INTRODUCTION

In October, 1967, during a trip to Maine seeking information about descendants of Rev. Eleazer Carver, who settled in Leeds about 1800, we found that the State Library did not have any cemetery records for the Town of Leeds. Since experience had shown that one misses a lot of important information about a family one is studying if only those gravestones known to be of interest at the time of recording are copied, we decided to copy all the stones in as many of the cemeteries in the Town of Leeds as possible. This report is the result of our work.

Unfortunately, time did not allow completion of the record for all the cemeteries in the Town. We hope that within two or three years we can again visit Leeds and complete this work or that someone living nearby will do it and share their record with us. (If someone wishes to copy the inscriptions on the gravestones, but does not feel able to compile a record such as this one, we will be glad to do the compilation, typing and distribution of their work, giving them due credit for their work.)

We realize that some errors of copying and transcription of the gravestone inscriptions may have occurred and hope that those who may discover them will notify us after checking the actual gravestones to be sure that we have erred. Some information here may not agree with family and public records, even though it was copied correctly. While most gravestone inscriptions are correct, some in most cemeteries contain errors due to stone cutter's mistakes or errors in the instructions for his work. We are also interested in knowing of such discrepancies.

We are furnishing copies of this record to Mrs. Roy Turner, Town Clerk of Leeds, and to the following libraries, in the hope it will be helpful to others interested in the history of families who lived in or now live in the Town of Leeds.

Maine State Library, Augusta, Me.
 Maine State Historical Society, Portland, Me.
 Bangor Public Library, Bangor, Me.
 Seattle Public Library, Seattle, Wash.

While on our trip, we also copied the gravestone inscriptions in the oldest section of the large cemetery in the Town of Milo, Me. (there is only one other small cemetery in this town). Many residents of Leeds moved to Milo, and those interested in such families will find a copy of our 57-page record of Evergreen Cemetery, Milo, Me. at the same libraries.

In conclusion, we wish to express our gratitude to the various people in Leeds who were so helpful to us in our few days there, especially to Mrs. Roy Turner, Town Clerk, and to Mr. Leon Safford, Sexton of Cemeteries. And we wish to congratulate the Town of Leeds for its program of maintaining in fine condition all of its cemeteries despite the fact that most have no provision for perpetual care and some are no longer in use.

Mr. & Mrs. Fred. E. Carver

ORGANIZATION OF THE RECORD

Each cemetery has been assigned a number, which has been entered on the map on the following page and used in the heading for the record for each cemetery. Further directions for reaching each cemetery are included in each record.

For each cemetery, the record is alphabetical by surname. An over-all index shows where gravestone inscriptions for each surname may be found.

No attempt was made to arrange the records alphabetically by first name, because this would destroy the information about family relationships that appear due to groupings in family plots. In general, names are listed plot by plot, though we could not definitely mark the limits of all family plots. Each repetition of a family surname at the left of a page indicates a separate gravestone except where noted in plots having central monuments. In such plots, the headstones were checked against the inscriptions on the monument and only mentioned if they contribute information not on the monument.

Married women are usually listed under their husband's surname, their maiden surnames being cross-indexed when known. However, when a married woman's name appeared on a monument erected by her family, she is listed with her family and the citation is cross-indexed to her husband. We hope that this system of organizing our report, which we adapted from some most usable D. A. R. records we saw in Sonoma County, Calif. will be pleasing to users of these records.

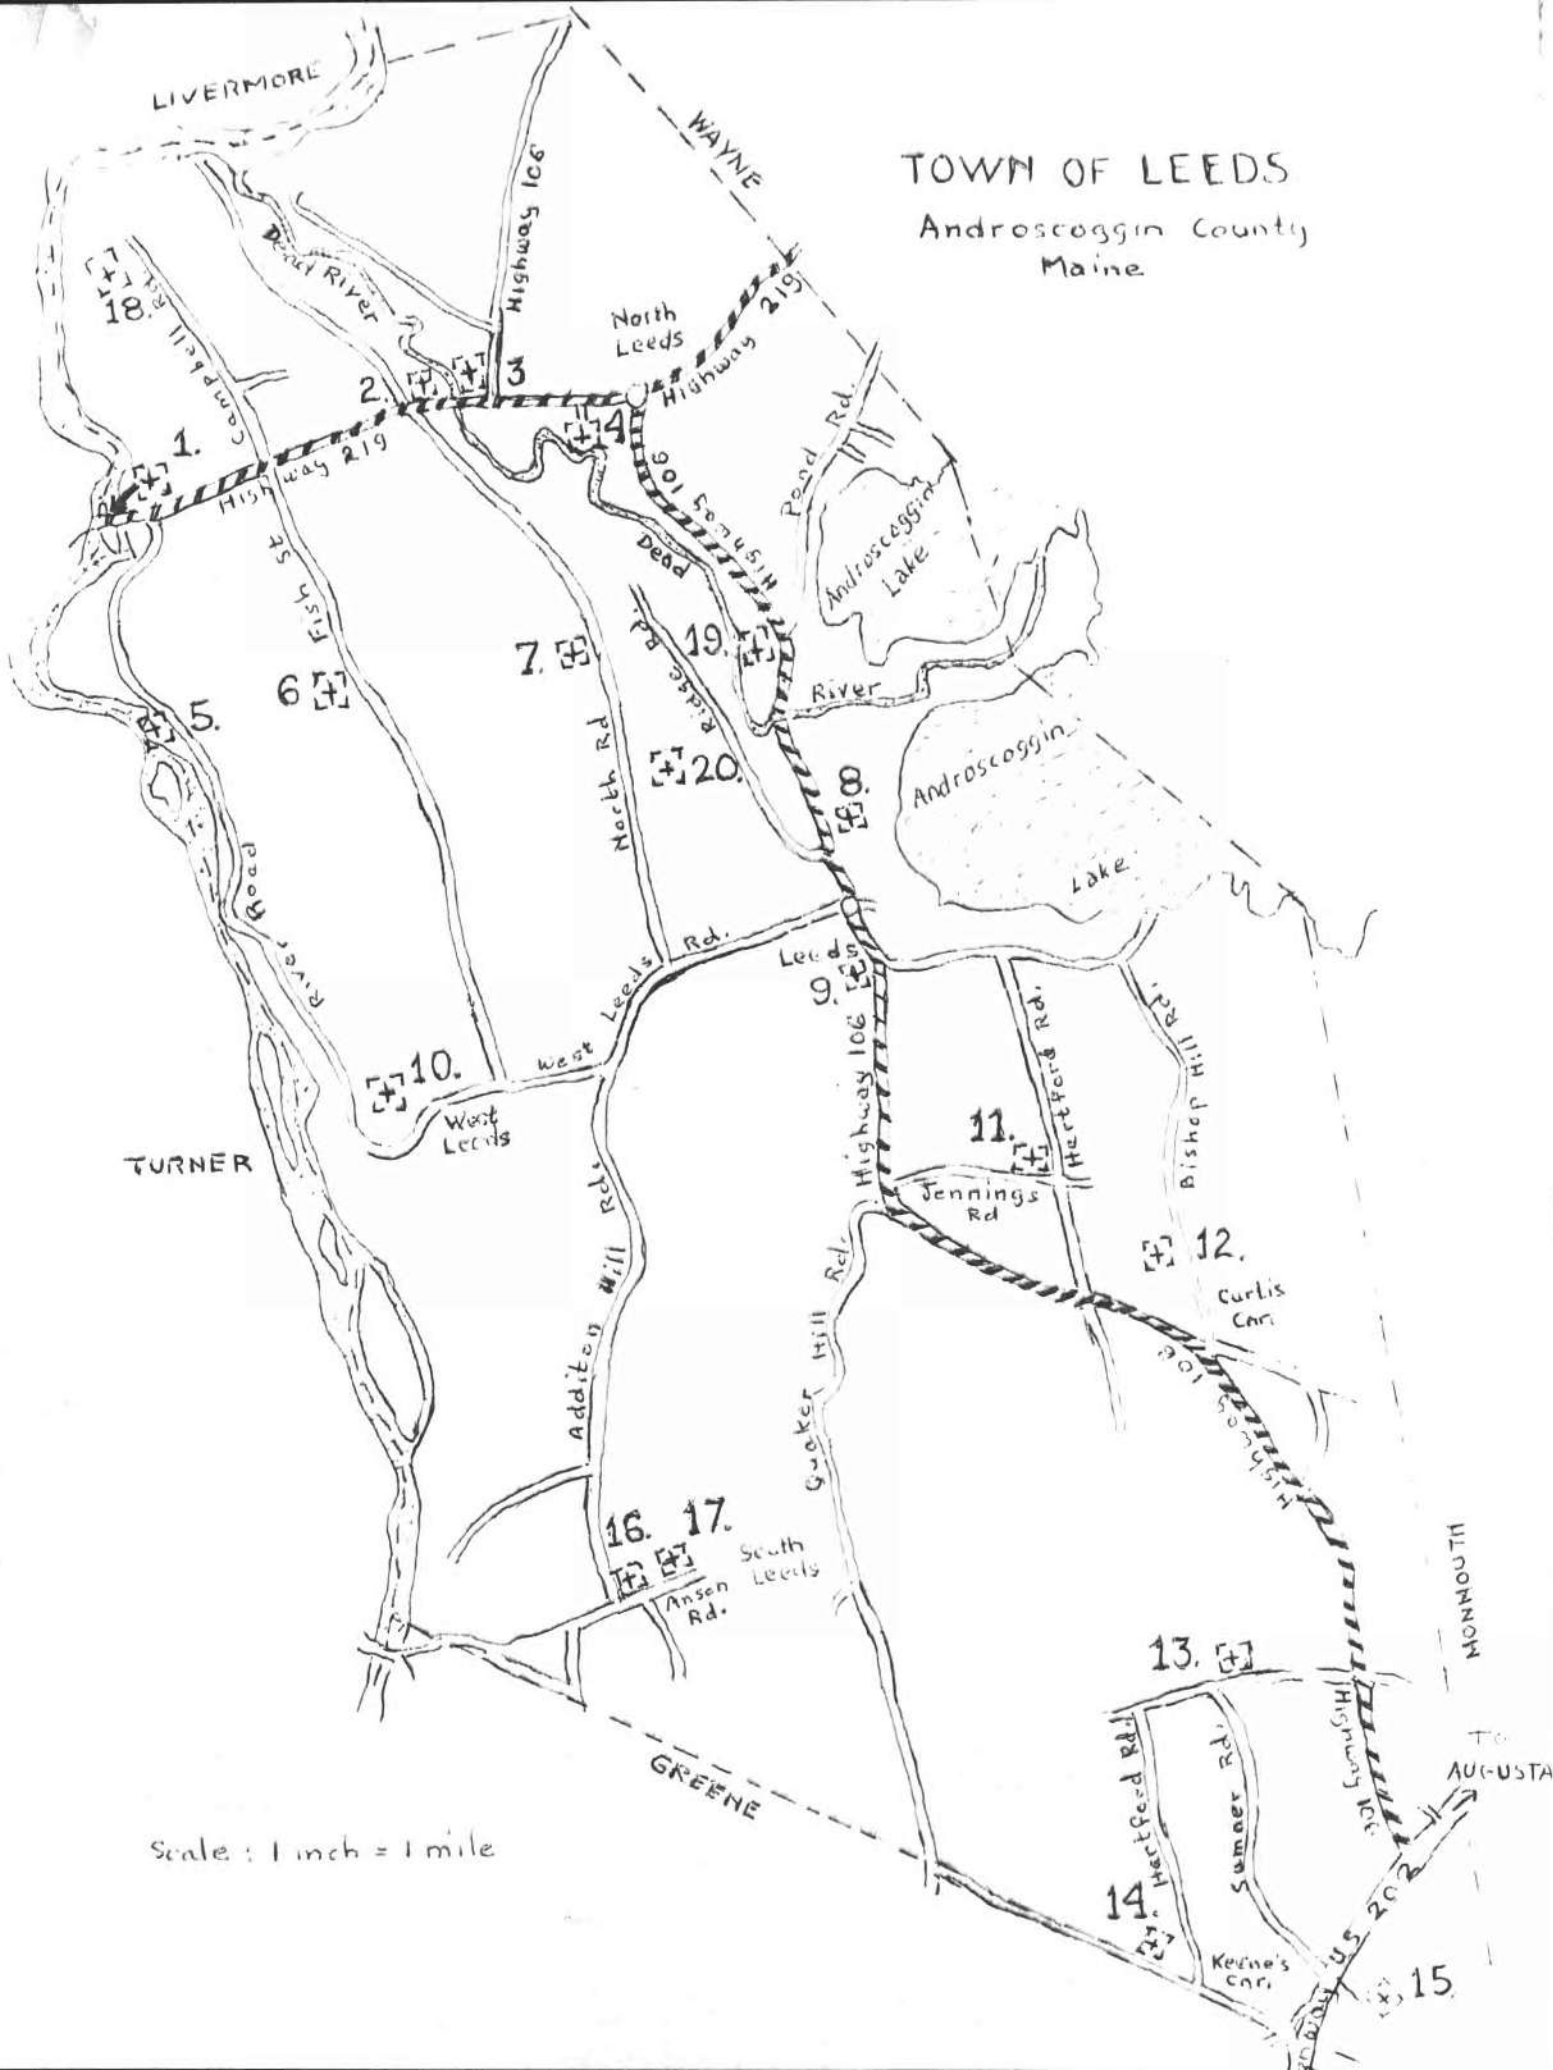

In some cases, due to weathering of the stones or to presence of lichen, questions arose as to the accuracy of our reading of an inscription. When this occurred, we have put (?) immediately after the word or number, e. g.: Mar. 16(?), 1830 means that only the "16" is questioned. If the year has also been questioned, we would have written it: Mar. 16(?), 1830(?).

Variant spellings of some family surnames were noted, the same name sometimes being spelled variously in the same family plot. We have tried to copy these names as they were on each gravestone and to call attention to the variants in the index and elsewhere, so that those working on these families won't overlook any entries in this record. The most marked variant known is the change to Stanchfield made by one branch of the Stinchfield family.

It will be noted that many of the gravestones for Revolutionary War, War of 1812 and Civil War veterans bear the comment "no date." That they are marked at all is due to the work, done in the later years of his life, by Albert Bryant, of Leeds, who searched out the record and place of burial of all such veterans whose graves were unmarked or whose gravestones had become illegible and arranged for erection of standard military markers. We suggest that anyone having data on the missing dates of birth and death for these veterans communicate them to Mrs. Roy Turner, Town Clerk of Leeds, and to us for addition to our records, which will benefit those interested in membership in patriotic societies or family history.

4. DEAD RIVER or KNAPP CEMETERY

Some also give the name Robert Gould for this cemetery. It lies on a small hill, approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. up a lane through a pasture which runs South from State Highway 219 about $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. West of the center of North Leeds. It contains a few grave stones which are completely illegible and a few apparently unmarked graves. Some of the other grave stones are badly worn.

- WING: Junius, See: HOWARD (WING) Monument

This cemetery lies at the Northwest corner of the intersection of Hartford and Jennings Roads. Most of the gravestones are legible. The stones for one family present a problem, for within the same family lot the name Pettingill or Pettengill is often spelled in different ways. In listing members of this family, they are grouped by family lots under the predominant spelling and variants are underlined>.

16. ADDITON CEMETERY--PARTIAL RECORD

This very old cemetery is on the North side of Anson Road, approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ mi. East of the intersection with Additon Road. The area is heavily wooded and moisture has taken greater tol of the gravestones in this cemetery than in any of the others of any size recorded here. The Anson Road is very sandy, and care should be used in traversing it.

Unfortunately time did not allow a complete recording of the legible stones in this cemetery.

17. QUAKER RIDGE CEMETERY--NOT RECORDED

This cemetery lies on the North side of Anson Rd., approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. East of the intersection of Anson and Additon Rds. Caution is advised in driving to this cemetery, since the hill down to it is very sandy and slippery. The bridge at the end of the road is condemned, so there is no other way out from the cemetery.

18. EVERETT CARVER CEMETERY--NOT RECORDED

This small cemetery lies on the West side of Campbell Rd., nearly 2 mi. North of the intersection of Campbell Rd. with State Highway 219.

19. STINGFIELD CEMETERY--NOT RECORDED

This cemetery lies between the Dead River and State Highway 106, about $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. North of a bridge across the Dead River and 1.5-2.0 mi. North of the village of Leeds.

20. CALDWELL PLACE CEMETERY-- NOT RECORDED

This cemetery lies between North Rd. and Ridge Road, approximately 1 mi. North of the intersection of North Rd. and West Leeds Rd.

INTRODUCTION

When we prepared our report on the cemeteries in the Town of Leeds, Maine, in 1967, we said that we hoped to return to Leeds to complete work on the two cemeteries which had been only partially done and to do the remaining four. In September, 1972 we returned to Leeds and transcribed all the inscriptions in the cemeteries that had not been finished in 1967 except for No. 20, the Caldwell Cemetery, shown on the map in our 1967 report. The Caldwell Cemetery was reported by Mrs. Turner, Town Clerk of Leeds, to be no longer in existence, the gravestones having disappeared and the field plowed for crops some years ago.

The results of our 1972 trip should have been reported long ago, but a series of illnesses occurred and the records were tucked away and forgotten until a request came for permission to microfilm our 1967 report. So, belatedly, the information obtained in 1967 is now presented. The listings follow the form of the 1967 report--see page 2 of that report. A separate index for this report is included. In the case of the Additon and Francis Cemeteries, a complete re-listing has been done for the convenience of the user.

Copies of this 1972 report are being forwarded to the Maine Old Cemeteries Association and to the Maine State Library.

CEMETERIES
LEEDS, MAINE
1967

7. FRANCIS CEMETERY - REVISED

A single obelisk, 1.7 mi. south of Highway 219 on the west side of North Road. The stone was set in a pasture and, in 1967, a barbwire fence and cattle prevented a check of the west side of the stone. By 1972, the barbwire had been moved so that all sides of the obelisk could be viewed.

 - Thomas I. 1857-1873

16. ADDITON CEMETERY - REVISED

This very old cemetery is on the north side of Anson Road, approximately 1/4 mi. east of its intersection with Additon Road. The area is heavily wooded and moisture has taken a great toll of the gravestones. The Anson Road is very sandy, and care should be taken in traversing it.

In 1967, we reported a partial recording of inscriptions in the cemetery. We revisited the cemetery in 1972 and recorded all legible inscriptions on the gravestones.

17. QUAKER RIDGE CEMETERY

This cemetery lies on the north side of Anson Rd., approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ mi. east of the intersection of Anson and Additon Rds. Caution is advised in driving to this cemetery since the hill down to it is very sandy and slippery. Since the bridge at the east end of the road is out and the hill so likely to be difficult it would be wise to leave word with someone before going to this cemetery.

In a wooded area, the stones in this cemetery were more badly weathered than in any other Leeds cemetery, probably less than half now being readable. Although the cemetery was associated with the Quakers, as shown by the form of date used on a few gravestones, it is believed many non-Quakers were buried here.

18. EVERETT CARVER CEMETERY

This small cemetery lies on a knoll northwest of the end of Campbell Rd., nearly 2 mi. north of the intersection of Campbell Rd. with State Highway 219. The cemetery is not visible from the road and guidance of the Town Sexton is advised if anyone wants to visit it. Only one gravestone survives in the cemetery. Though named for the owner of the farm on which it was established, members of the Everett Carver family were buried in the Dead River (Knapp) Cemetery.

- PHILLIPS: Abner Phillips, Maine, Pvt., Merrill's Co., Mitchell's Det., Rev. War., June 26, 1829

19. STINCHFIELD or OLD INDIAN CEMETERY

This cemetery lies on a knoll behind the bridge across the Dead River on State Highway 106 and about 2 mi. north of the village of Leeds. According to Edwin Longley, Jr., owner of the Riverbend Campground at the foot of the knoll, only two burials were made in the cemetery--that of Paul Marshfield and of an Indian boyhood friend of his, a rough rock, without inscription, marking the Indian's grave.

- MARSHFIELD: Paul Marshfield, Pvt., Wentworth's Co., Gerrish's Regt., Rev. War., (no dates)
