IN MEMORIAM

They are not gone who pass beyond the clasp of hands, out of the strong embrace. They are but come so close we need not grasp with hands, nor look to see, nor try to catch the sound of feet. They have put off their shoes softly to walk by day within our thoughts to read, At night our dreams led paths to sleep.

They are not lost who finds the light of the sun and stars of God. They are not dead who live in hearts they leave behind, in those whom they have blessed, they live a life again, and shall live through the years eternal life, and grow each day more beautiful as time declares their good, forgets the rest, and proves their immortality.
