

1963

The girls in the school made corsages for the teachers, the superintendents, honored guests, and the mothers of the district.

The girls made boutonnières for the men who were honored guests.