A Sad Misfortune – Something over 9 years ago, the steam saw mill of Mr. Benj. Foster, of Mentor, was entirely destroyed by fire. They rebuilt the mill and for several years have been constantly adding to its business and value, till it is regarded as one of the best mills in the country. Last Wed., the property was again consumed by fire. There was no insurance. We understand that Mr. Foster’s friends and neighbors are anxious that mill should be rebuilt.

Mr. C. H. Baker, son of O. Baker, of Perry, left home on Monday last for southern Missouri. He has been quite out of health for several months, and it is hoped that he may be restored by a residence in the mild, even climate of that state.

Surgical – On Tuesday, Dr. H. C. Beardslee, assisted by Dr. L. C. Brown, performed an important surgical operation on the arm of R. A. Barnes. Some years ago, while in a heated condition, he went into the water to bathe, the result of which was an eruption on his left arm between the elbow and the shoulder. When the arm was opened, seven pieces of bone from one to two inches long, were found detached and loose in the flesh. They were removed and it is thought the arm will soon heal and become sound.

A boiler explosion a few days ago at Wakeman resulted in the death of four men and brought heavy affliction and sorrow to a family in Perry. One of the men who died was Mr. Hunt, who for several years past has been in the employ of Sheriff Wire, as engineer, at his steam sawmill in Perry. Wakeman is a small town on the Lake Shore Railway, but a short distance west of Cleveland. He leaves a wife and two children without means of support. The citizens of Wakeman took charge of the remains, and presented to Mrs. Hunt $100. We learn that the generous citizens of Perry where the widow and children still remain are rendering them efficient aid.

Matthew S. Clapp
Mr. Clapp was born in Mentor, Feb. 1, 1808. His father was the late Hon. Orris Clapp, who was called by his neighbors to serve as Judge of the Court. In 1828 a great religious awakening arose in Mentor. It swept over to Kirtland, and down to Painesville. Elder Adamson Bentley, then of Warren, was the chief agent in this revival, assisted much by Sydney Rigdon, who was residing in Mentor and who, afterward, won a name under the banners of the Mormon prophet. Among the very first conversions was the attractive young man, M. S. Clapp. Young Clapp began his studies of the classics under the late Thomas Campbell who visited Mentor about this time. He learned Greek and Latin. At this same time, he was visiting the newly founded churches and increasing the number of converts. In the fall of 1830, he married Miss Alicia Campbell, sister of Alexander Campbell, late President of Bethany College. He spent some time in Bethany, West Va. He, also resided a year or more in West Middleton, Pa., with Matthew McKeeever, another brother-in-law. Then he returned to Mentor which became his permanent abode. Sad times came. His wife died and one by one all the children of his first marriage went before him down to rest. The last of them, Campbell Clapp, was killed in New York State, by the falling of a cattle train through a defective bridge. He was buried in Mentor. He lost a son in the Civil War. April 16, 1840, he married Miss Lucy Randall, of Mentor. She survives him with four children. The winter after their marriage, they spent in Pompey, Onondaga Co., N.Y. The next season he preached by invitation in the city of New York. While in the city, he received instruction in Hebrew under Lexias, a Hebraist of note, the very same, son of Abraham, who came to Kirtland, Ohio in 1830, and instructed the Mormons in the “unknown tongues.” The last few years of his life he spent in Detroit. His remains, accompanied by his family and his friend Colin Campbell, of Detroit, were brought home to Mentor. He was 64 yrs. old.

South Mentor – On Christmas day Mr. Wilber Hodges and Miss Nettie Harris were married. Later in the day, Mr. Charles Losey and Miss Alice Phelps were married.

He received his earliest schooling at the Mormon Temple, in Kirtland, then used for an academy, from which he entered Western Reserve College where he graduated August, 1844, just before reaching his 20th birthday. He then studied law at Greenville, Clarke Co., Ohio with General Bell, and was admitted to the bar at Columbus in Dec., 1846. He practiced law at Greenville for 6 years, when he moved to Dayton, Ohio. He practiced law in Dayton for five years. In Dec., 1858, Mr. Lyman moved from Dayton to New York. He abandoned the profession of the law under a conviction that it was his duty to engage in the gospel ministry. In Sept. 1860, Mr. Lyman entered Lane Theological Seminary at Cincinnati, and the following May was licensed to preach. In Dec., 1861, he was ordained by the Presbytery and accepted the chaplaincy of the Forty-first Reg. O.V.I. to which he had been invited by Col. Hazen, and moved with the Regt. into Kentucky. Due to ill health, he resigned after the evacuation of Corinth by the rebel forces. Regaining his health during the summer, he joined the 93rd Regt. O.V.I. at Dayton as Chaplain. He was in the field a hard six months, when his health again gave way and he once more resigned and returned to Ohio. For the next four and a half years until the spring of 1867, he resided at Walnut Hills as pastor of the Lane Seminary Church. Dec., 1867, he was engaged by the Euclid Ave. church as stated. Feb. 17, 1868, he became their pastor and was installed. Mr. Lyman married May 19, 1869, Miss Mary J. Burnham, of Painesville, who with their one child, a boy two years of age is left.

A Sad and Sudden Death - Charles W., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Avery, died at their residence on Mentor Avenue, April 5th, age 19 yrs. He was in full health and the forepart of the day was engaged in cutting wood, after which he got in a carriage and rode downtown. He had been warm and sweating and the day was cold and chilly, and it is supposed he suffered in consequence. He was at St. James’ Church in the evening and when returned home he complained of a sore throat. He had a fever chill on Tuesday which terminated in brain fever. He lived only four days.

the river at the harbor was probably an old Indian burial place. In 1840, when they dug the hole for the liberty pole, a human skeleton was exhumed. Other indications prove it clearly, as may be seen in the old public well, where the dirt has caved off bones may be seen protruding into the well.

Preserving Cut Flowers –
Sand is better than clear water for the preservation of house bouquets. White sand, not too course, is best. Fill the dishes nearly three-quarters full, and make it very wet to receive flowers. Flowers keep fresh longest if cut when the dew I on them, and fade soonest is cut when in a warm sun. The water that stands on top of the sand should be renewed every day; a pinch of salt will do no harm and may do good. Ohio Farmer

The death of Lyman S. Rider, at his home in this village, last Wednesday was shocking in its suddenness. He had been confined to the house for some weeks, with inflammatory rheumatism, but was apparently quickly recovering, being able to walk, and had risen from bed and dressed before breakfast, when he suddenly fainted, gasped and died a short time later. His death is attributed to a blood clot in the heart. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father. Chardon Republican

The occasion was the 80th birthday of Mrs. Mary Gordon, mother, grandmother, and grt. grandmother of the Gordon family, residing in the states of Ohio, Michigan, and Kansas. Mrs. Gordon was born in Florida, N.Y., and came to Ohio in 1832, and located at Willoughby. She has resided in Perry about twenty years—most of the time for the last eight years with her daughter, Mrs. Tyler. The golden wedding of Hugh and Mary Gordon was celebrated nearly twelve years ago. Mr. Gordon died nearly seven years ago, in his 80th year. There are now living among the descendant, a goodly number of whom were present at the reunion, five children, twenty-four grandchildren, and twenty grt. grandchildren. Ashtabula, May 13th, 1872 – Clara Hubbard, eldest daughter of A. F. Hubbard, died last Monday, after an illness of about 48 hours. Sylvester Brown, of Saybrook was proved guilty of forgery in the last term of court. The mystery which has excited the people of Ashtabula Co. for the past three weeks was solved last Sunday. The body of Serano Smith, the missing man from Rome Township, was found last Sunday buried in a manure pile by the barn on his premises. His skull was broken in on the back, probably done by an axe. Ghost in Conneaut, Ohio Conneaut has a ghost, or something akin, to it, in a blood-stained window in a house about three miles south of the borough, on the main road leading to Monroe and the southern towns in the County. The subject of the speculation is located at the farm house of Mr. R. K. Wright, and where some two years ago, one of the most terrible tragedies on record occurred. Mr. Wright at that time killed his wife in apparent cold blood, attempted to kill two daughters, fired the house,
and afterward put an end to his life by hanging himself in the barn a few rods distant. The sensation now is that upon a window pane in the room in which Mr. W slept, blood spots appear, and are continually increasing in intensity. The spot, however, are visible to some and invisible to others. Erie Gazette

Geauga Republican of the 15th – Mr. Daniel Nutt, a well-to-do farmer of Russell, recently

p. 2 Geneva Times – Ezra Healy died at his home in Austinburg Sunday, May 12th. He was born in Rhode Island Dec. 25th, 1776, and moved with his father and family to Worcester, Otsego Co., N.Y., then almost an unbroken wilderness in the year 1800. There he married Dec. 7, 1802, to Dolly Bartholemew, who survives him, age 80 yrs., 6 mos. They came to this country in 1811, settled in Harpersfield, on a tract of land near the residence of the late Isaac Bartholemew, Peter Bartholemew, and Robert Edmunds. After making considerable improvements, he lost his far, but for his improvements received 100 acres of wild land in the south part of Harpersfield, south of the River, which he cleared and improved, and where he lived till 1843, when with his two unmarried daughters, Elizabeth and Nancy, he removed to Austinburg, living with them at that place until his death. He was the father of eight children, two sons and six daughters; six of whom survive him. Mr. Healy was a soldier in the war of 1812, serving in two campaigns. His death was sudden—a going to sleep like one who rests are the end of a weary day.

Three Buffalo men were drowned near Erie last Sunday: Richard Keefe, Dennis Shea, and George Riggs. They took a sail boat accompanied by Thomas Franklin and went out about seven miles. The sail “jibbed” and the boat capsized, throwing all into the water. According to Franklin, the only survivor, Shea and Keefe soon gave signs of exhaustion and Keefe was the first to disappear. Shea was next washed off and sank. The boat was finally righted by Riggs and Franklin, but in doing so they were both thrown some distance from the boat, and Riggs could not regain it. Franklin reached the beach about 3 o’clock in the morning and made it home by seven o’clock.

Portage Co. Democrat – Mr. Dexter Davis, of Edinburg, was in the field taking care of his stock when he saw a bull threatening to attack a child on a fence. Mr. Davis for the protection of the child, tried to drive the bull with a pitchfork, when the bull attacked him at close quarters and in a fearful rage. He grasped the bull by the horns, and was tossed three times into the air. His clothes were totally torn off of him and in shreds. The cries of the child attracted Mr. Hugh Wilson to the rescue, who grabbed a pole and went to the help of Davis. When the bull took after Wilson, Davis was able to get to his feet. Then they both kept attacking the bull until they got him into his stable, when Davis went in alone and tied him up. Mr. Davis had no bones broken.

Albert Farris, an employee of the Union Fence Co., fell through a trap on Wednesday and fractured his arm. Dr. Root was called upon.

The Mayor has appointed Thos. Killcawley as Assistant Marshal of his village.

Elyria Democrat – Three old citizens of Lorain Co. died, whose united ages were two hundred and ninety-three years, viz: Father Bennett, of Sheffield, age 104; Josiah Barnard of Pittsfield, age 95; and Joseph Quigley, of Amherst, age 95.

A boy about 15 yrs. of age, named John Anderson, residing with his widowed mother at Youngstown, Ohio, was drawn into the couplings of the Enterprise Rolling Mill, at that place last week and was terribly mangled. He was still alive at last accounts.

A young man by the name of Seymour G. Coburn, was killed at the Willoughby station Tuesday morning while at work on the dump cars. By a sudden movement, he was thrown on the track, one car passing over his body and killing him instantly. He was about 21 yrs. old, a resident of Concord. His death will be a sad blow to his aged parents. His remains were moved to Concord for interment.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Rockwell, who for nearly a year past have been guests of their children in Chicago, returned last week, and are once more at their residence on State Street.

The fine residence of Mr. Almond Church, of Concord, came near being burned up on the 15th. The efforts of the family and of the workmen of Mr. E. Church’s Carriage Factory which is near, soon put out the fire. There had been no fire in that part of the house for two or three days. It is supposed that a mouse carried a match between the plastering and the roof and caused the fire.

Madison – About two months ago, Mr. H. W. Blakely left here to seek a homestead in Nebraska. His first stopping place was at Simeon Stacy’s, in Jefferson Co., Nebraska, who left Madison two years ago and located there. Mr. Blakely left his family at Mr. Stacy’s and walked in one and a half days’ time, fifty miles to Clay Co., township No. 5, where Mr. Ezra Isham and others from Madison took homesteads last year, among the first settlers of the township. Mr. Blakely immediately selected his homestead and set out for the land office at Beatrice, seventy-five miles distant, where he arrived the second day after starting. From there he returned to Mr. Stacy’s, and bought a team, wagon, stove, & c. and drove through with his family to Mr. Isham’s in one day. He then went 15 miles after hay. He got help, put up his house, and in about six weeks’ time of leaving here, commenced keeping house. Better pioneering than this may have been done by others, but I think this worthy of note, especially of one who has a musket ball in his body received at the battle of Chickamauga.

Ashtabula, May 21, 1871 – Mr. Griswold, of Conneaut, was buried today.

Mr. Solomon Kline, of Bazetta, lost a house, barn and grain house to fire on the 25th. The premises were occupied by Mr. G. Lynn.

Married on May 29th, Mr. James A. Allen, of Painesville, to Miss Ellen Annette Hodges, of Mentor.

Died of consumption, May 16th, at the residence of Mr. D. A. Mackin, Painesville, Mrs. Hettie Haywood Wyckoff, wife of William Wyckoff, age 62 years. She was a great sufferer for many years. She was a native of New York state, but had been a resident of Ohio for 35 years. For the last three years, she lived with and was tenderly cared for by Mrs. Makin, her niece, at whose home she died. She has left a husband and an only son. Her son, David Wyckoff, is a wholesale dry goods merchant in Cleveland.

The partnership of Blackmore & Baker (Merchant Tailors) will be closed as of July 1. All persons indebted to the firm should call and settle by that time. Wm. Blackmore, Painesville

A project is on foot to make Gildersleeve Mountain near Willoughby a place of public pleasure resort.

Mr. D. T. Casement and wife have returned from California where they had passed the winter.

Judge M. C. Canfield bought not long ago the place now occupied by Mrs. Hurlbut, three doors west of the Court House upon Main St. The Judge intends to move to this place from his home in Chardon sometime in the coming fall.

The boarders at Daniel Bennett’s, who not long ago purchased a croquet set, have developed among themselves a first-rate club. A general invitation it extended to all.

Mr. Ben Stuart, a former townsman, who of late years is a resident of Cambridge, Ill., is in town and will stay several months to visit old friends.

C. T. Snedeker, formerly of Thompson, who has been for three years a clerk in Morrison’s Dry Goods Store, Ashtabula, has entered into partnership with Mr. Fred Kafka, of New York, and opened a dry goods store, next door to M. G. Dick’s at the above place.

The body of Mr. Wm G. Williams, of Cleveland, who drowned last Tuesday in the lake, has not yet been found. The boat and the clothing of the man were found the next day about two miles from Euclid Creek. It is supposed he was fishing and drowned while bathing. Any one obtaining information about the body leading to its discovery, will confer a great favor if they will send word to Sherwin, Williams & Co., 126 Superior St., Cleveland.

Unionville
The early visitor to Unionville can scarcely arrive so early as not to find Mr. George W. Lawton, one of the most respected merchants, either ready or getting ready for the day. Mr. Lawton keeps a drug store, flour and feed store, a meat market and is the agent for sewing machines, etc. The Lawton family are Massachusetts people, having landed there 173 years ago. The subject of the present sketch was engaged in business for some time in Boston, and, afterwards, was with Stewart, in New York.

One of the oldest and handsomest houses of the village is the residence of Stephen Warner. Forty-five years ago, it was erected by Judge Tappan, and in one of the upper rooms, school used to be kept in the olden days.

Unionville has an unlucky young genius named Edward Wheeler who seems to have an accident a week. This last time a horse kicked the hand of a man holding a long sharp knife, which flew up and nearly severed Wheeler’s hand off. Dr. Sherwood attended him.

Mr. A. J. Custin, of Unionville, lost his house to fire last fall.

The hotel at Unionville is kept by Mr. W. A. Webster. He can blow “conch shell” with the best of them, and probably for heard for a distance of 12 miles.

Geneva
One of Geneva’s rising mechanics, is Mr. A. S. Wheeler, Harness maker. Mr. Wheeler’s father lives in Unionville; he himself has been four years in Geneva. His store is stocked with buffalo robes, trunks, and all kinds of saddlery hardware. He employs four hands and sells annually 200 – 300 harnesses, and some 200 trunks.

In Mentor, a man named Hodges has a pretty garden but an ugly dog. The dog ran out into the road and bit the hand of this writer as he was walking by.

Willoughby Plains
Mr. Murch sold his farm of 25 acres to Frank Cole. Mr. Murch had an auction last Saturday and sold his personal property as, he with his family, intend to start for California the 15th of this month. He had started from Maine and settled here, but is again taken with the western fever. We are all sorry to have him go.

Ashtabula
Mrs. H. F. Giddings, of East Ashtabula, broke her leg a short time ago. Mr. F. Rounce, also of East Village, was seriously injured by the kick from a cow he was milking. Miss Ann Arthur, of Plymouth, is suffering from a very serious spinal injury, received by a fall from a buggy down an embankment last week. George Maggart was thrown from a handcar in Dorset recently, narrowly escaping being maimed for life.

Willoughby has taken another step in advance—she has built a lock- up; it is situated in the rear of Mr. A. R. Hurd’s office. Mr. Hurd is distinctively one of the most enterprising men of Willoughby. A few years ago, Mr. Hurd, whose father came in 1820 from the east, went to Cleveland with a small amount of capital, fifty cents. He made good use of it, and in 1848 he entered into partnership with Mr. Sharp, whom he bought out in 1853. Mr. J. W. Stewart is a long time respected harness maker in Willoughby. Among the earlier residents of our town, may be mentioned Curtis Brown, who came from Long Island in 1813. His son, Mr. A. L. Brown, carries on a grocery, meat market, and seed store—which store he owns, as well as a private residence on Euclid Street. Willoughby has a new citizen, Mr. E. G. Bonnell, a gentleman recently from Oberlin, but originally from Blantford, Mass., which he left in 1825. Mr. Bonnell was with Mr. Morse in Kirtland, when that gentlemen’s life was threatened by “Black Bill,” Mormon Smith’s brother.

Madison Press – An only son of Horace Thurber, age 3 yrs., residing south of Unionville, was accidentally drowned a few days ago by falling into a well that had been dug to water cattle. The mother had missed the child about 15 minutes, and on searching discovered the lifeless remains.

From the Saginaw, Mich., Daile Enterprise of June 19:
We had the pleasure yesterday, of taking by the hand Gen. D. Northrop, of Mentor, Ohio, well known as one of the early settlers of Michigan, and as a Brigadier General under Governor Mason. Though 78 years old, Gen. N. is as active as a well-preserved man of 50. His friends are enjoying his visit and find him as vigorous in mind and body as when he marshaled the militia of the country many years ago.

Sunstroke
Not every man that falls unconscious on a hot day has sunstroke. Go at once to the fallen man, open his shirt-bosom, and lay the hand upon his chest; if the skin is cool, you may rest assured that whatever may be the trouble, it is not sunstroke. If, on the contrary, the skin is burning hot, the case is clearly sunstroke, and no time should be lost. The patient must be carried to the nearest pump, stripped to the waist, and bucketful after bucketful of cold water be dashed over him until consciousness begins to return or the intense heat of the surface decidedly abates.

Henry Corlett, baggage master of the mail train, on the C & M. R.R., was seriously, if not fatally injured last Friday evening. He was standing on the top of one of the cars as the train was in motion, and was struck by the bridge about 6 miles west of Aurora Station, knocking him senseless. Upon arrival at Aurora, the accident was discovered and the injured man removed for medical attention. Mahoning Register Geneva Times – The house occupied by Mr. A. Wilson and belonging to the estate of Alanson Woodard, on the South Ridge, about a mile from the village was set on fire by the carelessness of some boys with firecrackers. The family was away, but the neighbors managed to save most of the household goods.

Ashtabula Telegraph – Maj. J. A. Prentice was appointed Deputy Marshal last Tuesday. The Major’s experience as sheriff of the county in former years, will no doubt be of advantage to him. A black snake 6’2” long and 5” in circumference was killed on the farm of C. H. Cook, in Saybrook, last week. Mr. Ross killed the snake and said that several years ago, while he and his brother were near the same place, they had killed one of these monsters which measured 6 ½ feet long.

Brutal Murder in Parma Township
Cleveland Herald of the 3rd

Conrad Schweitzer, of German origin, lives about seven miles from Cleveland in Parma Township, on the direct road to Parma. With him and his aged wife dwelt Henry Walter, son-in-law, his daughter, the wife of said Henry Walter, and Betty Walter, daughter of Henry Walter and grandchild of Schweitzer. Saturday morning, all the household save the old lady and her little granddaughter had gone to the city. The old lady having occasion to go to the meadow some distance from the house had been absent but a few moments when she heard the child screaming. Rushing back, she found the child with her clothes on fire, enveloped in the flames. She threw water on her and put out the flames, most of the clothing burned; the child suffering from the burns. Before the child died a few hours late, she charged the crime to two men, butchers, from Royalton, who had some enmity against her grandfather. One of them held her and the other poured oil on her and lit it, then leaving their victim to be burned alive. No punishment can do such fiends justice.

Concord – The inhabitants of Drake’s Hollow were thrown into a state of considerable excitement caused by the poisoning of the two youngest children of C. W. Lamunyan; the oldest about 4 and the youngest about 2 years. A neighbor of theirs was troubled by flies, and put some arsenic in a saucer of water on the table...thinking she would put it out of reach if any of the family came. While she was engaged in another part of the house, Mrs. Lamunyan called in with two children. They went to the other room unobserved, and being thirsty, drank the water in the saucer. The dose proved too strong and soon they threw it up; doses of oil and white of eggs were given, and they soon recovered; although the doctor thought for a time the youngest would not live.

The neighbors state that the stench from the body when found, was so strong that the murder might have been committed two or three days previous.

Geneva Times — Volunteers Free Homestead Colony. This is the name of a colony now forming at Geneva, Ohio, for the purpose of locating on public lands of the United States, under the Homestead law. The recent modification in that law in favor of soldiers and sailors reduces the term of occupation before obtaining a title by the length of their terms of service. So that in most instances, honorably discharged soldiers may in 12 to 24 months obtain a title to 100 acres of land worth from $5 to $30 per acre. It is expected this colony will be composed of about two hundred families. Former soldiers of this and adjoining counties should avail themselves of the unusual advantages of this colony.

Lake Erie Seminary – During the past vacation, while the building was unoccupied by teachers and pupils, work was being done to put in steam heating apparatus. Every room in the building is supplied with pipes, through which when cold weather comes, the steam will circulate, provide a safe and comfortable means of warmth. In the public rooms the apparatus is neatly ornamented with gilt, while in the dormitories they are smaller and entirely plain. Judge Hitchcock paid for the entire apparatus.

During the heavy thunderstorm last Thursday, an elm tree standing within about 20’ of the barn of Mr. Potts, in LeRoy, was struck by lightning. This is the second time the barn of Mr. Potts has been saved by a tree acting as a lightning rod.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Alexander (nee Alice Steele) now residents of Titusville, Pa. have been spending a few weeks at the beautiful home of Mrs. Alexander’s parents. One evening they attended a party given by Mrs. D. T. Casement on Wood St. Contrary to their usual custom, they walked home at 12 o’clock. They were being followed by two men, who after a time Mr. A stopped and asked them to pass on which they refused to do. The ruffians continued to walk on either side of the couple, when they reached Mr. Steele’s house they went in and the ruffians remained at the gate. Shortly afterward the went around to the side of the house and tried the door. Mrs. Dr. Palmer went to the door and asked who was there. They asked if the mistress of the house was home and were told “yes and the master of the house, too.” Mr. A was preparing a warm reception for them. Hearing his voice and footsteps, the two men took off.

An exchange suggests the idea that every farmer should have his name painted on his gate, fence, or somewhere around his premises to make it easier to find a destination without stopping often to ask questions.

Death of a Former Citizen
Dr. L. H. Kelley, a former citizen of Painesville, died at his residence in Owatonna, Minn., on the 9th instant, at age 64. From the Rochester (Minn.) Post:
Dr. L. H. Kelley, who died at his residence at Owatonna on Monday, was buried in this city in Oakwood Cemetery on Wednesday. The Masonic Lodge conducted ceremonies at the grave side. Dr. Kelley was one of the early residents of Rochester. He moved here in the fall of 1857 and built Kelley’s Block, which was the first business building, of brick, erected in this place. He engaged in the publication of the Republican in partnership with Mr. W. H. Mitchell and son; after in 1863, moved to Owatonna and was engaged in the publication of papers at that place, Northfield, and Faribault, till about a year ago when his health failed, after which he again moved to Owatonna. He leaves a large family.

Miles W. Carter, of McMinnville, Tennessee, formerly of LeRoy Township, is now on a visit to his old home and numerous circle of friends. He left here nearly three years ago, with his family, and engaged in agriculture at the above place. They are well pleased with their new home. Mr. C. thinks the climate of Tennessee unrivalled.

Our former townsman, G. R. Lee, of Yorkville, Ill., was in town a day or two last week. He has recently become a married man and with his bride was making a tour of the East.

Geneva Times Mr. Bennett, living in Austinburg, between Henderson’s and the turnpike, had a run in with his bull in the field the other day. Mr. B. ended up senseless and was rescued by neighbors. His clothes were nearly all torn off his body and he was bruised and raked in a terrible manner. The horns of the bull were short and blunt, or Mr. B. would have been gored to death. We learned last week that he is recovering.

Monster Bones – Most of our readers will remember that quite an excitement was created in Aug., 1871, by the report that the bones of an animal larger than any known in modern history, had been found at Montville, Geauga Co. Specimens of these bones were sent to Prof. Whittley, who was unable to classify it, but decided it was not of the elephant or mastodon species. He has sent two ribs to Prof. Aggazie for his classification.

Mrs. Walker’s mother died of shock when she heard of her daughter’s death. Six hundred lunatics in all phases of insanity were roaming at large. The citizens of Newburg threw open their doors and took in the sick and such others as were harmless and could be trusted to their charge. Offers were made and accepted to take twenty to forty people each at the Marine Hospital, Central police station, county jail, Wilson St. and Charity Hospitals and other places.

Marble Tablets for Soldiers
Madison has adopted a very pretty design for the soldiers who fell in the Rebellion. Each soldier who enlisted from this township and died in the service, has a marble tablet neatly framed and set in the walls of the Town Hall, with his name and place of death cut thereon. The total number is 37, making two rows of 18 tablets with the odd one above the rows in the center.

Died
In Thompson, Sept. 25, of peritonitis, Eva Jane, youngest child of George A. Moseley, age 6 years, 7 mos., 8 days. Mrs. Moseley died a few months ago.

Obituary
Died in Painesville, Oct. 3rd, Frances Eugenie, only daughter of Bliss and Lydia Wilcox, after a most distressing illness of five weeks, age 16 yrs. Her disease was unyielding typhoid fever. Charles Wilcox, the only remaining child, was summoned home from Kenyon College during his sister's illness.

Willoughby – Geo. Barker starts this week for Dakota, having sold his property at auction last Saturday, and many others are going in the spring. John Andrews, from there, is visiting his friends on the Plains, and speaks well of the country; he has been there seven years.

Gen. Garfield spoke at College Hall on the 3rd instant. He was to speak in the park, but since his voice was very hoarse, it was decided to move the event indoors into the big hall.

Gen. Garfield at Madison
Last Thursday afternoon, a procession of citizens on horse and in carriages headed by the fine Madison Brass Band and under charge of Col. Fisk, as marshal, moved out to meet their distinguished speaker, Gen. Garfield who was en route from Painesville, accompanied by an escort of Capt. Kilbourne's Grant Cavalry. A speaker's stand had been erected on the fine park around which seats had been provided for a large number.

Married in Painesville, Oct. 2, at the residence of the bride's father, Charles S. Haggart, of Willoughby, to Miss Eva M., only daughter of Harvey Cram.

Death of Col. Henry C. Deming

Hon. H. C. Deming, was quite well known to some of our citizens. Col. Deming was a grandson of Gen. Champion who was a citizen of Painesville in its early days.

From the Harford (Ct.) Courant of the 12th instant: Henry C. Demining died Wednesday. He had been ill health this summer but had recently returned from the sea shore somewhat improved. He died from an attack of apoplexy. Mr. Deming was born at Middle Haddam. In 1815 he graduated at Yale College, where he won distinction as a writer and a speaker in 1836, at the Harvard law school in 1838. He was a member of the State Legislature in the House in 1859 to 1861, being speaker of the House in the latter year. Prior to the war, he was elected mayor of the city which position he continued in for six years. In 1861, he was made Colonel of the Twelfth Regiment and participated in the capture of New Orleans, of which city he was appointed Mayor by Gen. Butler. In 1863, he resigned the office due to ill health, returned home, and retired from the army. He was elected to the thirty-eighth congress, where he served on the committee on military affairs. He was one of the congressmen appointed to attend the funeral of Lincoln, and he was one of the earliest friends of Gen. Grant in congress; and it was he who was instrumental in securing him the rank of general.

Early Days – from the Cleveland Leader of the 17th:

Forty years ago, I was landed from the Sheldon Thompson, a lake steamboat on the end of the pier at Fairport with two trunks. I was on my west to earn my bread and butter as a lawyer. I was twelve days on my way from Lanesboro,
Oct. 24, 1872
Berkshire Co. Mass. to Fairport, by stagecoach, railroad, canal line boat, canal packet boat, and steamboat. The boat passed on to Cleveland, taking the friend who had started with me from Berkshire, now Judge Humpreyville, of Medina, Ohio, and the friends I had made on the boat, among them Judge Mills, of Cleveland, who urged me to settle there as it was sure to the largest place on the lake in Ohio. But I was ticketed for Chagrin, now Willoughby, and for a place in the law office of my good friend, Judge Lapham. When on the pier, at Fairport, sad and lonely in a strange land, a man came up and said he was going to Painesville, and had a wagon and would take me and my trunks. It was three miles to Painesville and the road seemed very long. I was set down at Philips Hotel. From my window in the morning I looked out upon the beautiful home of the late Colonel Lemuel Storrs, now owned by Mr. Avery.

p. 2 The Horse Epidemic – The Canadian horse disease or epidemic so called from its late first appearance there, has spread to the States, and for the past 10 days has been raging fearfully in all the principal Eastern cities. In New York, not less than 25,000 horses have been affected at the same time, and travel by stage and horse cars has been for days almost discontinued. In Rochester, Syracuse, and Buffalo it was still worse and for several days stopped the street cars. It is not known if the disease will spread from the cities to the towns. Farmers and horse owners should be sure the stables are clean and fumigate them with burning tar. A prominent veterinary physician writes that this not a new disease; it is a form of influenza which has occurred frequently in the U.S., as it often has in different portions of Europe. If the horse is taken care of and allowed complete rest, the disease should pass in about ten days.

Another Pioneer Gone
Mr. Dudley Bailey died in Madison, October 20, after a long illness which he bore with greatest fortitude. He was born in Groton, Conn., Sept. 22, 1800. He was one of a family of ten, who all lived to have families. He was the last survivor. Early in life he engaged in manufacturing leather and came to Ohio in 1828, locating near Grand River. He returned to the East in 1829, and married Miss J. Hills, of Lenox, Berkshire co., Mass. He moved to Ohio, making a home for his bride in a part of the building he occupied for business. Failing health required a change of business, when he moved to a farm on the South Ridge. Ten years ago, he built a fine residence in the village of Madison, where with his daughter and only child, Mrs. J. P. Smead, he spent the remainder of his life.
