with their mother removed to Livingstone Co., Missouri, about 12 years ago. Two months ago, she made a visit to her relatives and friends in LeRoy. While spending Thanksgiving with her Painesville friends, she had a slight stroke of paralysis, which together with other influences, terminated her life.

Death of an Old Citizen
Died in Painesville, Dec. 27, after a lingering illness, Matthew L. Root, age 63 yrs. He had been a resident of Painesville 44 yrs, and was born in Granville, Mass. in 1814. He graduated from the Westfield Academy in Massachusetts. He clerked for a large mercantile house in Harford, Conn., a year or two, and in the spring of 1834, being then about 19 years of age, removed with his father, Col. Lyman Root, and uncle, James Root, to Painesville, Ohio. Soon after, Col. Root opened a store upon the site of the present business block and residence of the deceased. D. Matthew was connected with his father in the store until 1842, when he formed a co-partnership, with his brother-in-law, B. W. Fletcher, in the lake forwarding and commission business at Fairport. About a year after, he purchased the interest of Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Robert McCormick was admitted to partnership. The firm of Root & McCormick did a large business for several years and was dissolved by mutual consent. Then Mr. Root carried on the business in his own name. He was, also, Express Agent and Justice of the Peace. During the fourteen years he remained at Fairport, he built and owned the schooner Mat Root and the schooner Granville, and a small craft called the Buckeye, and at one time owned half the schooner Troy. In 1856, he engaged in the grocery business in Painesville. Four years ago, his failing health compelled him to retire from active business. He had several times been elected to Council; had served as Recorder, and in 1865 was elected Mayor of Painesville. In 1839, he had married Miss Emily Andrews, also, of Granville, Mass., who survives him. He was a Democrat and a Mason.

p. 2 Pioneer Sketch – David Abbot
In 1804 Mr. Abbot built a vessel of 30 or 35 tons’ burden. He was his own builder, and the rigging was made at home in Chagrin, and part of the sails was spun and wove at home. He sold it later to a Mr. Chapin. It was afterwards chartered by army from Maumee to Detroit and while passing through the channel, near Malden, it was taken by the British. Mr. Abbot being a surveyor and traveling on business, had become acquainted with the land over a large extent of country. In 1808, he went to the Fire Lands and built a house for Mr. Kline. But it will be remembered that he had been here in 1801 or 1802, when he had breakfast with a squaw for a cook and all was Indian territory then.

Aaron Olmsted, an old East India Sea Captain had his residence in East Hartford, Connecticut. He at one time owned 30,000 acres of land on the Western Reserve. Captain Olmstead died about 1807, and by his last will and testament, he gave this land to his three sons: Horace Bigelow, Aaron Franklin, and Charles Hyde Olmstead “to the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten forever.” This entailment made the land wholly unsalable, and in pursuance of their petition an act was passed Jan. 7, 1813, for their relief. By this act, Mary L. Olmsted, Levi Goodwin, and Caleb Goodwin, were appointed trustees with power to sell and invest for the benefit of the devisees. Mr. Olmstead owned a large tract of land in the vicinity of Willoughby. Mr. Abbot foresaw that the settlement of the country about there would be necessarily checked by the transaction and sold his mills and other property in Chagrin (Willoughby) to a man by the name of Wirt. He then went and purchased 1800 acres in the township of Avery (now known as Milan) and Mrs. Abbot moved his family onto his land in 1810. Mr. Abbot’s four children were all born before they left Chagrin.

Mr. C. H. Greer left Tuesday morning for LaFayette College, Pa., where he will take a full course of studies, with a view to the profession of Civil Engineer.

Snow Tunnel
Among the heavy snow drifts piled up in all sections by the late storm was one in South Thompson, of such great depth that it could not be ditched or “deep cut,” and so it was tunnelled, making a track through it sufficiently broad and high for the passage of teams—the length of the tunnel being sixty feet! The tunnel remained open to the travelling public several days, when the heavy body of snow above crushed it in. The like of this tunnel has never been known in this country.

Death of J. J. Pratt
The death of Mr. John J. Pratt, of this place, occurred at the Newburgh Hospital for the Insane, January 13th. He was a native of Granby, Ct., and came to Painesville some ten or eleven years ago, where he has since been quite extensively engaged in the sale of pianos and other musical instrument, having an establishment in the Stockwell House block.

Candlemas Day
Feb. 2, being Candlemas Day, on account of its legendary connection with the winter, was of course a day of more than usual interest and brought to mind the couple of the old Scottish ballad:
If Candlemas, is fair and clear,
There’ll be twa winters i’ the year.
In this connection, too, was the old ground hog tradition—familiar to everyone. There was no sun on Feb. 2, so, of course, no shadow. So There’ll nae be twa winters i’ the year.

The children of David and Mary (Brown) Abbott were Benjamin W., who was four years old when he and his mother arrived in Chagrin, and Mary O. Abbott, who received the Indian ceremony of naming, were born in New York state. She married Francis D. Parrish, of Sandusky, and died in 1838. Lucy Abbott, born in Chagrin, married Guy Stevens, of Milan. Sally Abbott, born in Chagrin, married John B. Demund of Milan. Mr. Abbott having disposed of his property in Chagrin, as before mentioned, sold a portion of his purchase to Jared Ward, one of the first settlers at the marsh settlement in Mentor. He moved his family on the land he bought of Abbott in 1809, and is said that Ward and his family were the first settlers on the Fire Lands. In 1810, Mr. Abbott made preparations to move to his new home on the Fire Lands. He loaded a boat, and his wife and the two youngest children (the oldest were in Rome, N.Y., at school) they left the mouth of the Chagrin River, with two men to manage the open boat—Mr. Abbot intending to join them at Euclid and take charge of the boat, he assisted in driving his cattle as far as that place. A storm came up and the boat put in at Euclid, losing most of the provisions. Mrs. Abbot and the men worked all night saving what they could from the wreck. Mr. Abbot arrived during the night and while Mrs. Abbot cooked breakfast, he went to Cleveland for assistance. The boat went to Cleveland for repairs. They family stayed on the beach for a week, then went to Cleveland and stayed with the family of Judge Walworth about another week. They once again set sail and arrived at the mouth of the Huron River. The strong winds had made a bar of sand at the mouth of the river and it had to be dug through before the boat could be got into the river. Arriving at their destination and camped out most of the summer. In the fall, they moved into their house, which was twenty feet square. In an old Indian clearing, formerly occupied by the Moravian missionaries, Mr. Abbot sowed 25 or 30 acres of wheat. In 1811, Mr. Abbot built the first frame barn on the Fire Lands. It was 72 x 40 feet, a large barn for that day. It was used for Fourth of July and other general celebrations when people would come on horseback from 20 miles around.

The trial of Rev. Dr. Dobbs, charged with extreme cruelty to his wife and family, and conduct unbecoming to a gentleman, much less a minister of the gospel, took place at the M. E. Church in this place on last week. The details were presented (he threatened his wife on various occasions and referred to her as a hell-hound, etc. and attacked his 18 yr. old son), and the verdict was that he was suspended from the ministry until the meeting of the Erie conference, at which time he will be tried.

Death of a Former Citizen
General James H. Paine, was for many years a citizen of this place. He moved with his family from here to Milwaukee in 1848, where with his son, he continued his law practice.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel
Gen. Jas. H. Paine died at his home on Prospect Ave. very suddenly and peacefully. He had been an invalid about 15 yrs. Gen. Paine, the father of the late Hortensius J. Paine, and the late Byron Paine, associate justice of the State Supreme Court, leaves his aged wife and an only daughter, Mrs. Chas. C. Paine, together with a large circle of relatives. Born in Connecticut, one of a large family, he was cast upon his own resources at an early age. After residing in Vermont for a number of years, he traveled west and settled in Painesville, Ohio. He gained an education and became a lawyer. The name of his law firm was later Jas. H. Paine & Sons. He was an abolitionist. He and he son brought the constitutionality of the Fugitive State Law to an issue before the State Supreme Court and achieved a decision in their favor. At the outbreak of the war of the rebellion, his son Byron, had been called to serve as associate justice of the State Supreme Court, which place he resigned and volunteered to fight as a private in the ranks. The deceased was obliged to retire from professional life due to being protracted by epileptic fits, and softening of the brain which caused him to grow childish. Gen. Paine was 87 yrs. 5 mos. old when he died.

Personal
Thomas Richmond, one of the early citizens and businessmen of this section is spending several days in town. He was the founder and builder of Richmond City, which for a few years connected with Fairport, made it one of the most active business points on the south shore of the lake. The closing of the canal set the tide against it, and the railroads completed the work of making the splendid harbor for years, little more than a dead waste of waters. He was, for many years since leaving here, an active business man in Chicago, but has now retired from business, and resides quietly on a farm near Woodstock, Vt. He is about 83 yrs. old.

Sketch of Wm. W. Turner
Mr. Wm. W. Turner died on Feb. 27, at his home in Marion, Allen Co., Ind., of a complication of diseases, at the advance age of 79 yrs., 8 mos., 8 days. Mr. Turner was born in Madison Co., N.Y., on June 19, 1799, having been the first white child born in that county. He lived on the farm where he was born until 1832, when he moved to this county, locating in Willoguhby (then part of Cuyahoga Co.) upon a farm purchased by him of Chauncey Fuller Sr. and now owned by Chauncey Fuller Jr. Mr. Tuner lived in this county 20 yrs. and in April, 1852, moved to Marion Township, Allen Co., Indiana, which was then just

South Madison, March 4, 1879
Quite a number of young men have left this vicinity since last fall for the west. Most of them have located in Nebraska and Minnesota. Bion Stocking, only son and child of the late J. S. Stocking left for Nebraska, the 22nd ultimo. He has purchased a farm of 80 acres in Jefferson County. His mother starts in a few days to join his as a housekeeper. He has contracted for building a house 14 x 22 feet, one and a half stories, for $125. Their location will be near Browerville, some ten miles from Fairbury, the county seat.

Mr. Noah Pitcher, who lately buried his wife, has rented his farm to Henry Mack. Pitcher expects to make his home with his son, Oliver Pitcher, in Unionville.

Middle Ridge, March 8, 1879
Rev. O. N. Fletcher left town today for a visit to his brother in Erie.

The body of Mr. Lonson Brooks, a former citizen of Madison, was received here and interred Thursday. Mr. Brooks was born in Manchester, Vt., Dec. 19, 1795, came to Madison with his father’s family in March, 1816, and settled on the farm now owned by his descendants. In 1836, he moved to Berlin, Erie Co., In 1853, he returned again to Madison, where he resided until two years ago, when he went to live with his daughter in Michigan.

block, north side of Main St., of which it will occupy the second and third stories.

The removal of Mr. J. H. Merrill to Willoughby, necessitates a further change in the labor department of the Telegraph office—that of filling the place of Frank H. Merrill, who accompanies his father to his new location. For several years, he has been an employee in the office.

Mrs. Charles A. Wheelock, of Boston, is home for a long visit. She has been in Philadelphia where she has benefited from medical treatment under the care of a celebrated physician.

Opening of the Bathes Dr. Young has opened his bath establishment to the public. Medicinally they were pronounced very successful by those who use them for that purpose as well as a great luxury to those who resort to them as a means of rest and refreshment.

Masonic
The Eagle Commandery Knight Templars some months since rented for a term of years the third story of the Wilcox block to be fitted up for a hall.
Later, Temple Lodge and Painesville Chapter had made arrangements to become joint occupants with the Knight Templars.

Death of an Old Pioneer Samuel Taylor, of LeRoy, died this week. He was among the early settlers and pioneers of this section.

New Law Firm
Messrs. A. A. Amidon and F. J. Jerome have become associated in the practice of law. Their office will be the one now occupied by Mr.
Amidon, in the Moodey Block, Corner of Main and St. Clair Streets.

A Sad Death

Miss Jennie E. McBride, aged about 17 years, died very suddenly Wednesday morning of last week, at the residence of her brother, George McBride, in Perry. She had the symptoms of malignant scarlet fever for two days and died.

Change of Base
Mr. J. H. Merrill, our late partner, and for over a quarter of a century connected with the Telegraph, has purchased the Willoughby Gazette, and removes this week to that village to assume the duties of that new position.

In the Warren Tribune, we see that Mr. and Mrs.
J. W. Little recently celebrated their crystal wedding (15 yrs.) anniversary at their residence in Newton Falls, where they have resided since their marriage. They have a son and a daughter.
Miss Alma, the young daughter of the house, provided the music. Mrs. Little was Gertrude Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, of Madison.

Madison
Mr. John Hogaboan, an old and much respected citizen of Unionville, died at his residence here last Monday.

Geneva
Joshua D. Brett, who died quite suddenly, March 12, was 81 years of age at the time of his death;
was born in Old Harpersfield, Delaware Co., N.Y., came to Geneva in 1820 and married a daughter of Solomon Fitch in 1821. He settled on a farm in the north part of the township and remained there till 1863, when he removed to Geneva village, where he has since lived. His widow, two daughters and three sons survive him; two sons and one daughter residing in this place.

Kirtland
Mr. Guy Smith, after having lived in Kirtland nearly all his life, concludes to try Willoughby for a while, renting his farm to Mr. Richard Johnson.
Mr. Roswell Hart leaves his old residence east of the center and moves to the Flats.
Mar. 27, 1879

We are pleased to mention that Eber Bond, many years a resident of Kirtland, but recently of Wexford Co., Michigan, has selected Willoughby as his future home.

Geauga County

Charles Throckmorton, of Huntsburg, was recently drowned while attempting to cross Grand River in Rome. He had ridden his horse part way across the river, when in turning round it fell down, and Mr. T. being unable to swim, was drowned. He leaves a wife and three small children. The Huntsburgh correspondent of the Republican printed: “The youngest boy, aged about six years, while eating his supper Monday night (the day of the accident) laid down his knife and fork and burst out crying at the same time making this remark, ‘I’ll bet my papa is drowned!’” It was a long time before they could pacify him, he still persisting that his papa was drowned.

Obituary

Died on the 4th instant at the residence of his son-in-law, H. S. Hine Esq., at Edo, Williams Co., Ohio, Lonson Brooks, of Madison, age 83 yrs., 2 mos., 14 days. He was one of the first settlers of this county, coming with his father, the late David Brooks, from Vermont in 1816, and with the exception of a few years’ residence in Berlin, Lorain Co., Ohio, had lived in Madison more than three-fifths of a century. His remains were brought to Madison to their last resting place, by the side of the yet new grave of his wife and son.

Married

At the residence of the bride’s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, in Mentor, Jan. 14th, Mr. George Bell and Miss Helen J. Foster.

Died

In Edon, Williams Co., Ohio, March 4, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. H. S. Hine, Deacon Lonson Brooks, age 83 yrs, 14 days.

In LeRoy, Lake Co., O., March 19, of dropsy of the heart, Samuel Taylor, age 81 yrs. He was born in Franklin Co., Pa., June 25, 1798, moved to Concord, Lake Co., in the spring of 1815, and was married to Mary Wedge, in September, 1817, who is now in her 72nd year. He removed to LeRoy, Lake Co., in 1829, and has resided on the same farm up to the time of his death. He leaves a wife and several children.

Dr. Ellen F. Grimes, a graduate of the Woman’s Medical College of Philadelphia, has decide to make Painesville her future home. She has been practicing in the state for several years.

Mr. Louis Hettinger and family have moved to Cleveland.
Mr. D. Kelly and family have returned to Cleveland, their former home.

A Card
The forthcoming History of Geauga will contain a statement about Ebenezer Merry, formerly living in Mentor and one of the early settlers there, that he purchased a number of hogs in Pennsylvania and drove them on or near the old girdled road, laid out in 1797 by Col. Sheldon, of Suffield, for the Connecticut Land Company and established in 1798. This article tells of his trials to getting the hogs here and across streams. It was October and started to snow and he spent the night under a fallen tree. A notation of this statement was found in the diary of Judge Kirtland, now in the hands of W. J. Ford, of Burton, fixing the date at leaving home at Oct. 1, 1789. I cannot find any evidence documenting who drove in the first sheep. By Lester Taylor

Another Murder
A terrible murder was committed in Warren, Ohio, Monday morning by a man named Dennis Hickey, killing his wife. They were from Akron, where they had lived several years in a shanty, a drinking, quarrelsome life. On reaching Warren the day before, destitute, the trustees gave them an order for supper and boarding at the City Hotel, where at bed time they were given a room, and nothing was seen or heard of them until about six in the morning, when the woman’s screams caused those up in the house to rush to the room. They met Hickey in the hall, he had cut his wife’s throat with a razor, and stabbed her several times with a knife. The murderer was arrested and put in jail.

E. J. Baker, E. T. Early have dissolved their partnership in the firm of Barker & Early by mutual consent. Painesville

Apr. 17, 1879 Thursday
p. 2 Weather: Speaking of the remarkably cold and stormy weather last week, Samuel Burnett, of Plymouth, one of the oldest residents in this region, tells us that in 1821, there were 18 inches of snow on the ground hereabouts on April 17.

We are called to mourn the loss of one of our worthiest ladies; Adeline, wife of A. J. Gunn, died last Wednesday, age 49 years.

Mr. Merrill and Mr. Brown having agreed to disagree, we are to have two papers. Mr. Merrill has an office where he will put the necessaries belonging to the make-up of a paper, which will be the Independent; the first issue to be forthcoming Thursday.

Geneva
Last Monday’s election resulted in a Republican victory. James A. Carter, a colored man, was elected constable. Mr. Carter was born a slave in Washington Co., Virginia. He was taken from his mother when about 1 year old. He was on the block a number of times; the last time at a sale fetching $1,500. He is 30 years of age and came north about 13 years ago. Mr. C. is the first colored man elected to office in the county.

Perry
At Mr. Frank Craine’s, Mrs. Moses Baker celebrated her 82nd birthday last Saturday. Mrs. Baker is a grandmother of Mrs. Craine. Mrs. B.

has lived in Perry nearly all of the time since the year 1827.

p. 3 Weather: April showers, accompanied with heavy thunder and sharp lightening, and a storm of hail besides, were the order the day for last Thursday.

Thomas Myler Jr., a young man, died April 15, after a long illness, at his father’s residence on Eagle St.

Mrs. Geo. Hulbert will leave Thursday for Nebraska to join her husband, who is now engaged in farming in that state. Mrs. H. will be accompanied by her brother, Harry Kelley.

Mrs. C. F. Willard, who has been spending a few days in town, but returns today to Evansville, Ind.

Mr. T. J. Wilson, formerly a resident here, but for some years in Canada, has returned to Painesville, and opened an upholstering establishment over the store of Dr. Pancost, on Main St.

Death of a Former Resident

In a dispatch from North Amherst, Lorain Co., Ohio, on the 8th, we find the following:

Mrs. Hannah Hubbard, a widow lady age 86 years was discovered dead in her bed. She had resided in this township for about 40 years, coming from Truxton, Courtland Co., N.Y., to Lake Co., Ohio, them moving here. Her husband, Henry Hubbard, who died some years ago, was impressed into the British Navy at the age of 18 yrs. He took part with the British in the battle of Lake Champlain, in 1812, but deserted from there, swimming ashore. While in the British service, he was present at the storming of Gibraltar. The deceased was connected to the old Lockwood family of Perry, and at the time of her death was living with Philip Lockwood, formerly of Perry, and brother of Solomon Lockwood, of that township.

Death of Madison Kelley

Died in Cleveland, on the 11th instant, of paralysis, Mr. Madison Kelley, age 70 yrs. He was born in the town of Ovid, N.Y., in April, 1809. At the age of 13, he was an apprentice at the printing business in the office of the Painesville Telegraph, and assisted in the issue of the first number, in 1822; from there he went east in 1825 and engaged in the employ of Thurlow Weed, In Rochester. From there he went to the city of New York and spent some time in the office of the Journal of Commerce. In 1829, he returned to Painesville and took a part interest in the publication of the Telegraph. In 1830, he married Miss Elizabeth Phelps, daughter of Samuel Phelps, Esq., and sister of the late Mrs. P. P. Sanford. The following year he went to Cleveland and commenced the publication of a paper called the Cleveland Advertiser. He found when adjusting the head line to this title all the letters would not fit in the width. Previous to this time the letter “a” had always been used twice in the word “Cleaveland.” After some consultation with businessmen, it was concluded to drop the first “a “as being superfluous. After that time, he was successively bookseller, binder, city clerk, dry goods merchant, assessor of internal revenue during the administration of Andy Johnson. He had four children by his first wife, and three by the second—five of whom, three daughters and two sons still survive.

Death of Dr. A. Lyman

From Richmond, Ky., Herald, April 9, 1879

This community was shocked by the sudden and unexpected death of Dr. A. B. Lyman, of congestion of the stomach, at his residence in Richmond. He returned home from visiting a patient in the country the evening before and was immediately taken ill and now is no more. He will be buried in the cemetery here. Dr. Lyman was born at Concord, Ohio, and came to this county when quite young. He lived here 39 years, and died at age 58 yrs. He leaves a wife and two children. (The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Wm. Durand, of Mentor, and Mrs. Otis Wood, of Perry.)
Apr. 17, 1879

Another Pioneer Gone
Mrs. Ruby B. Bissell, of Madison, died of paralysis, April 7, while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Maltby. She was born in Berkshire Co., Mass., July 19, 1800. In Feb., 1814, she came to Madison with her parents, three sisters and her only brother, Mr. S. T. Ladd, of Painesville. One of her sisters, Mrs. Dr. Plympton, removed to Michigan, where she has since died. The other two, Mrs. Dr. Merriman and Mrs. Deacon Cunningham, are still living in Madison. She leaves an aged husband, a son, and a daughter.

An Anniversary
Capt. and Mrs. W. L. Averill celebrated their tin or the 10th anniversary of their marriage, at their home on the Headlands in Mentor, the 14th instant. Relatives and friends, to the number of 175, assembled at an early hour and sat down to an elegant and sumptuous repast. The venerable parents of both bride and groom were present.

Mrs. Stone will remain several weeks with friends and having been out of health for several months past, will receive a course of treatment at Dr. Paul Caster’s popular Magnetic Cure at Ottumwa.

Mr. T. J. Todd, formerly a resident of Thompson, but for the past score and more years a resident of Platsmouth, Nebraska, was in town a few days ago, en route to visit friends in Thompson and then farther east.

Mr. H. Dewey, of Madison, one of the early pioneer farmers of the county, told us that in the early days a letter came for him from away down east on which the postage was 25 cents. He did not have the 25 cents and neither did anyone in the neighborhood have so much ready cash. So, he carried oats all the way to Fairport and sold them to raise the 25 cents before he could secure the coveted letter from his old home. And yet the people of these days talk of hard, hard times.

Surgical Operation
Something over a year ago, Miss Anna, a young lady and daughter of John Warren, of Kirtland, fell from a chair and injured one of her knee joints so seriously that she was confined for some time to the house, but finally recovered as to be about and assume her usual activities. A few months later, by a fall from a buggy the same joint was injured. For the last ten months, she has been a great sufferer and obliged to lay in one position. The injury became so aggravated that it was determined in order to save her life the limb should be amputated. Last Sunday the operation was performed by Dr. Weber, of Cleveland, assisted by Dr. L. C. Stebbins & Son, of Painesville; the leg being taken off just above the knee joint. Miss Warren was kept under the influence of ether and was perfectly unconscious of the pain. On gaining consciousness, Miss Warren felt must better than the physicians anticipated and the prospects of her ultimate recovery are flattering.

Death in Omaha
From the Omaha Daily Herald of May 2:
Mrs. Peter P. Shelby, wife of the assistant general freight agent of the U. P. Railroad, died at her late residence, 417 Webster St., at 7 o’clock last evening. Mrs. Shelby was widely known throughout the city. Of wonderful beauty of face and figure, she had a loveliness of character. Mr. Shelby was formerly of Painesville, where many friends will sympathize with him in his affliction.

Obituary
From the Milwaukee Sentinel, May 15, 1879
The death of Thomas Hover, which occurred at his residence yesterday will be lamented by all who knew him. Due to a feeling of weariness, he took a rest from his professional labor. On the second day of his vacation, he became too ill to move about and from that time he gradually failed. His ailment was Bright’s disease and he had long suffered its aggression before he was aware of its nature. He was a native of Western New York, where as a son of a well-to-do farmer, he acquired the rudiments of education during his leisure time. He enlisted for three years in an Ohio regiment during the War of the Rebellion and served until he was discharged due to illness. He then read law at Akron, Ohio, sustaining himself by teaching school and working as a farm hand. On admission to the bar, he moved to this state and entered the office of Judge Conger, in Janesville. Consequently, he settled here and occupied part of the office of Jas. H. Paine & Sons. Later he was Assistant City Attorney under E. G. Ryan, now Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court. He leaves as wife and daughters. He as buried in Forest Home Cemetery.

Death of Philander Winchester

his residence in this city April 24. He was born in New York State, Oct. 4, 1812. He was the son of Rev. Jonathan Winchester, a clergyman of Northern New York, who was prominent for his active interest in the restoration of the Jews to Palestine, in which cause he visited England. The Rev. Mr. Winchester moved to Madison, Lake Co., Ohio, in 1825. His son was early called upon to bear heavy responsibilities as his father’s death left him with the care of younger brothers and sisters. He was married April 9, 1835. His wife and nine children all survive him, the first break in the family circle having been made by his death. In 1839, he went to Painesville, Ohio, and purchased the Painesville Telegraph, editing it for several years. Subsequently, he was one of the owners of the Cleveland Leader. He was, also, an officer of the Ohio State Agricultural Society, and one of the superintendents of departments at the State Fairs. His body was taken to Madison, Ohio, for burial by the side of his father.

Lake View House, Little Mountain, Ohio

The hotel itself is situated in a beautiful park of pines at an elevation of 700 feet, and commands a grand view of the surrounding country and Lake Erie which is distant about five miles. Some twenty small cottages designed expressly for single families are scattered about the grove. In these cottages, each family is as private as in their own home. The hotel and cottages accommodate about 150 people. There are a livery, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, gymnasium, first-class laundry, etc. in connection with the house. Lake View House stages meet all express trains at Painesville and Mentor and convey persons direct to the hotel. For full particulars and prices, address, H. W. Avery, Manager, Painesville, Ohio.

p. 2 Madison

David Palmer, one of Madison’s former residents, but now a resident of Nebraska, is in town.

Last Monday, Mr. Luman Wheler and wife of Madison, entertained friends on his birthday day, as has been their custom for some years. Mr. Wheler was born May 19, 1796. He started from Swansy, New Hampshire, for Ohio, on foot in company with Wm. Long, in Feb. 1817. They were one month on the way, riding in a sleigh from Buffalo to Erie over the ice bound waters of Lake Erie, going ashore once for refreshments at the “Old Log Tavern.” He was induced to take his chances in the west, by one who will be remembered by all old settlers, “Deacon Foster Emerson,” who with his brother, Joseph, had preceded him the year before and built Emerson’s Mills. He worked for them two years and then returned East for a housekeeper. He came back and built a blacksmith shop near the Mills. And quite a business place it was at that time--flouring mill, grist mill, clothing works, cooper shop, tannery, and a distillery with several dwelling houses.

North Madison, May 26, 1879

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall, of Newburgh, N.Y., arrived at Mrs. D. W. McMackin’s, the 23rd instant, to visit Mrs. Richard Hall, their mother and other friends in this vicinity for a few weeks. Mr. Hall was once a resident of Madison, but for several years past has been in the employ of the Erie Railroad.

Mrs. Theodore Stoughton, of Tuscola Co., Mich., is visiting her father, Mr. C. C. Baker, who has been quite ill, for several months. Of late, Mr. Baker’s health has been slightly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman from Massachusetts, are visiting at her fathers’, Judge W. W. Branch.

p. 3

Mrs. S. C. Carter, of Keeokuk, Iowa, is making her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Woodworth, a visit of some weeks. Mr. Sylvester C. Carter, of Keeokuk, en route for the East, gave his Painesville friends, a short call last week.

Mrs. S. H. White, of Detroit, who has been making a long home visit, left for her home in the above city on Monday.

To cure poison ivy, wash the parts affected with a strong solution made from the fresh bark of witch hazel. Two to three applications, as hot as it can borne, will be all that is necessary to affect a cure. It should be applied as soon as the poison ivy is known.

Mr. W. S. Branch, who several years ago left Painesville for Rochester, Minn., has since been with the extensive Drug and Medicine House, in that city where he holds a very responsible positon.

Over the Plains

Miss Ellen E. Smith, daughter of Mr. L. Smith, left on a trip to California last Monday. She will be absent three months, spending most of the time with her sister, Mrs. Newton, in San Francisco.

Death

The family of Mr. David Perry have suffered another deep bereavement in the death of Miss Lina Perry, the last of two daughters, who after an illness of four months, passed away last Friday, May 23, age 20 yrs., 7 mos.

Decoration Day in Madison

Death of Mrs. Woodman
Mrs. Mary Taft Woodman, wife of B. H. Woodman, died last Thursday at her residence on State St. She died of cancer of the breast from which she had been suffering for over a year. She had submitted to several operators but all to no avail. Mrs. Woodman’s maiden name was Taft. She was born in Brownhelm, Lorain Co., and moved to this county with her parents 40 years ago. She leaves a husband, two sons, one in Iowa, and the other at home; and one daughter Mrs. W. R. Rogers, of Painesville. Two sisters of Mrs. Woodman, Mrs. Tower and Mrs. Babcock, were buried about four weeks since, making three members of the family who have died in a brief period. This last blow comes especially hard upon the aged mother who survives them. Mrs. Woodman was a sister of the late Capt. O. C. Taft, and was 51 years old at her death.
June 5, 1879

Death of Mrs. Franklin Paine Sr.

Wednesday of last week, Mrs. Dotha E. Paine, wife of Franklin Paine, one of the earliest settlers of this township departed this life after a very brief illness at the age of 77 yrs. She had a brief illness of three or four hours by congestive chills. She was born in Brattleboro, Vt., in 1802, where she resided until she came to Ohio with her father, John Bushnell, who settled with his family in Monroe Township, Ashtabula Co, in 1817. In 1819, she came to this place to teach school, and resided with her sister, Mrs. Beckwith, then married and living in this vicinity, and who is now the only living member of her father’s family. She was married to Franklin Paine in 1821, with whom she had lived over half a century, to share and bear the trials incident to early pioneer life. Her husband, Franklin Paine, is now 88 years old. Of the nine children born to them, six are now living. Two sons, Albert and Franklin, who reside in this place, and four daughters, Mrs. C. C. Drake and Miss Mary A. Paine, who resided with their parents; and Mrs. A. J. Northam, of Warren, Ill., and Mrs. Amos Lamson, residing in Bedford, Ohio; all of whom were present at her funeral.

Married

At the residence of the bride’s parents, in Mentor, June 3rd, Carrie V. second daughter of A. R. Daniels, to Ed. L. Farris, of Minneapolis, Minn., formerly of Painesville.

John Dickinson Sr. and John Dickinson Jr. have dissolved their partnership by mutual consent. The business will be continued by John Dickinson Sr.

Dobbs Again on the Rampage
As our readers will remember only a few months ago the Rev. A. S. Dobbs was suspended from preaching until the next meeting of the Erie Conference, on account of conduct unbecoming a minister of the gospel. Ever since the trial and his alleged misconduct, Mrs. Dobbs has been living with her mother, Mrs. Charles Chase, on Richmond St. Last Sunday morning, the quiet of the town was again disturbed by this man Dobbs. He came here with a large, double carriage, accompanied by ad Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Meadville. He went at once to the home of Mrs. Chase; he desired to have an interview alone with his wife which he was allowed. As soon a Dobbs entered the house, Frank, the youngest boy, a lad of 14, went to the house of Mr. S. K. Gray, their nearest neighbor and informed them of what was happening. It was only the work of a few moments to get friends enough upon the spot to prevent the kidnapping of Mrs. Dobbs—which was evidently his purpose. To Mr. H. Cole, Dobbs said the gentleman with him was a United States Marshal, to which Mr. Cole replied he didn’t care who he was, they couldn’t take Mrs. Dobbs away from the house. Dobbs decided to leave, as he reached the gate, he turned and made a speech. The whole thing was a farce. P. S. It is to the credit of Mr. Clark that he did not claim to be an officer, but frankly told the sheriff that he was not an officer, but came as a friend of Mr. Dobbs, believing he had been wronged.

At a meeting of the proprietors of the town of Grandon, on Oct. 31, 1815, the following agreement and proceedings were had: It was agreed to divide among the said proprietors the vacated part of said town south of Fourth St. It was further agreed that each proprietor will clear the timber and brush from all his lots lying north of Second St. and west of the Public Square, and that the trustee and agent of the proprietors (Gov. Samuel Huntington) be authorized to cause all the Company lands, as well as the streets north of the south line of Second St. and west of the Public Square, to be cleared of the timber and brush; all of which is to be completed by the first day of June, 1817. In witness, whereof, we the proprietors of the said

Samuel Huntington

Samuel Butler still lives at “Grandon” where he has resided ever since he signed the above agreement sixty-three years ago. The sons of Gov. Huntington and Capt. Skinner also still live in Painesville and own many of the identical lands then owned by their fathers. We take the liberty of suggesting that they hold another meeting as successors to the “proprietors of Grandon,” and take steps to replace some of the timber cleared before June 1st, 1817. For is Grandon (Fairport) needs any one improvement more than all other, it is a supply of shade trees for the people and cattle to get under.

for the absence of cousins from that place. Mr. B. said that 50 years ago today, he spent his 18th birthday on the ocean on board the sailing vessel Governor Fenner en route from Liverpool to New York. The voyage took 8 weeks lacking two days. Mr. and Mrs. Broughton have lived at the old homestead, one mile east of Painesville, since 1833, something over 46 years. Of a family of 12 children, six sons and six daughters, nine are living; two sons and one daughter having died.

Mr. Dan Warner Jr. arrived home last Thursday from his extended western trip, bringing with him 24 ponies from the Indian territory.

p. 2 Pioneer Sketch
C.C. Bronson, Concord, interviewed Miss J. Winchell who said: My father, Simeon Winchell, with my mother and seven children – Simeon Jr., and Harvey, Mrs. Betsey, wife of Hosea Baker, Alma, Mrs. George Mitchell, Patty, Mrs. Lyman Mitchell, Harriet, Mrs. Orrin Wilson, and Miss Jennett who occupies the old house of her father, left their native town, Barkhamstead, Conn., early in July with a heavy ox wagon and three yoke of oxen, and a wagon and one horse. After a journey of four weeks they arrived in Concord on Aug. 11, 1817. They stopped at a large log house with a brick chimney and oven for baking bread, occupied by David Huston as a tavern. This farm was occupied as early as 1802 by Wm. Jordan, who also kept tavern—the log house occupying the same spot the house Miss Winchell lives in today. Jordon sold to Huston, who built a frame barn, and Huston sold to Mr. Winchell the 100 acres, with the improvements for $1,500, and then Mr. Winchell went to Warren to pay Gen. Simeon Perkins the agent of the original proprietors of the township. Miss Winchell mentioned the following to illustrate pioneer life. In 1812, there arrived at Mr. Winchell’s, Grandison Newell, wife and four children, Theodore Newell, wife and two children Justin Newell and wife, Martin Adams and wife, Roswell Adams, wife and three children, Martin Adams Jr. and wife, and Moses Kibbee and wife. Well, Mr. Winchell’s latch string hung out in true pioneer style; the great dinner pot was hung on the trammel and filled with pork, potatoes, and other vegetables in their season, green corn, and a huge loaf of bread baked in a bake-kettle, or a great Indian meal or Johnnycake, baked on a board. Here with the Winchell family were thirty-two persons to feed and lodge. It may be a subject of speculation how thirty-two persons could be stowed away in a log cabin. Our pioneer mothers were not deficient in beds and bedding, and they could sleep sound on a bed laid on the floor, or on a board if necessary. Let us look into the log cabins as they were 60 or 70 years ago. At one end the fireplace, with the stick chimney; the pots and kettles in one corner and a ladder in the other corner to get to the chamber. In the other end, in the corner, two beds; and when the ladies wished to retire, the men would leave the house; then the men would come in, doff the candles and retire. In the morning when still dark, the men would get up and go out and the women would dress. Miss Winchell says her father wrote to Asa Mallory, who emigrated previously and settled in Concord, and being an old acquaintance, to collect provisions for the sustenance of his family, but judge his surprise on his arrival, to find himself under the necessity of feeding Mallory’s family out of the supplies in his wagon. All of Mr. Winchell’s family settled in Concord. Grandison Newell lived with them four months, then removed his family onto a farm in Mentor.

Death of a Former County Resident Died at her residence in Clay Township, Ind., June 18th, Mrs. Ann, wife of J. W. Magee, in the 37th year of her age. Mrs. Magee was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbey, of Leroy, in this country. The notice of her death was in the Warsaw (Ind.) Republican of June 28th:

We were very much shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Ann Magee, wife of J. W. Magee, which occurred at the family residence in Clay Township, June 18th, of brain fever, having been taken sick on the Saturday evening previous. Mrs. Magee was born in St. Lawrence Co., New York, Sept. 19th, 1832, and when but two years old removed with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Abbey to Lake Co., Ohio, where she resided until 1853, when she was married to J. W. Magee, and accompanied him to this state, traveling by wagon the entire distance, there being no railroads through the comparatively new country. They settled on and opened up a farm in Clay Township, which was then almost a wilderness, where they have resided ever since. She leaves a bereaved husband, aged parents, a daughter and four sons. Mr. and Mrs. George Abbey, the father and mother of Mrs. Magee, on learning of her illness started from their home in Painesville, Ohio, but at the end of their journey, arrived to find she had been buried the day before.

Promoted - H. B. Steele, formerly of this place, who has been in regular service several years, and during the past two, attached to the headquarters Department of Arizona where he has held the positon of Chief Head Clerk. He was recently promoted to second Lieutenant.

A Wonderful Stone
Daniel Warren, of LeRoy, brought to the city in his wagon last week, a piece of white flint rock, in the shape of an egg, about 15 inches long and a 6 to 7 inches in diameter at the large end. What makes it very remarkable is at the small end and sides, for a at least a third of the way towards the base, is studded with pieces of flint of every variety of form and color—having the appearance of having been artificially set in their positons, and almost of every tint and color known. Mr. Warren says he has a much larger piece of flint, found on his farm, studded in the same way.

North Madison
After a year’s stay in Kansas, Mr. Fred Brown has returned to Madison.
Mr. Alonzo Crocker, of Amherst, and her son Mr. Henry Crocker, of Rochester, Minn., have been visiting friends in Madison and North Madison.

Gray to mourn her death.

Drowned
From Manitowoc, Wis., newspaper of last week Harry Shepard of Michigan, drowned July 15. He was a son of Henry Shepard formerly of this place, and grandson of Dea. H. F. Shepard. From the Chicago Times: Harry Shepard, steward on the Alpena, of the Goodrich line was drowned here at about 10:00 o'clock this forenoon. He was in bathing with others from the boat, and being unable to swim, had put on a life preserver. He had taken off the life preserver, threw it into the water, and jumped from the deck intending to catch it as he struck the water. For some reason, he failed to secure it and sank. His home is in Manitowoc. The deceased was a nephew of the Messrs. Rand of this city. The body was brought here and taken charge of by his uncle, E. K. Rand.

Family Reunion

Willoughby South Ridge, Aug. 16, 1879

A family reunion was held at the house of Mr. Daniel Alvord, Aug. 14th. It was the first time he and his brother and sisters had ever all been together at one time since they were separated years ago, when one by one, they married, and went to make homes for themselves. A brother, David Alvord, now living in Iowa, three sisters, Mrs. Emily Watkins, from Genesee, N.Y., Mrs. Oliver Smith, of Mentor, O., and Mrs. Lucretia Dingee, of Willoughby, O, were present. The widowed mother, 87 years old, living with David in Iowa, was too feeble to bear the journey here. Uncle Dan as he is familiarly known, was born in the town of Hancock, Berkshire, Co., Mass., March 17th, 1810, therefore in his 70th year. His parents moved to Seneca, N.Y. when he was a small child, then to Genesee, N.Y. some years later. When he was about 12 years old, they moved with an ox team to Ohio, and settled in Mentor, where he grew to manhood. Thirty-eight years ago, he was married to Roxana Barrows, and one year later they commenced housekeeping on the farm where he now lives, in a small log cabin, without a window or door, save the apertures, which were closed by blankets hung up over them. About fifteen years ago, he buried his wife, his son—an only child—and wife, with the little grandson, grandpa’s favorite
Aug. 21, 1879

Last Sabbath morning another of our old citizens passed away. Mr. Curtis Brown has been sick all summer and his friends were in hopes he would get better, but he gradually failed. He was born in Cuyaga Co., N.Y., and came to Willoughby when eight years old; he was married over 50 years ago to Miss Stephens, who still survives him, also, three sons, who are settled near him. He was laid to rest in the cemetery on the Plains.

Geneva
An old lady by the name of Ripley, who had been quite ill, was so badly smothered by her husband, Wednesday that her death was hastened. The couple had been living with landlord Trunky at the Fountain House for some nine years. Later the old gentlemen had been quite unkind to his wife, striking her in several instances. Wednesday, he chanced to be alone with her and wrapped her head in bedclothes and some carpeting. Mr. Trunky came in and tore the things from the suffering face, but the shock in the old lady’s feeble state was too severe and she passed away about 7 p.m. the remains were taken to Kinsman, O., for burial. Mr. Ripley is thought to be a little deranged. Should he become violent, he will be removed to an asylum.

Miss Barbara Morgan who is dangerously ill was thought to be dying last night.

Pioneer Sketch Simeon Hodges

As pioneer sketches are quite common of late, I will send you a brief sketch of the early emigration of Simeon Hodges (my father and his family) from Savoy, Berkshire Co., Mass. to Geauga Co., Ohio. As early as 1815 or 1816 Simeon Hodges came to Newbury, Geauga Co., Ohio, and purchased 170 acres of unimproved land in said Township. In the spring of 1817, his son Samuel, then 21 years of age, in company with two other young men, with their packs on their backs and on foot, came from Savoy, Mass. to Newbury, Ohio. Samuel commenced to make himself a home on the land purchased by his father. Late in the next autumn he returned on foot to his old home. In spring of 1818, he returned to his new home in the woods with his young wife. On May 17, 1820, my father with his family started from their old home in Mass., to come to Newbury, Ohio; his turnout consisted of four oxen, three horses, and three wagons, with two cows following. We arrived at brother Samuel’s in Newbury, on June 27. We lived with Samuel, I think, two months. In the meantime, my father bought a farm in Mentor (then Geauga Co., now Lake) of Mr. Ralph Bacon where he moved his family in Sept. of the same years. One or two years later, father purchased 400 acres of heavy timbered land, adjoining his farm on the north. Soon after, he exchanged part of his land in Mentor with brother Samuel for his home in Newbury. Samuel moved with his family to Mentor, where he lived until his death. I think about 1818, father traded his farm with Benjamin Carpenter, his son-in-law, for a farm of 50 acres of Carpenter’s, situated in Concord (now Lake, then Geauga Co.). There was a condition in the trade that our father and mother were to have a home in the house, and Carpenter and his wife were to care for them in sickness and in health during the remainder of their lives, which they did with credit to themselves. Father (Simeon) died Jun 12, 1838, age 68 years. Mother died March 7, 1854, age 84 years. they were buried in the family burying ground at the old home now owned and occupied by L. H. Carpenter, their grandson. E. H. Ford, Geauga Co., Aug. 22, 1879
Aug. 28, 1879

(Note from Judy Stebbins: The mother’s maiden name was Patty Burnett, born Nov. 8, 1769 Warwick, Mass. E. H. who wrote this sketch is Erastus Hodges.)

By advertisement in our columns it will be seen that a suit has been commenced by the “Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints” against the present owners or holders of the Mormon Temple in Kirtland, for the purpose of recovering that property; the claim being that it was deeded to Joseph Smith as trustee in trust for the “Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.”

Mr. Edward Pepoon, with his family, is making a visit for some weeks to the old family homestead of his father, Mr. Benjamin Pepoon. He left here in 1862 and located near Davenport, Iowa, where he has since resided. Mr. Benjamin Pepoon has resided on the same farm since and including most of the year 1804, a period of 75 years.

Had enough of Powder
Mr. Frank Rosa had his second and, as he declares, his last experiment with gunpowder a few mornings ago. He had a few lengths of stove
Aug. 28, 1879

Pipe badly filled with soot and conceived the idea of blowing out the soot with gunpowder. He put some in an empty spool such as is used for thread, placed it in the middle of the elbow joint of pipe and applied a lighted paper to it. It blew out the soot, but also blew out fire from the elbow joint onto Mr. Rosa burning this left hand, wrist, one side of his face and nose, and set his clothes on fire. He got all the burning garments off in time to avoid fatal injury.

Accident to G. N. Wilder

Mr. G. N. Wilder was visiting friends in the vicinity of Bass Lake. He had taken with him his double-barreled breech-loading shotgun. It was standing in a corner of the room, loaded with a canvas cover. In discussing the qualities of the gun, Mr. Wilder took hold of the cover near the muzzle to take it off and the gun discharged; the ball going through the palm of his hand on a line with the middle finger which it cut entirely away just below the third joint. It cut some arteries and cords and left the main artery uncut but wholly exposed and bare. A physician was called at once; the stump left of the forefinger was disjointed from the hand and the wound dressed. As of yesterday, Mr. Wilder is getting along much better than was expected.

The Death of James W. Chilson

Some weeks since we published a brief announcement of the death of James W. Chilson, formerly of this county, who died at Fort Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Jerry Root, of Tecumseh, Michigan received letters giving the details of his death.

From Fort Omaha, Neb., July 15, 1879

Madame:

With the deepest regret, I have the honor to inform you that your nephew James W. Chilson, who served in my company since August, 1876, died at the post on the 12th instant of sunstroke. He was buried on the 13th instant with all military honors at Prospect Hill Cemetery, near Omaha, Neb.

Respectfully, A. S. Bur
Capt. 9th Infantry, Commanding Co. H.

(Printed, also, is a letter from his best friend at the Fort, James Lyons.)

Concord

Mr. Frank Doran with his wife and child have been spending a couple of weeks at the old homestead. They start today for their home in Brownsville, Tenn., where he is engaged in the wholesale Grocery trade.

Miss Emeline Reynolds teaches a fall term of two months in the Huntoon district, commencing today. Her sister, Miss Clara Reynolds, is giving lessons on the piano and organ.

North Madison

Mrs. Luther Weeks, who several weeks ago was taken to the asylum at Newburgh, has sufficiently recovered her reason to write home to her family.

Mrs. King, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting her brother, Mr. John Church is to return home the present week.

Mrs. Almond Frisbie has returned from the west where she has been visiting her aged mother, Mrs. Baker, who has ill health yet; at present her condition is more hopeful than it was a few months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crocker had their home made happy by the birth of a daughter, August 12.

Perry

Mr. Homer Harper, who for the past ten weeks has been in attendance at the summer term of Willoughby College, leaves the coming week for Gambier where he will spend the next four years in completing the classical course of that college.

Obituary
Reuben B. Chaffe, born in Pompey, Onondaga Co., N.Y., Aug. 26th, 1797, died at Thompson, Geauga Co., O., Aug. 20, 1879, lacking six days of being 82 years old. He enlisted when fifteen years of age in to the N.Y. militia, Capt. E. Benjamin; was at Sackett’s Harbor about a year; and discharged for disability, his discharge papers destroyed when Court House at Chardon burned. Ashbel Messenger, his step-father preceded him to Concord, Ohio and he came with balance of family in the year 1815. He married in 1821 the widow of Benjamin Trask, who was living on lot 18, of Thompson, on lands taken by Trask, by whom he had four girls and one son living with her some, fifteen years ago. Benjamin Trask was one of three sons of Retire Trask, who came here in 1808, and settling near Hulbert, Stockwell, and Bartlett. He married probably about 1818. In Feb., 1819, Trask had occasion to go to what is now Hambden, for family supplies. It was winter, considerable snow on the ground, but his purchases were made—a kettle bail and some groceries were his burden as he started homeward. Near midnight he still had not come home. The next forenoon a stranger passing from Chardon by way of Hambden, came upon the only bridle pathway, an iron kettle bail, which he picked up, and still farther on came to a bag containing some groceries and secured this also. A little farther on the trace ended and he found a man sitting bolt upright by the side of a large tree, dead. He hastened to Mark Barnes and told him what he had found. Accordingly, he with Barnes followed his track back, taking oxen and sled, and brought the man in. Various speculations have been indulged in as to the cause of the death, some affirming it was lock jaw, that he had a sore toe that often was very painful. As one of his stockings was wrong side out and the shoe on that foot untied, indicted to his wife that the foot troubled him. A few months after the death of Mr. Chaffe’s wife he married early in 1837, Hannah Kibbee, of Concord, and by her had six girls and two boys. Four of the daughters and the boys and the only daughter of the first wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Brocklehurst, of Oil City, Pa., making seven of the nine living children, were present at the funeral. One daughter living in Mentor, was watching her youngest child, some two and a half years old, which died on the 26th and was brought and buried by the side of its grandfather. The other daughter resides in Kansas.

South Madison
Mr. Daniel Bowen and wife, of Nebraska, are visiting friends in South Madison, Thompson and Trumbull. Mrs. Bowen is the daughter of Wells Stocking and is out of health.

Mr. Henry Woodruff, an aged and respected citizen of this place, died Aug. 31st.

Old Mrs. Sullivan, who has made her home with her son, John Sullivan was taken violently ill Thursday night. As of yesterday afternoon, we heard she was vibrating between life and death.

Miss Barbara Morgan, sister of the Rev. C. T. Morgan, is still ill, though not dangerously so, her difficulty being severe nervous prostration.

The household effects of A. W. Lyman, traveling salesman for the Enterprise Co., were disposed of at auction Saturday. Owing to Mr. Lyman’s frequent and long absence from home on business, his wife will no longer attempt keeping house in our village, but intends, we are informed, passing much of her time among relatives.

Death of Miss Baker, M.D.
In addition to the death of Miss Sibelia F. Baker, M. D., of Chicago, we find the following in the daily Nashville (Tenn.) American, of the 5th instant:
The Chicago Tribune records the death in that city on Friday last of Miss Sibelia F. Baker, M. D. Death in her case has cut short a career of usefulness and fame.
As many of our readers, know, Miss Baker, was formerly of this county, and is well remembered by a large circle of early friends. She was the daughter of the late Francis Baker, and sister of S. B. Baker, of LeRoy.

Surprise Birthday Party
Mrs. Lavina Baker (who is a daughter of “Uncle Dan” and “Aunt Anna” Hopkins, of Mentor) was given a surprise party for her 56th birthday on August 14. Also, Mrs. Anna Warren (who is the mother of Miss Anna Warren, is recovering so nicely from the surgical operation lately performed by the amputation of one of her limbs) celebrated her birthday on Sept. 9 with a surprise party.

North Madison

Died Sept. 2nd, Mr. Lionel Bennett, of North Madison. He was born at East town, Courtland Co., N. Y., July 20th, 1792. He came to Ohio in an early day. Ten years ago, the Bennett residence with all the comforts which the toil of over 50 years had brought them, was suddenly swept away for fire on a cold Christmas night. Since then they have lived on a farm adjoining their own, with their son-in-law, Mr. Roger Miller. Mr. Bennett has not been able to perform manual labor for the past twenty years; for the last eight years, he has been helpless from a shock of paralysis. He leaves a wife with whom he shared life for 63 years. Mrs. Bennett (maiden name Miss Sarah Norton) was born in Sanford, Unadilla Co., N. Y., April 22nd, 1796. The deceased leaves three sons, Dr. L. L. Bennett, Chardon; and Messrs. John and Ira Bennett, of Baraboo, Wis., and an only daughter, Mrs. Margaret Miller, who helped care for her father in his last sickness; and at her home the funeral was attended on the 3rd instant.

Sept. 6th, was a festive day in the family of Mr. Joseph Fuller, of North Madison. It was Father Fuller’s 80th birthday. Mr. Fuller is the son of Joseph Fuller, a soldier of the revolution, and came here in company with his father in 1817. He has lived on the old homestead all the years since. He was married about 1823 and raised a family of seven children. There are twenty-two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. Benjamin Fuller, a brother of Father Fuller, age 83 years, was present.

p. 2 The Pioneer Meeting
The 4th annual reunion of the pioneers of Lake county was held in Morley’s Grove, Kirtland on September 10. Mr. James Root, being the oldest person present was called upon. He said he was born in Granville, Mass., in 1789, and came to Ohio in 1824. Mr. Root is quite feeble and excused himself from speaking on that account.

Mr. Uriah Benton, of Chardon, age 68, came there in 1815, and had resided there ever since. General Northrop, although a resident of this county for a number of years, he was a pioneer of another county. He had emigrated to Medina county sixty-three years ago, and was the first man to cut down a tree in the public square of Medina. Nathan Corning, of Mentor sent a paper which was read. “I came to Mentor with my father, Warren Corning, in the year 1810. At the time, there were living at Mentor Ebenezer Merry, Charles Parker, and Jared Ward, who came in 1800, and were the first settlers in the township. Charles Parker moved to Painesville a year or two previous to 1810. After these and between 1800 and 1810, came Ralph Bacon, Jonathan Russell, Orris Clapp, Obadiah Cramer, Clark Parks, Eleazer Davis, Peter French, Benjamin and David Hopkins, Mrs. Fobes, and a few others. Warren Corning built the first frame house in the township is 1813. The township was organized in 1815. The first township meeting was held at Warren Corning’s. Joseph Sawyer, Orris Clapp and Warren Corning were elected Trustees; Jonathan Russell, Township Clerk and Moses Kerr, Treasurer.”

Mr. Barnes Davis was the next speaker. He came to Willoughby when he was a year old and has lived there ever since, a period of seventy years. Next, Elder Isaiah Rider, of Painesville, age 80 years spoke. He had chopped down one hundred acres of forest.

Dr. Dille, of Mayfield, said he had been a resident of Euclid and Mayfield since 1805. Lots of deacons and elders of the past century used to dance their hoe downs on the barn floor and sweeten their whisky with maple sugar.

Mr. David Gray, of Mentor, who was born in 1780, arrived on the ground and was called to stand. He said he came to this country in 1818 with a yoke of oxen and two cows.
Sept. 18, 1879
Mrs. Olna Bates, of LeRoy, appeared in an old-fashioned red cloak, 95 years old and a bonnet fifty years’ old.

Extracts from C. C. Bronson’s speech:
In 1787, Congress set off the vast tract of country into a territorial government, giving it the name of the Territory of Northwest of the Ohio River, the eastern boundary being the west line of Pennsylvania; the south the Ohio River; the west line the Mississippi River, and on the north by the Great Lakes. This territory now comprises the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. This opened the way for the Ohio Company of Massachusetts, an incorporated body presided over by General Rufus Putnam, a cousin of Major General Israel Putnam. The first settlement in this territory was known as Marietta. After the close of the Indian campaign by General Wayne’s battle with the Indians at Fallen Timber, Aug. 20, 1794, the Indians ceased hostilities and the British were compelled to give up the military posts and retire to the north side of the treaty line of 1783. When they felt the danger was past, the settlers began to come in from various sections and settle on land where the Indian title had been extinguished. Connecticut gave up her claims to land held by charter from Charles II of England, and compromising with the United States Government, reserved to herself what is knows at this day as the Connecticut Western Reserve. The second marriage on the Western Reserve was in Mentor, at the Marsh Settlement in 1799. In 1798, Colonel Alexander Harper, Major William McFarland and Ezra Gregory, with their families, arrived from Harpersfield, Delaware Co., New York, to town No. 11, range No. 5 and named it Harpersfield. In Major McFarland’s family was a sprightly young widow, Mrs. Parentha Mingus. Major McFarland having no children had adopted her when a child. She married Mr. Mingus, had one child, and soon after Mr. Mingus died, and Mrs. Mingus returned home to her adopted parents, and came with them to Harpersfield in 1798. There lived on a farm in Newbury, six miles from Cleveland, a comely bachelor by the name of James Hamilton. Harpersfield was 50 miles distant and Mr. Hamilton rode out from Newbury and by the help of marked trees reached the Harpersfield settlement and the young widow he had come to meet. The county seat at that time was at Steubenville, Jefferson Co. They were in a fix and had no one to marry them. Moses Park, lived in the Marsh settlement and had been formerly a Baptist preacher. Though he had abandoned his calling, it was concluded in the present emergency he would answer and the couple would strike out for Newbury stopping at the Marsh Settlement on the way. Mr. Hamilton took the widow’s child on his lap on his horse; she rode the second horse (there was no side saddle so she rode on top of a feather bed). In the Marsh Settlement was Ebenezer Merry and family. Ebenezer Merry was born in West Hartford, Connecticut, July 21, 1773. His father moved to Kinderhook New York, when he was a young lad; when he was nineteen in 1792, his father moved to Avon, Eastern New York, then called the Genesee Country. In 1798, when 25 yrs. old, he pushed west to Mentor on the Reserve. In the fall of 1799, Mr. Merry went to his father’s house in Avon. In Avon, he met Miss Charlotte Adams. On May 5, 1800, they were married and in a few days started for Ohio, accompanied by his brother, Homer Merry. Mr. and Mrs. Merry had six children born in Mentor: Sarah, Mary, Julia, Martin, Samuel, and Lucy. Then Elizabeth, Ebenezer, and Charlotte (deceased) were born in Milan. Mr. Merry died in Milan Jan. 6, 1846, age 72 years. Mrs. Charlotte Merry died in Milan, Feb. 4, 1872; age 95 years.

Jesse Phelps died on his farm in Mentor in 1809 and was buried with others on the southeast corner of the cross roads near Captain Burridge’s residence. I think the remains have been removed to the cemetery in Mentor.

Clark Parker, a brother of Charles Parker, came to Mentor in 1802. Clark Parker and Peggy Jurdon were married May 5, 1803, by Jesse Phelps, J.P. of Painesville. His son was Frank Parker.
Sept. 18, 1879
Orris Clapp emigrated from Mass. in 1806. He lived and died on the farm west of the Barrage farm.
Jonathan Root came to Mentor in 1803, settled on the farm east of the Burridge farm.
Joseph Sawyer, son of Benjamin and Sarah Sawyer, born in Berkshire Co., Mass. July 30, 1778. He came to Mentor in June, 1810 and bought 150 acres of land which he lived on until his death, June 5, 1846, age 71. There were six sons: Calvin, Isaac, Martin, Joseph these four were born in Pompey), Silas and Ammon (born in Mentor). Of this family but two are living, Isaac and Martin.
Benjamin Sawyer Sr. and Benjamin Jr. with his family, came to Mentor in 1814 and bought Ebenezer Merry’s farm.
Warren Corning arrived with his family in Mentor, Oct. 10, 1810, coming from Acworth, Sullivan Co., N.H. In 1814, he built the first frame house in Mentor. His house was one of the prominent taverns when the South Ridge was the great traveled road east and west. Mrs. Corning died July 9, 1845, age 72. He died March 12, 1852, age 80.
Some relics displayed at the picnic were described.

Chester Lampson, of Windsor, was killed instantly by a falling tree which he had chopped down. He was 56 years old.

It is with genuine sorrow we announce the sudden death of Miss Melvin Hitchcock, of Richmond. She was teaching school at Andover. She was not feeling well on Sunday and she took a dose of morphine, as she had been in the habit of doing, and it seems she took too much and died that evening.

Jefferson Gazette
A correspondent says that a Mrs. Totten has given birth to five children in the space of twenty months.

Geneva
Two recent death: Mrs. Clark, mother of Mrs. J. W. Babcock and Mrs. Phebe A. Tenney, the latter age 61 years.

E. A. Park and D. M. Dow left Geneva last week with their respective families for Alda, Hall Co., Nebraska, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Dow is a sister of Prof. Bentley, of this place.

Miss Kitty Graham and Mr. Joseph Brammer, formerly of Painesville, were married Saturday.

Mr. Willis A. Bates, of Cooperstown, N.Y., is visiting relatives in Madison.

North Madison, Sept. 23, 1879
At Madison Dock, September 14th, died of heart disease, Mr. Joel Norton, age 78 years.

Mr. Reuben Holmes committed suicide as was stated last week in the Telegraph. He had been a resident of Madison for fifteen years and is well known for his eccentricity of mind upon religion, believing that for him God had especial missions, the will of which was clearly made known receiving daily instruction. He seemed perfectly sane but had said to some of his friends that his poor health in the decline of years would be a burden to others and wished he was through with this life, for at times he believed himself to be crazy. He leaves a wife and one child, Mrs. Abigail Ingals, of Hubbardsville, Madison, Co., N.Y.

Dr. J. E. Hewitt, of Perry, is at his parents’ house in North Madison.

Mr. Ben. Franklin Ware, of Clinton Co., Michigan, has been visiting friends in this vicinity. Mr. Ware was a former resident of Madison. He left here twenty-four years ago.

Miss Ida Rice, of Ripley, New York is visiting her cousin Miss Ona Pettis, and other friends in this vicinity.

p. 3 Mr. E. G. Huntoon, of Collinwood, is visiting his old home and friends in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Weaver, of Georgetown, Colorado, are visiting relatives and friends in Painesville.

The venerable Mrs. Phebe Cady of Madison, now in her 80th year, is visiting the family of her brother, Mrs. S. A. Tisdel.

Misses Sarah and Eva Taylor, daughters of the late J. H. Taylor, go east this week to visit friends in New Jersey.

Mr. F. L. Wilder and family have nearly completed arrangements for removing to Boston.

Gen. Abel Kimball, of Madison is spending several days with his friends in Summerville. He is one of the few remaining of the old pioneers, who bore a prominent part in the early history of the county.

Mrs. Hine, a beloved member of the family of her son, Mr. Augustus Hine of this place, and mother of Mr. Homer H. Hine, attained her ninetieth birthday, Sept. 20.

Returned

Mr. O. G. Wright, of Livingston Co., Mo., but formerly of this county, and son of Mr. James Wright of LeRoy, who has been making a visit to his old home and friends, left for the West again yesterday. During his visit, the family celebrated the 80th birthday of his mother. Mr. Wright is one of five brothers, all of whom enlisted in the rebellion; two, however, were not accepted.

Geneva, Sept. 29, 1879
D. H. Kelley, father of our dentist Dr. J. P. Kelley, is now residing in the home which he purchased of L. E. Morgan, some time since.

Yesterday a church wedding occurred. Miss Frankie Call and Mr. Phelps, formerly of Ashtabula, but now engaged in business here, were married in the M. E. Church, between morning service and Sabbath. The bride was attired in brown silk, trailing, of course; the front and sides were adorned with small bouquet of white roses and geranium leaves, and white roses, geranium leaves and bridal wreathes festooned the back. Her bonnet was brown silk, trimmed with white lace and a snowy ostrich plume. The bridegroom’s daughter, a pretty girl of thirteen was present.

Married
In Mentor, Sept. 29, at the house of the bride’s father, William G. Conkling to Charlotte A. Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Raplee last Friday or Saturday had a 10 lb. baby boy.

Mrs. Nancy Potter, age 81 years, went to Geneva a few weeks since, to spend some time
Oct. 9, 1879
with her daughter, Mrs. S. Blinn, and has been confined to her bed nearly ever since, and will in consequence make that place her home.

Geneva
The residence occupied by Mr. Will Flint, and owned by his brother-in-law, Mr. Throop, has been receiving an addition of late.
Mrs. Wm. Gee, of South New Lyme, visited relatives here last week.
Mrs. C. H. Gordon, of Hartford, Conn, is visiting to the home of S. Pranks, her brother. She is accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Parks, of Cleveland.

Doctor Rosa, removes with his family to Painesville, the present week.

An Old Citizen
Col. Erastus Crocker one of the old and highly esteemed citizens of Madison was in town last Wednesday to hear Messrs. Frye and Garfield.
Mr. Crocker is one of the few old pioneers of the county still left among us.

The Work of the Agricultural Bureau
The Commissioner of Agriculture some time ago detailed Mr. James H. Paine for a trip over the plains to California, in the interests of the Department, to collect samples of the soil, the better to be enabled to ascertain what seeds and grains can be best propagated. Mr. Paine left Chicago Aug. 9 and returned on Oct. 3rd. His mission is regarded as a very important one to the agricultural interests of California.

Suspension of S. A. Dobbs
The Erie M. E. Conference, has suspended Rev. S.
A. Dobbs for one year. The general charge was immorality, under which were three specifications. First –wife abuse, calling his wife “as hell hound,” “thief,” and “hypocrite,” & c.
Second, abuse of his son and threatening to shot him. Third, abuse of his mother-in-law, calling her a “liar,” etc.

Death of a Former Citizen
Mrs. B. Stockwell received a dispatch announcing the death of her son, Mr. Levi S.
Stockwell, at his residence in New York, age 41 years. He had typhoid fever this summer but seemed better. However, he had a relapse and he sank very low. Tuesday he died. The deceased leaves a wife and four children.

p. 1 Pioneer Sketches
In a recent interview with Mrs. Anna Hopkins, of Mentor, I obtained some pioneer information worthy of a place in your valuable paper. Mrs. Hopkins says that the location of Charles Parker’s log house, at the Marsh Settlement, was on the north line of the farm owned by Mr. Quincy, near a large spring of water. In after years, Bella Dorell occupied the same house or another on the same ground. Passing on, you come to the road going east to Black Brook meeting house; we turn, cross Marsh Creek as it is called, and on the hill east of the creek on the north side of the road was the log house of Ebenezer Merry, another of the first settlers at the marsh, or in Mentor. Mrs. Hopkins is my authority for this, also. Benjamin Hopkins lived in Vermont where Daniel Hopkins was born Feb. 14, 1790. He moved his family from Vermont to Salisa at the east end of Onondaga lake in 1791, and there he engaged in the manufacture of salt by boiling the brine. Mrs. Hopkins thinks that Benjamin Hopkins Sr. owned four springs; my own impression is, that the salt springs were reserved and rented by the state of New York to individuals and that Mr. Hopkins owned four block kettles, which, if I have been correctly informed, made him for that early day a large manufacturer of salt. He became surety for the man who had charge of the arms and ammunition belonging to the government. He failed and Mr. Hopkins lost his property. He gathered up the wreck of his estate, and in 1805, came to Painesville, settling on the opposite side of Grand River from Gen. Payne. He brought with him 400 barrels of salt, from what is now known as Syracuse. This was on a schooner, and when in sight of the mouth of Grand River, a sudden lake gale struck the vessel and drove it on the beach, and all the salt was lost but two or three barrels, one of them Daniel saved and bought a cow at $15. Mrs. H. says the father and sons cleared the island in the river. About 1808 or 1810, Benjamin Hopkins Sr. contracted for 500 acres of land in Mentor. Daniel Hopkins had 100 acres set off to him if he would go to work and pay for it; his 100 acres was what is known at this day as Hopkins Point. Benjamin Jr., next east of Daniel, had his on the same terms. The balance of 300 acres, their father and younger brother, Samuel took upon themselves; this lay at what is called the head of the marsh. Benjamin Hopkins Jr. in after years exchanged his marsh farm for one in Concord, lying between the old Robert Murray farm and the creek, and is dead. (To be continued) by C. C. Bronson

Glass Ball Shooting in Painesville
George R. Cowles, known as Yankee Cowels, has always been known as an expert with a gun, both rifle and shotgun. Ms. Cowles is about 63 years old. For the last year or more he has been sick; but for the last four months' he has been improving. Clayton Tinan and Charles Mallory, have come to the front as wing shots by steady practice. They gave Mr. Cowles banter on the streets to try his skill in shooting glass balls, thinking, from his illness and being out of practice that he would be nowhere with them. A match was got up and the parties agreed to shoot six balls each on the trial. Mr. Cowles broke five of the six; Tinan and Mallory only four each. They gave Mr. Cowels another challenge and met on October 20th. Mr. Cowles, Mr. Tinan, Mr. Mallory and a Mr. Downs, a noted shot of Connecticut, met and agreed to shoot at ten balls each. Mr. Cowles and Mr. Downs, were pitted against Mr. Tinan and Mr. Mallory. Mr. Downs broke 9 or the 10; Mr. Cowles, 8; Mr. Tinan, 7 and Mr. Mallory, 3. Thus ended the match.
Oct. 23, 1879

Florence McDonald, who recently shot S. M. Hickey in Cincinnati, was in her childhood a resident of Geneva. Some 20 years ago, R. S. Smith adopted the child, taking her from Cleveland, her parentage being unknown. She was but seven months old, and was called Ida McDonald by the people who had her previous to her adoption. “Flora,” as she was called by her foster parents, was a very pretty girl indeed. But wild and wayward. Mr. S. removed to Syracuse, N.Y., in 1875, and every effort was made in her behalf, but vainly, as she preferred the excitement of a fast life. Her murderous onslaught on Hickley, whom she violently loved, and the tragic ending of her own life, are doubtless already familiar to your readers.

Death of Miss Laura T. Huntington
Died at her father’s house, Nov. 5, 1879, Miss Laura T. Huntington. She died of consumption. Her memory will be carefully and lovingly cherished.

A Walk to Death
Last Friday a man by the name of Ross H. Power, of New London, walked off the Cleveland Viaduct when it was open to allow passage of a vessel. He fell 70 feet into the river and drowned. He had been in Cleveland only a few days, looking of employment.

A Wonderful Escape
Mr. Edward Cain, of this place, was thrown off the Schooner Helena, in a heavy squall on the 2nd. He was thrown 40 feet out from the vessel and surfaced tangled in rigging that had fallen with him. A line was thrown to him, and he was drawn on board. He reached home Tuesday evening with one arm badly lamed and swollen, but he was able to appear on the streets next day and it is hoped he will soon regain his usual strength.

Kirtland
The great storm has spent its force; the snow departed as quickly as it came, and today has been nearly as warm as summer. The roads are about as dry as ever. Unless heavy rains come there will be a great inconvenience in getting water for stock during the coming winter.

Another minister has come among us lately, Rev. Mr. Casells, of the Methodist Conference. We understand he is about to commence a series of revival meetings.

P. 2 Pioneer Matters
As stated in a previous article, Daniel Hopkins was born in 1790, and consequently was 15 years old when his father came with this family and settled in Painesville in 1805. Mrs. Hopkins said the first winter or two when they lived on the west bank of the Grand River and it was frozen over hard, one of General Paine's sons had to milk the cows, and on cold nights and mornings, he would hire Daniel to cross the river on the ice and do the milking for him. For five years, Mr. Hopkins worked in a brick yard at Fairport belonging to his brother-in-law, Mr. Hall, as foreman. Daniel was a successful hunter and trapper in the early day and continued to trap until near the close of his life. The marsh was noted as a place for trapping and Mr. Hopkins negotiated with the original proprietors to obtain title to the marsh and thus exclusive right to keep out all other trappers. He went to see his purchase and on his return said it would yield 100 bushels of bullfrogs to the acre and alligators enough to fence the tract. But he made money out of his marsh purchase by hunting, trapping and farming. He was able to buy a large number of acres of land which he owned at his death.

p. 1 Pioneer Sketch
Mrs. Anna Churchill Hopkins was the daughter of Samuel and Anna McCurty Churchill, and was born in Homer, Cortland Co., N.Y., April 9, 1804. Her parents moved into Auburn in the same county in March, 1819. She says that she lived in Mr. Austin’s family in Fairport one year and attended school and obtained a good common school education in those days. She was married in her father’s house in Auburn to Mr. Daniel Hopkins, Jan. 9, 1820. Soon after they began housekeeping in their own log house, on the farm in which she is living at the present time, and where she has resided 60 years except for six years they lived on what is today known as Hopkins’ Point on land that has since been washed away by the waves of Lake Erie. Mr. Daniel Hopkins died at his home in Mentor, May 24, 1867, age 77 years. They were the parents of eleven children, all but two of whom are living. Phebe and Charles left five children, Lovina has six, Daniel has three, Wilson has two, and Edward has three, making 19 grandchildren. Mrs. Hopkins has a comfortable home with her children and grandchildren in the vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins were married more than 67 years, and have been residents of Lake Co., over 63 years.

p. 3 Mr. L. B. Gibbs, of Fargo, is in town visiting friends until the last of the month.

Mrs. E. M. Hitchcock and son, of Northfield, Minn., are visiting friends in town over the holiday. Mrs. Hitchcock will join them at Christmas.

Last Saturday while Mr. William Shepherd, of Kingsville, Ashtabula Co., was at work in his well, it caved in burying him some 10 or 12 feet with earth. He was recused alive and thought not to be seriously injured though it was two hours before he was recused.

Rev. Geo. T. Ladd came here to attend the funeral of his father the past week, and is still in town. The other children of the deceased are Mary Elizabeth, wife of Prof. J. A. Towle, of Ripon College; Martha, wife of Rev. L. O. Brastow, Burlington, Vt.; Laura W. Ladd, Painesville, and Clara B., wife of C. O. Higgins, Painesville. All were present at the funeral except Mrs. Towle, who was unable to attend on account of illness in her family.

The Geneva Times reports Mr. S. N. Castle of that town, while recently crossing the railroad in the evening, was prostrated by a stroke of paralysis, and when discovered was lying insensible on the main track. He was removed and is now in a fair way to recover.

Weather: There have been alternate rains and snows, with a sprinkling of hail and calms and blows, the latter strong enough to lift the hair from a cast iron statue. Surely, there is no necessity for one to go from home for a change of climate.

Monday afternoon at Ashtabula Harbor, two fishermen, Wm. Arthur and Frank Whelply, went out in a row boat to lift some nets and did not return. A search was made and found the boat washed up on the beach a mile below the pier. It is supposed the boat capsized and the men drowned. Arthur leaves a wife and several small children. The bodies up to Tuesday had not been found.

Mr. W. C. Ellis, late an employee in the Telegraph office, has located at St. Paul, Nebraska. It is a town of 1,500 inhabitants and is growing rapidly.

A Curiosity
Mr. Louis Rynd, of Mentor Plains, received through the post office from Fort Buford, Dakota, a gift from William Martin, his adopted son. The gift was an Indian's tobacco pouch. Its length is scarcely less than three feet, the upper part, being about one-third of the entire length, is of elk skin and trimmed and ornamented with colored glass beads. The balance of the pouch is entirely ornamental work, peculiar to the Indians, and to the whole is attached a long fringe made from elk skin.
Mr. Rynd, also, received at the same time a pair of moccasins made of elk skin and highly ornamented with beads.

Madison
Death has again visited us and taken from our midst Mr. William Corlett, of North Madison. On Sunday, the 6th he was attacked with typhoid pneumonia which culminated in his death on Friday morning at the age of 68 years.

Our jeweler, Mr. George Voerge, will leave sometime this week to engage in business in Cleveland.

North Madison, Dec. 16, 1879
Mr. Orrin Baker, of Portage Co., is stopping at North Madison on account of the illness of his father, Mr. C. C. Baker, who is still failing in health.

The Branch residence which is being built where the old house was burned a year ago, is nearly completed. Mrs. Branch and her daughter, Alma, who have been visiting relatives in New York, returned home last week.

Geneva, Dec. 15, 1879
David Stowe had injured his hand at the Lock Factory recently. Gangrene set in, and it is thought his hand may need to be amputated.

Tallmadge
Mr. and Mrs. G. Stiles Ingersoll celebrated their 30th anniversary by inviting friends to a party. It was, also, the 29th birthday of their son, George H., all of Cleveland. Mr. Ingersoll lives on Lake Street. George Stiles, the eldest son of Erastus and Emeri-Munson Stiles, of Mentor, married Miss Ann Maria Howe, of Plainville, Nov. 29, 1849, and were for many years residents of Painesville. Present were: George H. Ingersoll and Emma Brown Ingersoll, his wife and one child; George A. Randall and Carrie E. Ingersoll, his wife with two children; Nellie M. Ingersoll, their youngest child, of 15 summers, and C. C. Bronson and wife. Frank H. Ingersoll, of Concord, unfortunately, was not present with his family. Mrs. Bronson being the eldest and in her 70th year, and Oliver P. Randall, born Sept. 10th, the youngest of four generations. By C. C. Bronson

The somewhat singular coincidence of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Rosaville Hart, of Kirtland, calls forth a passing notice. Mr. Hart was the son of Stephen and Mary Hart. He was born in Barkhamsted, Litchfield, Co. Conn, Aug. 26, 1797. He married Miss Lovina Hilbourn, Jan 6th, 1825, in Litchfield where she was born April 21st, 1804. They were the parents of five children all of whom died young but two. Mrs. Smith died in Kirtland, April 11, 1852, age 21 years. Emily L. is left to mourn the loss of her dear parents who have watched and cared for her while she was an invalid. In Oct., 1833, Mr. and Mrs. Hart came to Ohio and settled in Mentor and in 1879 moved to Kirtland where they have lived for 40 years. Mrs. Hart died Nov. 18, 1879, age 75 years, her funeral being on the 20th, and in half an hour after her hearse left the house, Mr. Hart died, age 82 years. Mr. and Mrs. Hart had been married 54 years.

p. 1 Joseph Wilson, for over fifty years, a resident of Dorset, Ashtabula Co., died very suddenly last week.
Dec. 25, 1879

Mr. Cyrus Woodworth, a much-esteemed citizen of Williamsfield, Ashtabula Co, committed suicide recently.

A man named Komer, of Lordstown, Trumbull Co., on his way home from Youngstown the other day, called at a house to get a package and, while lifting it into his wagon, fell dead from a stroke of apoplexy.

Benjamin Reeves, of New Lyme, Ashtabula Co., died recently at the advance age of 93 years. He had been a member of the Masonic Order for 72 years and was supposed to be the oldest Mason in the State at the time of his death. He was one of nine who organized the first Freewill Baptist church in his town, and was made its Deacon in 1826.

Mr. Frank L. Griswold, of Springfield, is among the young men who have come home to spend Christmas. He is on the Engineer Corps of the Springfield Southern.

Mrs. S. H. White, of Detroit, is spending some weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Miller, in Painesville. Mr. White arrives this week to remain through the holidays.

Mr. D. T. Devereaux, who moved from Mentor to Painesville last autumn, was brought before Judge Shepherd last Wednesday, adjudged insane and taken to the hospital at Newburgh on Thursday.

Weather: In contrast with last year, we are having a green Christmas.

Mr. H. C. Durand, of Mentor, who was an insurance and real estate agent here, leaves for St. Louis to take a position with the Pullman Car company on one of their lines.

Capt. Geo. O. Baker, has sold his interest in the James Couch, and has retired from the business of navigating the lakes.

Death of an Early Settler
Mr. C. C. Baker died at his residence in North Madison, Dec. 15th, age 63 years. Mr. Baker was among the early settlers of Madison Township, having removed there with his father’s family from Oneida Co., N.Y., in 1819. He had been something of an invalid for several years; during the last few months he became so feeble he could do no manual labor. He was one of the company from Madison that journeyed over the plains to California in 1852.

A Narrow Escape
Mr. Henry Cummings, residing near the fairgrounds, met with an almost fatal accident last Wednesday. While loading gravel in the pit at the top of Moody Hill, the bank suddenly caved in entirely burying Mr. Cummings and partly covering the wagon and horses. A woman who witnessed the accident succeed in removing the gravel from about his head and then summoned help; Mr. Cummings was soon liberated.

Sudden Death
Mrs. Mary E., wife of Judson Johnson, died very suddenly Dec. 18th. She was accustomed to visit her husband’s market frequently, and on this evening had remained there for an hour or more. She started for home with her little daughter, Mr. Johnson following a minute or two later. He found her sitting on the stepping stone in front of the residence of Collins Morse, bleeding from the mouth profusely. She was unable to speak, but rose up and immediately fell lifeless into his arms. The little girl had run across the street and gotten Dr. Beardslee, who gave it as his opinion that she died the moment she fell into her husband’s arms from the bursting of a blood vessel. She was 34 years old. For a long time, Mrs. Johnson has been in feeble health, yet able to attend to many home duties. The husband and little daughter have the sympathy of our hearts.

From Sunday, Washington Herald, Dec. y
The wedding of Maj. Eugene O. Fechet and Miss Mary Montgomery took place at Christ Church, Georgetown, last Wednesday evening. Maj.
