Christine Camacho Franco

was received by her Lord, Jesus Christ on September 18, 2007 surrounded by her loving family. Christina was an inspiration of strength and faith to her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren during her lifetime. She lived through the Great Depression, was widowed during WWII and worked as a single mother. She attended the Tucson College of Commerce and worked as a bookkeeper and Administrative Assistant. Christina married Manuel G. Franco in 1951 and for fifty years they remained together until his death in 2001. She had a second rewarding career as an OR Technician in Labor and Delivery at Tucson Medical Center where she worked for 35 years. Throughout her life, Christina emphasized to her children the importance of family loyalty and education, constantly encouraging them to become life long learners. Everyone could see she loved life to its fullest because she was never without a smile, a laugh, a song, or a good cup of coffee. She is survived by her three daughters, Gloria Nansel (Joe Pete), Lupita Redmond, and Delia Franco (George Ross), eleven grandchildren, seventeen great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren. Her mother, two sisters, two husbands, and her son preceded her to be with God.

Dear Beloved God
Be Our Strength At This Time,
That We Might Yet See The Truth
Of the World As You Created It.
That There is No Death,
That Christina Still Lives,
And in You We Still Live With Her.
Thank You Very Much. Amen.
