TIME: 2:00 P. M.

REV. A. KEITH, Pastor, Officiating

O B I T U A R Y

He has not served who gathers gold,
Nor has he served whose life is told
In selfish battles he has won
Or deed of skill that he has done,
But he has served who now and then
Has helped along his fellow men.

We wish we could put into words the very real sense of loss which we experience personally in the home-going of Brother Dorsey Smith as well as the deep sympathy which we feel for each one of you in the loss of your devout and devoted Christian husband, father and home-maker. Because we have seen the power of his Christian testimony in our church and all its organizations, we can easily imagine what bulwark of Christian strength he must have been to you in the family.

In times of indecision or uncertainty you must have looked to him for guidance and spiritual power, and now his very absence leads you to look above for guidance directly from your Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well. When without warning, a dear one is called to his heavenly Home, we feel at first so alone and friendless, but how clearly God will make you aware of His goodness in the days and years to come. How relieved you will be soon to know that there is no pain or sorrow that come that will ever touch him again! While grief is fresh and the sense of loss so keen, it is not always easy, however, to learn, "Lean not to thine own understanding," but our gracious Lord and Saviour will make the lesson clear to you if you look up to him on faith.

One of the many reasons your beloved husband and father and our beloved brother in Christ will be sorely missed is his power to encourage others in the work of the Lord. Often when his coworkers would be disheartened by lack of interest, or passing failure, he would remind them that God never demanded success only faithfulness to His cause.

Yes, we shall miss him, none so dearly as you dear ones there in the home, but to each of his friends he was the Christ-like example and the confidence inspiring, always encouraging counsellor and minister to our needs. May God comfort and sustain you in this great loss and make you know Him as the "God of all comfort."

He leaves a devoted wife, Mrs. K. B. Smith, a loving daughter, Barbra Smith, and a host of relatives and friends.
