was elected Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in 1875 and for a second term in 1880. He was then elected one of the Judges of the Circuit Court. In his 20 years as service as judge, he was never absent one day on account of sickness, for pleasure or other cause until the present year. His family consists of a wife, daughter, Mrs. J. R. Stone, of Eagleville, F. H. Woodbury Esq., Deputy Probate Judge Mr. H. B. Woodbury Jr., and W. W. Woodbury, attorney at law, practicing in Youngstown.

Death of a Lake County Man

A dispatch from Ironwood, Mich., June 19, announces the death of Hon. William Warren Corning, of Portage, Wis. He suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday evening while visiting his daughter, Mrs. L. L. Wright, and never regained consciousness. Mr. Corning went to Wisconsin 35 years ago from Mentor, Ohio, where he was born in 1830. After settling in Portage, he became one of the foremost men of that portion of the state, representing his district in the state legislature and serving three terms as mayor of Portage. He was recently sent to Ironwood by the E. P. Allis Co., of Milwaukee, to take charge of extensive hardwood interests owned by them. The deceased leaves five children: William S., of Lagrange, Ill.; Mrs. Wright, of Ironwood; Mrs. McVichie, of Iron Belt; Mrs. Elverson, of Medford, and Mrs. Swendson, of Portage, where interment took place Friday the 21st. When in Lake Co., Ohio, he clerked in the store of Aaron Wilcox. Mr. C. O. Child was, also, a clerk in the same store at the time. Mr. Corning has a sister, Mrs. M. C. Angier, and other relatives living in Mentor.

Married - At the home of her parents on Casement avenue, June 20, Miss Mary A. Merrill to Mr. A. M. Bartlett, of Perry, Ohio.

Y.M.C.A.

Officers elected for the new year:

Pres. – F. L. Kerr

V.P. – A. G. Reynolds, E. E. Kintner

Treas. – W. F. Smith

Sec. – W. R. Radcliffe

The filling at Mill Brook is still in progress and the gravel is going in at the rate of 125 loads per day. It will require about 2,000 such loads according to Supervisor Stevenson. When finished, the ravine will be crossed by a gentle downward curve, and the swift cyclers and gay pleasure riders can sweep easily on their way as they journey east along Nursery Avenue.

Notice of Heirs

To the heirs-at-law of Oliver P. Wiswell, deceased, late of Perry, Lake Co., Ohio, an application to admit a will has been presented to be filed in the Probate Court. Said application will be for hearing on July 11, 1895 before this court. A. G. Reynolds, Probate Judge

Injured by a Cannon Cracker

The most serious accident of the Fourth occurred about 9:30 in the evening. Mrs. Fred Sargent, of Wood street, was standing on the sidewalk when someone near her threw a lighted cannon cracker near the street. The cracker bounced off a telegraph pole and exploded close to Mrs. Sargent's face, burning and lacerating the flesh. A piece of the winding of the cracker was driven about an inch into her cheek. It is not thought that permanent disfigurement will result.

On Sunday, over 15,000 people visited the park and there was no preparation for the entertainment of so many people. Under Mr. Gladwish's management the comfort of the people will be well looked after.

Beaten and Robbed

An Italian named Domineo Consialdi, an employee of the Storrs & Harrison Co., was attacked by the Geauga Foundry by a gang of ruffians Saturday evening. They struck him with clubs and billies and knocked him down; robbing him of $50. Consialdi has been to town for the purpose of sending $200 to his family at Palermo, Sicily, in order that they might come to this country. He had $50 of his own and a like amount he had borrowed from a fellow countryman named James Ross. He had gone to the express office but could not speak English well enough to make his wants known and was on his way home. The robbers did not find the borrowed $50 in the inside pocket. He claims to have recognized one of the attackers as Michael White.

The Jaw Bone of a Whale on Exhibition in Painesville

Mr. E. L. House, proprietor on the Painesville Steam laundry, during a recent trip east, secured the jaw bone of a whale, through F. K. Downer, of Auburn, N.Y. Some 20 years ago this bone was taken from a whale captured off the Island of St. Helena. One tooth was broken from the jaw at the time it was captured. The jaw was taken from a sperm whale. It is the lower jaw, 16 ½ feet long and contains 42 teeth. It is several hundred pounds in weight. Old whalers estimate that the size of the whale that had this jaw was from 75 to 80 feet long. As these whales were captured for their oil, the bones were rarely brought to shore. Mr. House is to be congratulated on having secured it.

Pioneer Sketch – Daniel Townsley

Daniel Townsley was the eldest of the four sons of Moses and Abigail Townsley and was born at North Hampton, Mass., Sept. 23, 1783. His father was a soldier in the Revolution and died in 1803. His mother came to Ohio, lived with the family until her death in 1849, at the age of 97. About 1809, he came to Huntsburg, Geauga Co., staying a few days with the family of Stephen Pomeroy, the first settler in the township. As he was not ready to locate at the time, he went to Cleveland and worked on the farm of Maj. Carter, where he remained for a year. He returned to Mass., where on Oct. 23, 1811, he married Cynthia Alvord, and in 1816, came to Huntsburg. They made the long journey with an ox team and were about six weeks on the road. They went to Windsor, where there was no road cut through to Huntsburg, and walked 7 miles to their destination leaving their team. It is related that Lemuel Atwood Sr. while working for Lew Hunt to make payment on lot 57, chopped five acres of heavily timbered land in about a month by working over time, doing much of the work by moonlight. Capt. Barnes and his brother, Michael, did a job of threshing for Uncle Daniel. Many of the farmers preferred to have their grain tolled to pay for threshing as money was hard to get. Every tenth bushel was taken for wheat, and every twelfth for oats. Uncle Daniel was short, standing just five feet in his boots. He had a neighbor lady make him a braided palm leaf hat with a crown a foot high so he could be as tall as his neighbors. Mr. T. had three brothers who owned farms in Huntsburg. One of them, John, went with the militia company to Cleveland at the time of Hull's surrender when our frontier was threatened. Abigail, a sister, married John R. Justice and lived in Munson. Mr. T. had two children: Corcelin, who married Willard F. Smith and Orrin, who married Laura ___son and had a number of children. Orrin's eldest son, Philetus, served in the Civil War and settled in Phillipsburg, Kansas. Elizabeth B. Alvord also came from Mass. with them and lived in the family until her marriage to Asa Church, who was killed by the falling of a tree in 1826. She afterwards married Sylvester Russell and had a large family. On May 20, 1861, the wife who had been his companion for so many years died, Aunt Cynthia. Her life work was done and well done. He remarried and it was not a good marriage. He ended up selling his little farm, separated and went to Kansas. He spent his remaining days in the family of a distant relative named Chilson, who preceded him to Kansas.

Of the heads of families residing in Huntsburg sixty years ago, when the writer first came to the place in 1835, it is believed that Theodore Bridgeman and wife are the only couple now living. They live with or near their son in East Cleveland. About two years ago, they had a family reunion on the 90th birthday of Mr. Bridgeman. E. H. C.

A Town Terror

Joe Hickey Threatens to Get Even with his Persecutor in Willoughby

Joe Hickey, of Cleveland, a man of intemperate habits, has been terrorizing the town for he last week and threatening to burn out everybody who refused to tolerate his impertinences. Hickey had been working for Frank Ward, who lives two miles north of Willoughby Village and when paid off ten days ago he went on a glorious drunk and was discharged by his employer. He threatened to burn Ward out. On Wed. morning, Ward discovered his barn on fire and burned down. The same day, Tuesday, he went to the home of Frank Storm, a short distance from the scene of the fire, and ordered Mrs. Storm to get him something to eat. Storm appeared shortly afterwards and told Hickey to get out of the house. He refused to do so, and Storm threw him out. He told Storm "he would want for a roof over his head someday." Several days later, Hickey had trouble with Frank Gunn and several other men and said he would get even with them. That afternoon, a private detective that Ward hired to work up the arson case, found Hickey asleep about half a mile from the village with his head resting on a jug of whiskey. He told Ward where he was asleep and Ward went into the village and told of the find. Farmers and villages for miles around gathered to the number of 150 and went to where Hickey was asleep. They woke him and accused him of setting the barn on fire, which he denied. The men seized Hickey and applied a coat of shellac to him and as it dry, it drew the skin so tight that Hickey fairly howled in pain. He was drawn up and down the river with a view to force a confession from him. He was then ridden on a fence rail and ordered to leave the place forever. Those who know his desperate nature are confident that Willoughby is not yet through with Joe Hickey.

p. 4 An article explaining how expensive it is to be dressed to be presented at court: At least $375. You cannot go in a gown that has ever been worn before, nor in a costume that is not made of the very best material. You can't because you will perish of shame when you stand in line with women who are in the richest and freshest that Lyon looms and French dressmakers can turn out. Any woman has sense enough to recognize that it is better not to go at all than go inadequately, to stand there in the fierce light reflected from the throne. If you are an unmarried woman on the sunny side of sixty, you wear white. Debutantes look at tulle, silk, and lace and wreaths of French flowers, silver embroidery, pearls and ribbons. Middle-age matrons ponder over velvet, purple, red, black, etc. while young married persons go in for the heavier white brocades or brocades with colored flowerings. The Queen expects one's train must be for three yards to the floor. The train must fall from the shoulders five yards long by two wide. The gown must be cut out below the point of the shoulders. Then there are the shoes matching the dress, the veil and feather, the long trailing bouquet, the hair dresser, and a suitable carriage to arrive and depart in.

Death of Mrs. Holcomb

Mrs. D. R. Holcomb, of Perry, died Wed. in Dr. Hominston's hospital, in Cleveland, where she had been taken for treatment. The remains were brought to Painesville Thursday and taken to the family home at Lane station. Emily Jane Champion was born Mary 14, 1853, in Perry. On May 29, 1869, she was united in marriage to DeReath R. Holcomb. One daughter, Frances Bertha, was born to them, who is now a girl of sixteen. Her father, Joel Champion, came to Perry from Schoharie Co., N.Y., in 1852 and he and his wife are still residents of that township. One sister and a brother, Mrs. Nina Webb, and H. J. Champion, also, reside in Perry and another brother, Jerome B. Champion, live in Eu Clair, Wis. Mrs. Holcomb has been ill since September, 1892. She has been in the hospital since the middle of May.

Injunction Not Allowed

Judge Howland came in from Chardon, where he has been hearing the arguments on the restraining order of the Bass Lake Co. to prevent the public from fishing in the waters of Bass Lake. Some years ago, a company of men from Youngstown purchased 30 acres of land at the south end of this lake and built a magnificent motel. They then secured leases of land adjacent to the lake to the depth of two or three rods for the purpose of controlling the lake and preventing the public from fishing in the waters thereof. A short time ago, some Chardon men invested capital in the vicinity and bought 40 acres of land at the inlet and established a club house for fishing. A part of this purchase covered land previously leased by the Bass lake Co, so that the Chardon party got access to the water and went to fishing. The Youngstown people sought to prevent this by a restraining order of the court. The purchase of the land by the Chardon people overrides the lease of the land by the Youngstown people. Also, the lake has not been taxed since 1840, which goes further to show that the public has a right to its use.

Suddenly Called

Mr. F. G. Johnson received a telegram Friday notifying him of the death of his father, Mr. E. E. Johnson. The telegram came from Foster, Cal., where Mr. Johnson had gone for a week's outing at the home of his friend, Dr. M. C. Woodson. It is supposed he died of heart disease. His oldest brother died thus suddenly just three years previous to the very day. E. E. Johnson was born in Warsaw, N.Y., August 5, 1823. For several years, he was advance agent of the Hutchinson family of singers, whose anti-slavery songs did almost as much as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to arouse the nation to action. We this family, he helped to found the town of Hutchinson, Minn. In 1849, Mr. Johnson was married to Augusta R. Goldsmith, of this place, and came to lives in Painesville which has ever since been his home. The remains will be brought to Painesville for interment. They will be in charge of Delos E. Goldsmith, who is located at Monterey, and who is going to Foster to take charge of the body. Besides his son, Frank G., the deceased leaves one brother, Mr. C. L. Johnson, whose home is in Saybrook, Ohio. The funeral services will be attended from Ingleside, the Goldsmith homestead on Mentor Avenue on July 28.

Murderous Assault

Isaac Elwell murderously assaulted his son Frank, Saturday. He was intoxicated and becoming enraged at Frank seized a mason's hammer and struck him a terrible blow over the temple. An artery was severed and Frank nearly bled to death. Dr. Buys was called but Ike attacked him and drove him away. Dr. Buys returned later with Dr. Sherwood and Marshal Sidley. Ike had skipped. He will not be arrested as the family are unwilling to appear against him.

p. 2 Ashtabula's Show

Ashtabula held its third annual street fair Thursday and had a perfect day for it. There were numerous entries for some of the premiums but the exhibits were not well arranged, the booths being small and not well adapted to the purpose. There were several baby shows, a large exhibition of Log Cabin

Quilts, and interesting collections of mammoth pumpkins, squashes, and beets. Five bands were present. One thing was noticeable at the Ashtabula Fair which Painesville's merchants would do well to carry out, a large number of the merchants had attractive banners bearing the name and business of the firm. These were stretched across the street or upon the front of buildings and added greatly to the decorations.

The Second Street Fair

It is a pretty general belief that Painesville reached the zenith of her glory yesterday. It was the day of days for this beautiful village. The Fair was free, the entries were free, athletic sports free. Many special bargains and discounts were offered by the merchants. It was, also, the prettiest street fair ever. Too much praise cannot be given to the management for the precision with which all details were arranged and carried out. It was a long pull, a strong pull, and we all pulled together.

A Coon Hunt

Farmer Albert Bartholomew, of Perry, Ohio, is a veteran coon hunter. A record of 95 coons in a single fall is proof. He hunts with his son, Kelsey, and Hugh Perry, and faithful Joe, the king of coon dogs. Recently on a night in Oct., Mr. Avery Hanes and others assembled at Mr.

Bartholomew's for a coon hunt. Mr. Hayes loudly proclaimed that he and his dog, a Newfoundland hound, were coon hunters from-away-back. Mr. Bartholomew asserted that Avery's dog was a cross between a pet lamb and a coyote—the dog would bark and bunt at his own shadow. As the night went on, Bartholomew and faithful Joe had killed seven coons and a large woodchuck. A fire was built and a coon was cooking for dinner when Avery's dog was heard barking. He had a coon trapped in a tree trunk, but it turned out to be a skunk. The dog went to another tree nearby and a coon was found way inside. Axes were used to cut up the tree which fell onto the other tree with the skunk. The coon fell from the tree and Joe, the dog, was fighting with a 38 lb. swamp coon. Hearing Avery cry out, they searched for him and found he had fallen from the one tree into the hollow stump of the other that held the skunk. Avery now sleeps in his barn, on which there is a large sign, "dog for sale." E. Hobday

p. 3 Local Brevities

Word has been received of the death of Curtiss T. Cady, of Lancaster, Mich., brother of Oscar and Newton Cady, of Madison, and cousin of Auditor Tisdell and Lloyd Wyman of this place.

Information has come from Walnut, Kansas, of the death of Orlando A. Tisdell, who was born in Madison in 1827 and went to Kansas to live in 1879. He was a cousin of Auditor Tisdell.

Dr. E. A. Barnett returned from Erie Monday evening. He found his brother, Conductor Barnett, in much better condition than was expected. Conductor Barnett has been taken to his home in Collinwood.

William Randall, a farmer living on the Dock road in Geneva, while husking corn Monday with the Waterman corn husker, stopped to clean out the rollers with his left hand which then got drawn into the cutter, cutting and mangling him almost to the shoulder. Amputation was performed as soon as possible, the man walking from the scene of the accident to the physician's office.

The Salem Index (Neb.) brought news of the death of Mr. H. C. Jennings, which occurred in his home in Salem, Oct. 30. The deceased was born in Painesville in 1836. He was the nephew of the late Hezekiah Cole for whom he was named. He was, also, a cousin of Mrs. J. S. Casement. In 1866, he was married to Miss Sarah P. Tisdell, a sister of Mrs. Lloyd Wyman. He served during the war in the 7th Kansas Cavalry. He left a wife and two children.

Mrs. Hosea F. Brown died at her home in Concord Thursday after a brief illness.

Geo. W. Blackmore intends to build a brick cottage on the lot which he has purchased of E. E. Gould, on Erie street.

S. C. Hickok says that the building which has so long been occupied by Baker's livery is one of the oldest buildings in town. It was first a mill and instead of being run by the river, it was propelled by water that came from the spring along the bank north of Bigler's mill. It was built before 1805. Later it was moved to its present location on State street and used as a warehouse for the Gauga foundry.

p. 1 Geneva's Sensation

Geneva has a decided sensation. On Wed., Dr. F. E. Tibbitt was summoned to the home of the late W. H. Maltbie, West Main street, to dress a severe scalp wound on the forehead of Mrs. J. Serline. There were four people in the house Tuesday night: Miss Jessie and Bessie Earle, who have rooms upstairs, and a young lady employed by Mrs. S. as a domestic, Miss Lizzie Casbourne. Miss Jessie Earle is a teacher in the Perry schools.

When Mrs. Serline woke up in the morning, she found a gash on her head. A hatchet was found lying in an unusual place, the cellar and back door were found open; everything seems to carry out the idea of a murder having been attempted by some unknown party. A purse belonging to Miss Casbourne was missing containing $8. Mrs. Serline is 75 yrs. old. She has made her home in the Maltbie residence since the death of her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Maltbie some three months ago.

After Them

Fred Enos was taken from the county jail Saturday to Perry to answer to the charge of being drunken and disorderly. Enos belongs to a gang of young men who have been raising Cain in Perry for a week and the authorities there are determined to break it up. Warrants were, also, issued to Chester Enos and Milo Peterson, but they got wind of it, and fled, taking with them Lena Ray, a fifteen year-old-girl from Harpersfield, who had taken part in their midnight carousals. Complaint was made against the parties by a sister-in-law of Enos, who lives in south Perry. The mother, Mrs. Enos, is a paralytic and has gone to live with this daughter-in-law, leaving her home in charge of Fred and Chester Enos. When they discovered what revels were taking place in their home, they made affidavit before Squire Morris which led to the arrest of one of the boys Thursday.

Dec. 4, 1895

The Rider Tavern

Mr. Zerah Rider, now in his 76th years, has given us some notes in regard to his family history and the building of the famous tavern on Mentor street. Mr. Rider says his father, Joseph Rider, in 1802 came from Tolland Co., Conn., afoot with his ax on his shoulder and a knapsack on his back. He built a log house on the banks of the Grand River not far from where the Fairport road was afterward located, on the right bank across from the present residence of Mr. H. H. Hine, who owns what was then called New Market, and afterward called Skinner's Landing. He returned to New England and in 1803 brought his family, wife and three little girls, westward as far as Erie with a horse team, where he exchanged his horses for a yoke of oxen. As there were no roads, he drove on the lake beach to the mouth of the Grand River. Shortly after they arrived the family dog disappeared. His disappearance was a mystery until a letter was received from his former home announcing his return, weak, weary, and gaunt. He had made the return trip in less than scheduled time with little or nothing for food. About the year 1812, Mr. Rider moved to and occupied a double log house which was near the present residence of Mrs. Mathews on State street and opened a tavern. In 1817, he began building the old landmark so long and widely known as Rider's "Tavern," as all hostleries were then called. This he occupied in 1818 and kept as a public house until his death Feb. 22, 1840. Three generations were born here, and Zerah, who has lived on the same premises since his birth. In 1862, the old sign was taken down and the place became a private house. The Rider family ancestry goes back to Plymouth Rock. Joseph and Hiram Rider came over on the Mayflower. Joseph married and had sons, Joseph and Hiram. The names continued in every generations. All the "Hirams" remained single. Joseph the son of Zerah, however, is also childless and the name may yet become extinct. One hundred and fifty guests have sometimes found shelter for a night in the tavern, and Mr. Rider has assured us, he has stood on the tavern veranda and counted a hundred teams going west, coming east, or standing by the roadside. The house was originally only one and a half stories, but in 1832, twenty feet were added on the west and the whole raised to two stories. Mr. Rider, then a boy of 12 yrs., with two yoke of cattle, hauled all the hewn timber, some sixty feet in length, from the woods, for the rebuilding.

Obituary

Ruth Dunkin was born in Amherst, Nova Scotia, June 9, 1800 and died Nov. 28, 1895. She was married to Elisha Card, with whom she lived until the time of his death, May 1, 1854. She had eight children; four of whom survive her: W. H. Card, and Mrs. E. Judkins, of this city; Duncan Card, of Lorain, Ohio; and E. H. Card, of California. The family remained in Amherst until the year 1837, when they moved to Esquezen in what was then called Upper Canada. They remained there 9 years and then moved to St. Thomas where she remained until two years after her husband's death, when she came with her family to Painesville, where she has since resided. Her sickness was that incident to her extreme age.

A decree of divorce was granted by Judge Canfield last week in the case of Hattie M. A. Colgrove vs Bert Colgrove

Mr. Geo. A. Bates received a message from Chardon Sat. announcing the sudden death of Milford Smith, a well-known farmer of that place.

The funeral of Grace, the 22-year-old daughter of Mr. Frank Stevenson, who lives on the Middle Ridge in Perry, took place from the Methodist Church of that place Sunday afternoon.

R. S. Wood and family were nearly asphyxiated by gas escaping from the furnace this morning. Mrs. Wood, who was occupying the front chamber with her daughter, Mrs. Reid, fainted. Mr. Wood was called and found that fanning would not revive her. He could not detect an odor of gas but suspecting that was the problem opened the windows and doors below and that brought relief. His own head pained him severely and his daughter, who has been ill for a week was also much prostrated by the gas.

Funeral of Milford B. Smith

The sudden death of Milford, of Chardon, was due to an attack of pneumonia less than a week prior to his death. He was a prominent farmer and life-long resident of Chardon. He leaves a wife and three daughters, Mrs. Smith being a cousin of Mrs. Geo. A. Bates, of Painesville.

Fragments of Local History

In a recent interview with Mr. S. C. Hickok, we have some information about the earlier industries of this region. Mr. Hickok was born in Rutland Co., Vt., in August, 1817, and though now approaching his 80th year, is still both hale and vigorous in both body and mind. In his birth place Horace Greeley learned his trade, and Mr. Hickok remembers when a boy to have received the paper from the hands of Mr. Greeley, then a "printer's devil." Mr. Hickok has lived within the borders of Lake Co. since 1828, coming up the lake on a sail vessel and landing at the mouth of Grand River before any piers were built. At that time, there were only four steamers on the lake: Enterprise, Wm. Penn, Niagara, and Ohio. The old steamer, Walk-in-the-Water, having been lost in 1823. The ridges which were parallel to the waters of Lake Erie were found to furnish a quality of ore known as "bog ore," and iron being scarce and much needed, small smelting furnaces and forges sprang into being. Among the earlier plants was the Erie, afterwards called the Arcole Furnace in North Madison. This was located on Cunningham Creek in 1828 and 1829. Clyde furnace located on the Grand River, south of Unionville, and near the county line, was built in 1831 and used as late as 1836 or 37. Geauga Furnace, was also built on Grand River, on what was then known as the Lake road, now Erie street, of the county seat, and is the only plant of its kind that survived to the present time. Concord Furnace which was burned about 1835, was located on Bog Creek, in what is now known as Drake's Hollow. What was known as the Railroad Furnace, from the fact that the top house received its supplies over a tramway on trestle work extending from the high river-bluff over the roadway, was located on the farm of Mr. Wm. Blair in South Perry. There was a forge on the east branch of the Chagrin River near the residence of B. S. Upham, East Kirtland. Also, similar works in Concord near the LeRoy township line known as Cascade forge. Field's forge was located on Grand River, not far from what is known as Vrooman farm on the South Ridge. Paine's forge in LeRoy township was located on Paine's Creek, and was the last one of the kind to go into disuse and decay.

A distillery was on the little stream which crosses the road near Mr. Carpenter's in West Mentor. Painesville had its still a little north of E. L. House's steam laundry. Another was located to the west of the county infirmary building, known as the Arch Bridge distillery and supplied with water from the Emerson farm, now owned by Mr. Churchward. James Boyle operated a still for a few years in the late thirties, a little west of "Log Tavern" corners in Concord township.
