In Memoriam
THEY SOFTLY WALK

They are not gone who pass beyond the clasp of hand, out of the strong embrace. They are but come so close we need not grope with hands, nor look to see, nor try to catch the sound of feet. They have put off their shoes softly to walk by the day within our thoughts to tread at night our dream led paths of sleep.

They are not lost who finds the light of sun and stars and God. They are not dead who live in hearts they leave behind, in those whom they have blessed they live a life again, and shall live through the years, eternal life, and grow each day more beautiful as time declares their good, forgets the rest, and proves their immortality.
