Their marriage was not recorded in Tattnall County and since several of the surrounding counties have lost their early marriage records, no exact date of marriage is known. Assilla was born in Georgia in 1810. Their children:

1. Henry Harrison Keen, born November 30, 1830; died January 5, 1878; married Mary Jane Gill, daughter of Dennis and Mary Jane Gill.
2. Elizabeth Keen, born January 13, 1832; died March 31, 1912; married Elias E. Johnson on November 3, 1846 in Columbia County, Florida.
3. James M. Keen, born 1833, died September 1873; married Elizabeth _____
