p. 2   The Late Charlotte W. Bond
Charlotte W. Bond, a resident of Kirtland during the last 48 years, is dead. She had lived 79 years, passing away on her 79th birthday, Dec. 17, 1882. She was born Dec. 17, 1803, in Honeoye Falls, New York. She was married 60 years, one month and 10 days. The husband of her youth, Ira Bond, still survives, at the ripe old age of nearly 85 years. She leaves 6 children, 10 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. Ten years after her marriage, through the fervid preaching of the new strange faith of Mormon by Brigham Young, she became a firm, conscientious believer and member of the “Church of Latter-Day Saints”: Young officiating at her baptism. Charlotte Bond was greatly opposed to the polygamy of the church. The family came by wagon to Kirtland. The records show that in lineal descent she was sixth from John Sibley, who came from England in 1629, settling in Salem, Mass. She had 11 years of total blindness and constant pain and prayed for her death. Her grave is in the old Kirtland Cemetery a few steps from her home where she died and a few rods from the Temple where she worshipped.

The Reception at Penfield’s
Wednesday evening, the elegant residence of Mr. J. W. Penfield, was the scene of unusual festivities participated in by a large and brilliant company assembled to do honor to the marriage of his nephew, L. W. Penfield, and Miss Emma Johnson, a beautiful and talented young lady, of Toledo. They were married in the latter city on the 3rd instant. The occasion may be justly marked as one of the principal events in the annals of the town. The house was a blaze of lights showing off to find advantage the richly furnished rooms. Flowers, smilax, and wreaths of evergreen were tastily displayed; and together with the varied and elegant costumes of the ladies, a most charming scene was presented. There were almost 200 guests. At 10 o’clock a collation was spread in the dining room. Music both vocal and instrumental was given at intervals. Mr. and Mrs. Penfield will become permanent citizens of the town. Following were guests from abroad: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Raymond, Mr. Ed. Witker, Mr. E. A. Eversman and Miss Mattie Stebbins, of Toledo; Prof. and Mrs. J. T. Extracts of a Florida letter from Joseph Plaisted to R. C. Bates, dated Dec. 31, 1882, Deland:
“I have been here two weeks and seen one fine day. It rained most of the time and cold. I will tell you what I think of Florida: It is white barren sand; they have to fertilize for sweet potatoes and oranges; they raise cabbages as large as your fist and sell them for 15 cents each. We have both been very sick and the water is very poor. The people who have been here any length of time look yellow and thin and have no energy at all. Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Rich came to see us today and they had on their wraps and mittens.”

Mr. Thos. Cox went to Canton on Monday and purchased one of the latest improved steam threshers and separators combined with a twelve horse power engine. We believe this is the only one in the county of such dimensions.
From Florida – Extracts of a letter from Mrs. E. W. Bond to relatives in Willoughby:

This is what might be called a cool or hot day. If you are in the sun it is decidedly hot; if in the shade it is just right for comfort. There are roses, lantanas, etc. grown out of doors. We picked oranges yesterday. It seems so strange that this is December. It tires me it is so warm like June or July. But I would rather have good crisp frosts, if it does not destroy the leaves and the roses. We will appreciate them the more when they bud and bloom again.

The Elwell Gas Well

The gas well drilled on the farm of the Elwells in this village is now complete, and all the fixtures are in both houses. In Mr. Alfred Elwell’s house we find 8 fires and 32 burners; and in the house of A. J. Elwell, there are 4 fires and 22 burners—making a total for both houses of 23 fires and 54 gas jets. Parties of well known experience in such matters say that it is the largest flow of gas that has been developed in any well along the lake shore between Erie and Sandusky. Both houses, which are large, are completely lighted and warmed from cellar to garret. The drilling was done under the supervision of Mr. O. Humphrey, assisted by Mr. T. Hunt, both of this village.

Details of the accident of Mr. George Lamoreaux:

Mr. Rockafellow (his brother-in-law) was telegraphed, and in company with the undertaker, Manville, went to Wickliffe and brought the body to the village. The funeral

She leaves a father, husband, and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob V. Viall celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. Viall came to Willoughby (then Chagrin) in the year 1815, his native place being Pittstown, N.Y. On January 31, 1833, he married Miss Cynthia, daughter of Wm. and Clarissa Jones, on the home farm in Wickliffe, now occupied by E. M. Jones. The ceremony was performed by Judge Lapham. The Jones family came to this township in 1817, from East Haddam, Conn. They operated the Eagle Mills for awhile then moved into the village keeping the brick hotel at the time when the Medical College was in its prosperity and accommodating a number of students as boarders. Their present residence and farm, we believe, was purchased about 1854. Mr. Viall was Justice of the Peace for many terms and Sheriff for four years. Seven children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Viall, three of whom died while young, and three were present at the occasion: E. W., of Oshkosh, Wis.; Clara J. and Fred V. now residing at home; George (a dentist of New York) was unable to be present. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tarbell, of Bedford. Mr. Tarbell is a relative of the family, his father (Col. Tarbell) entering the state at the same time as Wm. Jones 1817.

Mrs. Aurelia Bemis will celebrate her 90th birthday today. Interesting Reminiscences from the Buffalo Express: Mrs. Aurelia Bemis, the widow of the late Asaph S. Bemis, is probably the only woman living in Buffalo who was present at the burning of the village in 1814. Mrs. Bemis lives with her eldest son, Elijah who is nearly 70 years old, at No. 147 Franklin St. She was born in Danbury, Conn., Jan 25, 1793, and came to live in Buffalo in 1810. Mrs. Bemis’ father was Gamaliel St. John and her mother was Margaret Kinsman Marsh. Gamaliel St.
Feb. 16, 1883

John was born Sept. 22, 1766, and married Miss Marsh in Kent, Oct. 16, 1788. In Danbury, five of their children were born: Elijah Northrup, Maria, Aurelia (now Mrs. Bemis), Cyrus Marsh, and Sarah. Soon after the birth of Sarah, they moved to the village of Westmoreland, Oneida Co., N.Y., where a daughter, Margaret, was born. They moved to Cayuga Co., where three more children were born: Parnell, Martha, and John Ransom. After 6 or 7 years, they moved to Williamsville, Niagara Co., where their son LeGrand O. was born. Mr. St. John bought a home from Mrs. Chapman on lot no. 53 of the Holland Land Co. Survey and moved the family there in 1810. In May of that year, the eleventh child was born, Orson Swift St. John. On Oct. 3, 1812, Aurelia St. John was married to Asaph Bemis by Judge Oliver Forward. Mrs. Bemis was the mother of six children, only two of whom are now living. Her first child, Mary Ann, married Mr. E. H. Thompson, of Flint, Michigan. She died some years ago. Elijah St. John Bemis was the second child. The next son, Asaph S. Bemis, is a lawyer in this city; another daughter, Helen, died in her youth. Catherine married John Bartow, mother of Dr. B. Bartow, of this city. Maria, the youngest daughter, married Elisha Morrow, of Green Bay, Wisconsin. Of Mrs. Bemis’ sisters, Sarah, married Judge Wilkeson; Parnell became Mrs. Jonathan Sidway; and Margaret became Mrs. Thomas M. Foote. Her brothers: John R. was editor of the Cleveland Herald for a number of years; Dr. O. S. St. John, the only other member of the family now living, read medicine in this city with Drs. Trowbridge and Marshall. He is now a wealthy and prominent citizen of Willoughby, Ohio. (The article, also, gives Mrs. Bemis’ reminiscences of the Indians and the War of 1812.)

and falling upon him, and Wm. Crobaugh receiving injuries in his side and face from a falling limb. Hill is said to have exhibited considerable nerve and firmness in dragging himself some distance to the barn, harnessing a horse, and riding to a neighbor’s from whence he could send to town for assistance. Both cases are reported as doing well.

Kirtland

Mr. Kitchen was well known through this section of the county and the news of his death was received with unfeigned sorrow. The Painesville dispatch to the Herald of the 13th, gives court news. The Grand Jury made the following indictments:

D. O. Carter, of the county infirmary, for assault and battery (making now 10 indictments standing against him for the same offense)
Joseph Caddoo for selling liquor contrary to law
Also, the same against O. McCrone and J. B. Barnes.
John McCrone, William Barnes, and Stephen Manny for disturbing a religious meeting.
Henry Haggard, for housebreaking and larceny.
Wallace Johnson, J. L. Ordner, and George Loell for assault and battery.

Mr. E. Cadle has been in feeble health most of the winter, but is slowly recovering.
Little Ruth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gerould, of Cleveland, died Feb. 5, of diphtheria, not quite four years old. The bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of their many Mentor friends.

Kirtland

On Saturday last, our village was the scene of a good deal of excitement caused by the announcement early in the day that Joseph Kitchen had suddenly dropped dead; and a little later that the leg of Albert Morgan had been severed from his body by a falling tree; and a little later came the news that Mrs. Job Harris had fallen receiving severe injuries.

Mr. Kitchen visited Painesville last Friday, and on the following morning arose in his usual health, ate breakfast as usual, and upon its conclusion, his son, Henry, who was sitting by his side, felt his father leaning against him, and turning discovered he was dead—without a struggle or a sigh. He was 61 years old. Mr. Kitchen was born in Nantwich, Cheshire Co., England, in Oct., 1821, and came to this country in the year 1855, and since then except for a brief time spent in Painesville and a year spent out west, he has been a citizen of Kirtland. He leaves a wife, son, and grandson to mourn his loss. His funeral took place at the home yesterday, Rev. A. P. Buel officiating, and his body now lies in the vault in Mentor.

Mr. Morgan had to have his injured leg amputated above the knee. He is as young man with a wife and one child.
Mrs. Harris slipped on the porch in front of the house and fell 4 feet to the hard frozen ground. Being a large woman (over 200 lbs.) the shock was very severe, but no bones were broken, and it is thought her recovery will not be long delayed.

Rev. Geo. F. Bronson, formerly a pastor of the Congregational Church in Kirtland, dropped dead just after he performed a marriage ceremony at LaSalle, Illinois. He left Kirtland 13 or 14 years ago.

Mrs. Austin Damon has gone to visit her son Charles and family at North East, Pa.
Charles Harvey has a new baby girl.
A. Damon who has been in the mercantile business here forty years, will discontinue trade in the spring owing to ill health.

D. H. Woodard is at home with his family for a short time. He will return to Fort Wayne, Indiana, and resume his labors in behalf of the American Bible Society.

Feb. 23, 1883  Friday
p. 2 A letter from Chester last week to the Chagrin Falls Exponent, thus alludes to the condition of Mr. Fessenden, who was injured last fall by a runaway team: Mr. C. W., Fessenden remains about the same, though there may be slight improvement, he still requires watching every night, which brings a large number of men into the circle. It has been four months since he was injured. His limbs are paralyzed, though he can use his arms a very little. Internal injuries are holding him back from recovery.

North Mentor
Oliver Jones had the misfortune to break his leg while hauling logs last Wednesday.

South Willoughby
A very enjoyable gathering was held Feb. 17 at the residence of Mrs. Rachel Schram, in the southern part of town, near what is known as the Schram schoolhouse, in honor of her 75th birthday. Aunt Rachel, as she is called, is an old resident, having lived in the neighborhood most of her life, and is one of the few pioneers left in our vicinity. This morning she went to her daughter’s (Mrs. George Garnett) for a little while and when she returned, found 25 relatives and neighbors at the house. She received a nice large arm chair from the company, also, a pretty pickle dish by Miss Jennie Presley, and a bookmark for her bible by Mrs. Sawyer.

D. M. Sanborn, while driving last week and leading another horse behind, received a quite severe injury to one of his hands. The led horse becoming frightened at a roadside engine, shied backward, the cord by which he was held cut to the bone one of Mr. Sanborn’s hands.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Whiting gave a birthday party for their mother, Mrs. Lorinda Whiting, age 84. Grandmother Whiting has been a cripple some years from rheumatism, with the single exception of hearing, she seems to be in full possession of her faculties. She was born in Massachusetts in a family of seven sisters and five brothers. At age 19 she married Charles Whiting and soon after started for the far west, which at that time lay no further than central or western New York. After a while they pushed on to Kirtland, Ohio, which they reached 46 or 48 years ago. Sixteen years ago, her husband died. Many a child, stockingless and blanketless, has received things that she made.

Crobaugh), two sisters and four brothers—one sister preceded him in death. For 25 years, he was a photographer in Cleveland, then in Willoughby, but for the last 10 years was employed by the government to carry the mail from the post office to the depot. He was instrumental in forming the first brass band in Willoughby becoming its leader. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Presbyterian Church. Final interment will be in the village cemetery.

The Late Leonard Wilson
Mr. Leonard Wilson died at the residence of his son, S. C. Wilson, Windsor, Ashtabula Co., March 1. The deceased was born in White Hall, New York, in 1798. He was one of six children. His father and three uncles were soldiers in the Revolutionary War. When 14 years old, his father, who was engaged in the war of 1812, left him and his elder brother to take care of the farm and family. As a boy, he remembered the battle of Lake Champlain and had with boyish curiosity slipped upon the deck of a British man-of-war before it had been cleared of its dead and wounded, and spoke of it as the most horrible moment of his life. In 1820, he married Polly, fourth daughter of Capt. Winegar, of Fort Ann, N.Y. He lived there two years and moved to Herkimer Co., N.Y., with a family of two children. In 1830 he moved to Chautauqua, having at that time five children. He lived there several years and eight more children were added. He went west and settled in Union City, Penn., where the youngest daughter died and the two eldest married the Dunham brothers, where they have lived ever since. In 1847, he moved to Ohio, living in Mentor and Willoughby; finally in 1860, all the children were married and gone. He and his wife went to Iowa and purchased a farm at Muscatine. Homesick, they came back to Willoughby. In 1873, he buried his wife. Last spring he suffered a stroke of paralysis. One of his family is still left—a sister, Mrs. J. Bishop, of Medina Co., over 90 years of age. Ten of his children survive him. There are forty-four grandchildren and twenty-eight great-grandchildren. The remains are in the vault and finally will be laid to rest in the village cemetery.

Death of Mr. J. B. Campbell
The unexpected news of the death of J. B. Campbell, of Silver City, New Mexico, was received by his relatives here a few days ago. Mr. Campbell, who was a son of Lucy Campbell and brother of Mrs. Charles Pelton, left here in the fall of 1867 for Texas, where he resided about two years, removing thence to New Mexico. He was 45 years old and unmarried. His remains will be brought here and interred in the family burying grounds at Maple Grove. The death was caused by congestion of the lungs and brain.

Death by Suicide
Mrs. E. P. Barnes (Della) took her life on Wednesday afternoon. She had been out of health all winter and despondent. When her husband left home in the morning, she seemed better than usual. Returning home at 1:00 for dinner, he found his wife in bed lifeless. She left a note to say she had taken strychnine. Her health was poor and she saw no prospects of being any better and did not want to be a burden to family and friends. She asked to be buried by her mother. She was a daughter of Mr. John Ward and almost 30 years old and had been married less than a year. The funeral services will be at the Disciple Church.
Sketches of Kirtland Old Folks

Jared Randall, age 80 years, was born in Bolton Township, Warren Co., N.Y., on Apr. 2. In 1829, he married Miss Matilda Tanner on May 16. Six years afterwards, they moved to Northumberland, Saratoga Co. for two years, when they came to Kirtland (then Geauga Co.), Ohio, June 6, 1837. On May 16, 1879, they had been married half a century. His home for ten years, perhaps more, is 1 ½ miles south of the Mormon Temple. Five children were raised and have gone out to found homes of their own. Mrs. Davis, the eldest daughter, lives in Chickasaw Co., Iowa; Mrs. Tuttle’s home is near Painesville. Her husband is a brother of Judge Tuttle. The third daughter, Mrs. Sharpe, lives in this township nearly opposite the old homestead. Her husband went into the army and down to the sea with Sherman; then to Richmond. His Christian name is George and he never asked for a pension. The only son Henry Randall, lives on the old Gotham farm in Kirtland, age 50, or a trifle over. Mr. Randall in Sept., 1837, started with team and wagons for Missouri, carrying four persons beside himself: Nathan Turner and Amasa Lyman with their wives. His route was along the Chillicothe highway, an old Indian trail from the lakes to the town of that name on the Scioto, till he entered Columbus and struck the National Road. They arrived eventually at Coldwell Co., Mo. After resting a week and buying forty acres, he started homeward.

p. 2 The Late Harrison Martin
Not many can boast of a pioneer life of 71 years; Harrison Martin was one. He lived many years near the Congregational Church and died April 26. He was born in Vermont Apr. 29, 1809. At three years of age he came with his father to Royalton, Medina Co., Ohio. Six years, thereafter, they were living in Munson, Geauga Co. In 1822, the family came to Kirtland locating not far from where Henry Martin now lives. He had four brothers and two sisters: Harrison, Elisha, Cyrus, and Michael, the last two named living in Penn. The sisters were Amanda and Minerva. His father’s name was Duty. When Duty, in moving to Ohio, passed through Cleveland, he was offered 100 acres of good land, now lying in the very heart of the city for his yoke of cattle. He refused the offer and continued on his way to Medina. In 1847, he married Clarissa Button and to them were born eight children: Alvena, wife of Wm. McCann, of Chardon; Lafayette; Alice (who died at age 5); Sylvia, wife of George Royer; George, Lucy, Lillie, and William H. He owned 30 acres of some of the best fruit land on the Western Reserve. Few pioneers knew more about the nature of the forests and the different plants than Harrison Martin. He was a Republican in politics. He was buried on the bank of the river known as the East Branch near Reuben Harmon’s.

In Memoriam
Elbridge Leonard died at his home in Willoughby Friday afternoon, May 18. He was born in Worthington, Mass., Feb. 10, 1803. In 1812, his father started with his family for a new home on the Western Reserve, for which he had exchanged his Massachusetts farm. At Sangersfield, N.Y., they were obliged to stay 1 ½ years as it was unsafe to travel on account of the war and the depredations of the Indians. The winter following Perry’s victory, they continued their journey to their wilderness home which was located in Pierpont, Ashtabula Co., Ohio. When he was 14 years old, his father died leaving a family of eight children, of which he was the third in age. Later he took his father’s farm, assuming the responsibility of paying the claims of the other children, and there he lived with his mother until her death.
May 25, 1883
On Jan. 19, 1843, he married Phoebe Augusta Kellogg, of Ashtabula. To them were born five children—four daughters and one son. In 1857, they sold their farm and moved to Meadville Pa. In 1865, they moved to Collamer, Ohio, where they lived 4 years. During their residence at Collamer, their only son, William E., drowned while bathing in the lake. For the past 14 years, Mr. Leonard has lived in Willoughby. Nearly 10 years ago, Sept. 16, 1873, his wife died; since which time his home has been kept for him by his daughters. His children who survive him are: Mrs. Florence A. Page, Mrs. Esther A. Rudd, and Miss Clara E. Leonard. One daughter died in infancy. He died of bronchial consumption from which he had suffered for many years. Rev. J. F. Fisher, of the M. E. Church, officiated at the funeral.

Death of S. S. Brinkerhoff

S. S. Brinkerhoff died Saturday night at 8:30 from the effects of a pistol shot received last Friday afternoon. The deceased was born near Auburn, N.Y., Apr. 15, 1838, and removed to Plymouth, Huron Co., Ohio, with his parents when an infant. He received his education at the Academy of Carlisle, and Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio and commenced the study of law at Painesville with Bissell & Tinker. He was mustered into the state militia, Apr. 16, 1861, and into Co. D, 7th O.V.I., May 2, 1861. He left the service Nov., ‘65 with the rank of Major, after 2 ½ years on detached duty. He came to Kansas Nov., 1867, and settled at Osage Mission but moved to Fort Scott the following spring and made it his permanent home. The deceased was an able lawyer, a kind-hearted man, and a loving father. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn him. We learn his life was insured. The deceased requested that at his funeral the hymn “Nearer My God to Thee” be sung. The remains were buried in Maple Grove, 6 miles north of this city (East Fort Scott) in Osage Township, where the remains of his first wife lay buried.

p. 2 Big Fire in Willoughby on Friday morning, Nov. 9. The fire started in the rear of the stores on Erie St. in the southwest corner of Mr. T. S. Harbach’s barn. The fire spread to building on Spaulding St. and stores on Erie St. The wind blowing from the northwest was a perfect gale. Mr. Harbach’s barn had in it a pair of fine grays and a wagon belonging to Mr. Penfield; mules of George Sharpe; a horse and buggy of E. Crawford. The dwelling houses of Mr. A. W. Gunn and Capt. Kennedy on Spaulding St. burned down. The towering block of Mr. Bond’s stood like a rock and stopped the progress of the flames. By almost super human effort the stores on the east side of Erie and the dwellings on the south side of Spaulding were saved. Men, Women, and children were engaged in fighting the fires in the absence of any fire department. (The article lists the buildings and animals lost in the fire.)

Arthur Justus died at the residence of his father in Mentor on Monday night at the age of 35.
Nov. 16, 1883
Two horses were run over and killed Monday night by train No. 5 on the Lake Shore, west of the village. They belonged to the George A. Baker place, and were valuable animals. We are informed that Dr. Dalrymple has decided to locate in Bradford, Pa., where he at once removes.

Mr. Lucian B. Smith, as guardian of George Elliott, will offer livestock at auction on the premises of the later on the lake shore near, the old salt works, Thurs., Nov. 22, in this township. Mr. Thos. Cox narrowly escaped injury a few days ago. While driving to Cleveland with three horses, the wagon being loaded with cider, the horses took fright at the Pittsburg crossing throwing Mr. C. under the wagon which passed over him, and but for the presence of mind in turning his head, he would not be alive to tell the story. As it is, he is only suffering from slight wounds and bruises.

A history of the two previous Willoughby fires is given: One occurring January 13, ’67 and the other December of the same year.

Married
Moore – Dowen
At the Presbyterian parsonage, Nov. 13, by Rev. A. J. Waugh, Mr. H. Perry Moore, of Kirtland, and Mrs. Ora S. Dowen, of Willoughby.

William E. Blair, of east Kirtland, prints a card of thanks. “Last June I lost a valuable mare. The citizens of Kirtland and vicinity subscribed about $100 to help buy another horse. Having recently arrived home from the west, where I have been most of the time for two years, I do most heartily return thanks for their aid—especially to E. R. Kingsley for the aid that he rendered.”

Wickliffe
Addie Ferguson was the second student in five years to die who attended Wickliffe School: The first being the little daughter of Frank Hardaker who died 4 years ago this fall. Addie Ferguson was born Dec. 2, 1866, and died at 7:45 on the morning of Nov. 12. She had been considered dangerously sick for perhaps a week. On Sunday night she fell in to a drowsy stupor, from which time she gradually slept away her life. The disease was pronounced as a malignant form of scarlet fever and all the medical skill that was summoned could not save her life. On Tuesday, the 13th, the remains were interred in the beautiful cemetery on the Ridge, near the center of the township.

West Kirtland
The well known old sorrel, Burkh, so many years driven by J. Kitts, will be seen no more. He was 27 years old, raised by Mr. K., and served his master for 24 years of that time. It was considered an act of humanity to shoot the faithful old beast, whose failing teeth were wholly inadequate for their purpose.

Mentor
Miss Genie Justus is going to Cleveland to spend the winter with her father’s family. Mrs. Eugene Morse, with her daughter, Lola, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Baxter. Miss Jenny King has spent part of the past week with relatives in Cleveland. Spencer Munson, George Bell, and others are prospecting in Tennessee with a view to locating in the sunny clime sometime in the future. F. W. Aldrich and family are situated in eastern Tennessee, eight miles from Knoxville. Mr. Aldrich has a lumber mill on the bank of the Clinch River, and will soon be joined by his brother, Will.

The funeral of Arthur Justus was held at the residence of his father, Sidney Justus, last Wednesday. He was only 35 years old and had been ill but a short time; disease, quick consumption.

Geo. Blish has gone west on a delightful trip. In Chicago he was to meet his cousin, C. H. Moore of Clinton, Ill., where they planned to “take in” the fat cattle show, and then proceed to Iowa City and other points of interest.
A barn on the premises of Geo. Hickox burned to the ground a short time ago, and when the ashes were raked over afterwards, human bones were found (so they say) and it is supposed some drunken tramp had been there and stayed too long.
Very favorable news is received by Mentor relatives of Mrs. Emily Bradley and daughter. They are pleasantly located about 6 miles from Los Angeles, Cal., at the same place as Mrs. Ed Farris (nee Miss Carrie Daniels) and her husband.
Eleazer Burridge Jr. was married to Miss Nellie Colgrove, of Perry, not long ago, and an account of their marriage was due you last week; but will have to be condensed now to the simple fact that they are actually wedded and going to live in Mentor.
Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer left her on the 10th for Akron, where the marriage of Miss Blanche Pardee and Mr. Willard Sawyer took place on the 14th. All four of these young people are en route to Utah, where they propose not to join the Mormons, but to go into the cattle business. May success and happiness attend our dear Mentor boys and girls.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, of Santa Barbara, Cal., have been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson. It will be remembered by some of our readers that Mrs. Ford used to be Nellie Webster, and Mentor was her old home. It was our good fortune to see a large number of Mr. Ford’s landscape paintings and he ranks among the first of American artists.

Explanation of the New Standard Time
As the earth in its rotation causes the sun to pass over 15 degrees of the earth’s surface in one hour, the next meridian is just one hour distance in the point of time. The first or Eastern section is at the 75th meridian (in which Washington is located). The next is the central district. The third is at the 105th meridian which is called Mountain Time. The next time standard will be through the 120th meridian called Pacific Coast Standard: Pacific coast time being three hours slower than that of the eastern district. When it is noon in New York, it will be 9:00 in San Francisco.

The work of raising the new bridge near Wm. Firth’s, Pleasant Valley, is completed except the necessary filling in with dirt. The bridge was found too low in time of freshet; hence, it was raised 24 inches. Porter Rice and son, John, furnished and set the stone, about 5 cords, quarried on the land of Mr. Daniels. The blocks were 5 x 3 and 2 feet in thickness. The bridge was raised to accommodate the stone by an ingenious method. (The article does not describe the method.)

Quite a company of relatives and friends assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Canfield, last Sat., to celebrate their 15th wedding anniversary. Geauga Republican

Last week Mrs. Fowles received from England a package which was a wedding gift for her daughter (Minnie) now Mrs. Witherby. It as a toilet set of blue satin and plush, with a bureau spread to match; also, a table scarf—all of excellent design and elaborate workmanship. The gift was from cousins of Mrs. Witherby.

Since our last issue, Mr. Harbach has sold his property fronting on Erie St. (on the burnt district), 92 feet to Mr. E. W. Bond for $6,600. It is the intention of Mr. Bond to build a two story brick block at once, giving four goodly-sized storerooms, in addition to numerous apartments on the second floor. We are told that the stores are already engaged and that the Masonic Fraternity will occupy the entire second floor over the north store adjoining the present brick block.

Our old friend, F. M. Leonard, many years a resident of Thompson, writes to the Geauga Republican concerning the death of Mr. R. Marshall:

“Raphael Marshall was buried at Painesville, Nov. 3. It is not my purpose to write an obituary though I had been conversant with him for some 60 years, living in his father’s family long ago, and marrying into the same family five years later, he in 1834, I in 1839. At his funeral four daughters and two sons were present—one son and one daughter coming from Northern Michigan. One daughter from Iowa arrived three days sooner. On Tuesday, the three girls of Mr. Marshall (who always enjoyed visiting at Uncle Frank’s so much) made a stay with us overnight, returning to Painesville.”

Death of G. H. Lillie

A few days ago Mr. W. A. Lillie received the announcement of his brother’s death in a letter from Sam’l P. Huntington. He died on the 13th Nov., after an illness of 2 hours. He was stricken with paralysis and died. He retained his usual color and appeared so life-like that a doctor was called to the funeral to satisfy the family that he was really dead. G. H. Lillie was born in Franklin, Portage Co., Ohio, in 1819, removing with his parents to Chester in 1822, where he resided until he became a young man. He then went to Warren where he read law and then to Grant Co., Wis., where he practiced law until 1857. He immigrated to Kansas and took an active part in the effort to make Kansas a free state. He served in the Legislature a number of terms. He was Probate Judge, of Greenwood Co., for the last six years of his active life. He had suffered three paralytic attacks, the last one proving fatal.

p. 2  Death of Judge Reuben Hitchcock
The death of Reuben Hitchcock took place last Sunday afternoon at Clifton Springs, N.Y., where he had been stopping for his health. The remains were brought to Painesville where the funeral was held. From the Herald of Tuesday, we take the following extracts:

Reuben Hitchcock was the eldest son of Hon. Peter Hitchcock, former Chief Justice of Ohio. He was born at Burton, Geauga Co., Sept. 2, 1806. He was educated in the Burton Academy and entered college at age 17. In 1823, he rode on horseback to New Haven and entered Yale College. In 1826, he graduated. He returned to Burton and became an instructor at Burton Academy. He studied law and in 1831 at a session of the Supreme Court in Geauga Co. was admitted to practice law. He moved to Painesville and entered into practice with Stephen Matthews, then later with Eli T. Wilder. In 1841, he was appointed Presiding Judge of the Common Pleas Court in the Lake County District. In 1846 he moved to Cleveland and became associated with H. V. Wilson and Edward Wade under the name Hitchcock, Wilson & Wade. In 1851, he was elected Judge of Common Pleas for Lake and Geauga Counties—a position he resigned in 1855 to become Vice President of the Cleveland & Mahoning Railroad, of which he became the legal advisor. After the completion of the railroad, he again went to Cleveland and practiced law with associates James Mason and E. J. Estep under the name Hitchcock, Mason & Estep. In 1865, he gave up his law practice but retained his connection with the railroad as legal advisor. Judge Hitchcock was one of the founders of the Lake Erie Female Seminary at Painesville and remained president of the board of trustees from its organization. He was a trustee of Western Reserve College for many years; he was, also, President and Trustee of the Cleveland Savings Society. He was a Republican in politics. Judge Hitchcock was married in 1834 to Miss Sarah Marshall, of Colebrook, Ct. Their family consisted of 4 children: Peter M., of Cleveland; Edward M., of Northfield; Lizzie M. Morley, of East Saginaw, Michigan; and Helen T. Morley, of Cleveland.

Death of L. B. Armstrong
Lucius D. Armstrong, died at his residence in this village Monday morning, the 10th instant, of consumption, age 40 years, after a week’s confinement to the house. He was born in Lysander, Fulton Co., N.Y., and came when a young man with his father’s family to Ohio, residing here for some years and then going west. When the Civil War broke out, the father and three sons joined the Union forces—Lucius serving in the State Militia of Missouri for 12 months, and then in Dec., 1863, entered Co. H. 45th Iowa Cavalry and was honorably discharged in August, 1865. The family (with the exception of the older brother, Wallace) returned to Willoughby, where with a brief exception, the deceased has always resided. By vocation he was a carpenter and joiner. From exposure while in the army, he contracted the disease from which he died—never afterwards being a sound man. At the recent fire in the village, he labored hard and long, taxing his physical energies to the utmost. He took a severe cold and from that time gradually failed. The Rev. Mr. Beazell conducted the funeral service at the house Wednesday. The Grand Army preceded the casket to the cemetery and the body was laid in the vault. Mr. Armstrong leaves a wife and seven children—the oldest boy 12 or 13 years.

Death of a Pioneer
Death has again invaded our village and removed one of its ancient landmarks, Daniel Cornwall, who died last Friday morning after a brief confinement to the house. He was born in Middletown, Conn., Sept. 27, 1793, and consequently was in his 87th year. Very early in life, he was apprenticed to a shoemaker in his native town, so that his opportunities for education were limited as were, also, his days of recreation; and later in life would frequently recount the toils and hardships of his earlier years, as he was thrown upon his resources. In 1821, in company with a man named Hall, he came to Ohio where he had a brother residing and with him carried on the tanning business at a point on the Chagrin River in this village. He, afterwards, established a nursery on the premises formerly owned by A. P. Barber, adjoining the Powell House. He had a love of horticulture and introduced all the leading varieties of apple and cherry to the area. He was, also, celebrated as a florist. Finally, he returned to his early vocation as a shoemaker—and for many years found employment with Mr. T. Collister. Several years ago his eyesight partially failed and he gave up the bench, since which time he has lived quite leisurely. In reminiscing he told of the old log fence that threaded the road now occupied by the stores, and guarded plots of ground now ornamented by tasty residences. For 26 years he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Burbank. Mr. Cornwell was never married, and out of a family of six brothers and one sister, but one brother survives. Rev. B. F. Beazell, of the Methodist Church, officiated at the funeral.
Dec. 21, 1883

The Ashtabula Sentinel announces the death of Rev. Thos. Guy, on Tuesday, at age 71 years. Mr. Guy was of Irish extraction and entered the ministry at age 19 in the southern part of Ireland. He came here in 1843. He leaves a wife, four sons, and four daughters.

Weather: The sleighing is still very good.

The funeral services of Mrs. Gardner, mother of Mrs. John Encell, took place at their residence on the afternoon of the 17th instant. She had been a patient sufferer for some time having lost the use of speech. She communicated by the use of a slate. Just a short time before dying she signaled for the slate and wrote—“Lord, Jesus, receive my spirit.”

Kirtland

A gathering was held at the house of Mr. S. M. Whiting on Saturday evening. The house was just lately finished and is by far the finest one in town. The entire house is lit with gas. The main part of the house is warmed by marble grates. The entire party: Mrs. Chas. Whiting (aged mother of the host); Baxter Whiting and wife (older brother of the host, visiting from Iowa); the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Whiting; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McWethy; Mr. and Mrs. Perry McWethy; Mr. and Mrs. Lyon; Mr. and Mrs. H. Randall; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Squires; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Harmon; Mr. and Mrs. Greer Page; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Yaxley, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Magoon and family.
